SPIRIT OF CHARITY IS NEEDED HERE

The campaign for the $3,000 quota for the American Red Cross in this county is lagging. Mrs. A. S. Keir, chairman of committees engaged in raising the city allotment of $1,500 reported yesterday that only an approximate $750 had been subscribed. There will be a necessity, it was declared, to revisit some of the business concerns, which have made only nominal contributions and seek heavier donations.

Members of canvassing committees report that the real spirit of charity was met with in homes where people were less able to give. One committee visited a humble home, where a tiny boy, hearing the appeal for the great charitable organization, slipped away to his savings bank and brought forth his only dime. In another humble home a small girl gave a 25-cent piece that she was saving for Christmas shopping.

Rev. Boddy, between acts at the Rialto Tuesday night, made a short address, urging citizens to make their contributions large enough to meet the needs of the Red Cross.

HANBY SUES FOR $17,724.15 DAMAGES

George Hanby has brought suit against the Odell school board for damages aggregating $17,750.50 because of injuries alleged to have been received while he was digging a well in the basement of the grade school last summer. Mr. Hanby alleges that the windlasses used in lowering workmen to the bottom of the well was poorly constructed; that its handle broke, allowing him to drop with such force that he suffered fractures of both legs and that one ankle was broken in eight places.

Mr. Hanby claims that he has submitted to six operations and that his health is permanently impaired. The school board has demurred to the complaint as not constituting facts for a cause of action and Judge Wilson has been asked to rule on the motion.

Revival Meetings at the Baptist Church

If you want to hear a man who preaches a God who is just as well as loving, who is holy as well as merciful. Come and hear Bentley. Evangelist Bentley is perhaps more uncompromising than some might wish, and he has his own ideas of things; so have we, but he believes in the whole Gospel and preaches it without making apologies for any part of it.

He does not believe in a half way Christianity nor in any endeavor to serve God and man at the same time or even alternately. The fact that the church is well filled with attentive listeners proves at least that the people appreciate this kind of preaching. Come and hear Bentley. Services every evening at 7.30.

C. R. Delepine, Pastor.
