NOT alone is the Diamond beautiful because of the purity of the rays that it sheds. The fact that its lustre will endure down through time, lends it value and beauty, too. Some gaudy tinsel may be made for a moment to outshine purest gold, but the precious metal never loses its durability. We pride ourselves on our gifts of substantial quality, gifts the workmanship and nature of which will render them heirlooms.

And in passing we would call attention to the fact that gold watches and rings, is now at a low mark. The only increase from the increase in the labor expended in the making, and was never cheaper than at the present moment. Jewelry of gold noted in the price of jewelry manufactured from gold has come that is lower than a year ago.

GROW ASKS FOR ORCHARD INFORMATION

Editor Glacier—I would like space in your paper to write an open letter to the Hood River Branch Experiment Station. Please answer through these columns.
What, in your opinion, is the cause of the present prevalence of both core rot and water core on the same areas, or in fact anywhere? Core rot is frequently ascribed to drying out of the soil during the growing season, and water core to a surplus of water. This brings me to the reason for making this an open letter, instead of a private question.
When a reason like the above is heard as the cause of any certain condition, it would be both costly and annoying for each one of us to personally inquire at the station as to its correctness. Besides, another reason is that any information I may secure from you belongs just as much to my neighbor as to me, as we all pay for it. Once, or perhaps twice, during the year we have an open meeting where questions may be asked, but by that time many are forgotten. If the Coyote Club, or some other, has a banquet and our experts are there, much valuable information may be given out, but if we are not coyotes, the chances are that we may never hear of it.
To illustrate how things may go: Last summer, when I was after a load of pear boxes, I overheard two orchardists talking. One told the other that he had secured $1 per box more for his d'anjous by putting them in half boxes. Upon inquiring, I learned that the half boxes had been used for several seasons. That was the first I had heard about them. Now, the Association did not plot to conceal this from me, but I just didn't happen to hear about it, and nobody happened to tell me. I presume that this will be news to some growers, even now. How much valuable information we all may miss, in this way. We have no means of knowing. If I have made my case clear, may I ask all growers who have questions to ask, to do so publicly, that we may all get the benefit, and it will also save the time of our public servants. I also ask you to believe that this is done with the best of intentions, and not in any way to embarrass anyone.
The station frequently publishes information, but the questions that interest us at that time may be omitted. And as you have been so patient, please tell us why worthy apples and "stung" apples are so much in evidence. Is it our own negligence, some chemical reaction from the sprayer, interest of the spray call, or all the fault of the weather man? Who told me of all these troubles? Let's call it a man from across the Columbia.
A. J. Grow.

Elks Honor Dead Brothers
Elks the nation over on Sunday paid tribute to their deceased brethren. At The Dalles Lodge of Sorrows, attended by a number of local members of the E. P. O. E., one of the honored dead was F. H. Bittson, who passed away last year.
Rev. W. H. Boddy visited Tacoma Sunday, when he delivered the eulogistic address at the Lodge of Sorrows of the Elks Lodge there. Rev. E. W. Warrington, of Corvallis, filled the pulpit at Riverside.

THREE SEEK CITY WATER OFFICE JOB

Three applications have been filed with City Recorder Howe for the superintendency of the municipal water system, the office of which has just been resigned by W. T. Price. Those who seek the place of Mr. Price, who has held the office for the past six years, are: Thomas Lacey and Jos. Frazier, Jr., of this city, and J. F. Johnson, of Junction City.
Mr. Price will leave the employ of the city early in January. Mr. Lacey for several years has been in the employ of the State Highway department. During the past summer he has superintended crews engaged in widening the Columbia River Highway from the Multnomah county line to this city. Mr. Frazier was formerly city marshal. Under recommendations of the budget committee the city water superintendent the coming year will also have general charge of all street work and perform the task of electrical inspector. The city plans to effect a considerable saving by combining the positions.

WASHINGTON PIONEER BURIED HERE TUESDAY

Funeral services for Perry Commodore Wantland, aged 71 and native of Indiana, who died here Sunday, were held Tuesday at the Anderson chapel, Rev. J. C. Hanna officiating. Interment followed at Idlewild cemetery. Mr. Wantland, who came here about two months ago, resided for 35 years in Clarke county, Washington.
In addition to his widow he is survived by the following large family of children: Mrs. A. B. Cash, Mrs. Violet Hoskin, Alvin, Richard and Fred Wantland, of Hood River; Mrs. E. F. Stevenson, of Cape Horn; Mrs. Clara Meyers and Miss Gladys Wantland, of Portland; Miss Esther Wantland, of Myrtle Point, and Mrs. Dave Wicks, of Grants Pass, and Mrs. Georgia Green, of Liberty Bond, Wash.
Two daughters by a first marriage survive. They are: Mrs. Albert Hart, of Myrtle Point, and Mrs. J. Culver, of Bridge.

W. O. W. Members Plan Big Time

A delegation of 50 members of the local camp of Woodmen of the World plan on attending the big homecoming meeting at the Portland auditorium December 16, according to C. T. Foster, channeler commander.
"We will make the journey down to the Rose City by automobile," says Mr. Foster, "provided the weather permits. Otherwise we will have a special car on the O. W. R. R. The meeting will be a big one. One thousand candidates will be initiated. Sixty camps of the Northwest will participate. It will, indeed, be a red letter day for Woodmen."
L. G. Morgan, chairman of the transportation committee of the local camp, has called for all members who plan attending the Portland convalescence to meet at 1 p. m. December 16 at Woodman hall.
