NOT alone is the Diamond beautiful because of the purity of the rays that it sheds. The fact that its lustre will endure down through time, lends it value and beauty, too. Some gaudy tinsel may be made for a moment to outshine purest gold, but the precious metal never loses its durability. We pride ourselves on our gifts of substantial quality, gifts the workmanship and nature of which will render them heirlooms.

And in passing we would call attention to the fact that gold watches and rings, is now at a low mark. The only increase from the increase in the labor expended in the making, and was never cheaper than at the present moment. Jewelry of gold, noted in the price of jewelry manufactured from gold has come that is lower than a year ago.

WATCHES

Nearly every man prizes a gift watch. We have the Waltham and Elgin and other makes—time pieces that the man in his prime today will pass on to his son.

Our watches are guaranteed and we stand back of them.

A Full Line of Wrist Watches

WHETHER it be a ring for the baby of plainest design, or with delicate setting, or a fine diamond, you will find it here. We set our diamonds in platinum. The other day we were told by a diamond merchant that at least 85 per cent of the jewelers of the country were unable to handle such work. We set our stones in platinum right here in Hood River.

Failure to Report Draws Fine

It cost Glen Cunningham, West Side young man, whose automobile collided with Kenneth Folek, 10-year old coast-er, the sum of $50 for failing to report the accident to the sheriff's office.
Young Cunningham appeared before Justice of the Peace Onthank Monday, when the latter assessed the fine.

"I found that the young man did all he could to make young Folek, who sustained a broken leg, comfortable after the accident," said Judge On-thank. "He failed to make the report for the reason that he did not know it was a legal formality imposed by law.
He was let off with a minimum fine."

NORTHWEST PLAY-GROUNDS POPULAR

That the Pacific Northwest is increasingly popular as a national playground is shown in figures just given out by the Portland office of the U. S.
Forest Service. The estimate, which is based on reports from the forest rangers, gives a total of 1,029,972 people who sought recreation within the boundaries of the national forests of Oregon and Washington during 1922.
Of this number, 457,705 visited the national forests of Oregon and 572,266 those of Washington.

The figures include automobile travelers, pedestrians, and others. Of these 734,494 came by automobile; 80, 203 were hunters and fishermen; 73,300 lingered to enjoy the privileges of the forest camps, and 5,854 had permits for summer homes. With this heavy recreational use of the national forests, which is encouraged by the Forest Service as having a distinct value in the life of the nation, comes an increased hazard for man-caused fires, according to forestry officials. They point to the fact that 58 per cent of the fires on the Oregon National Forests and 76 per cent of the Washington National Forests during 1922 were man-caused; of these 21 per cent in Oregon and 31 per cent in Washington were caused by campers and smokers.
The federal foresters further point out that the continued success of the tourist industry in the Northwest is vitally dependent upon the prevention of forest fires, for, they assert, the tourist cannot be expected to come again and bring his friends, if he is offered nothing better than blackened hillsides and smoke-hidden mountains.

Man Pays Three Fines

After City Recorder Howe had in-fined W. M. Floyd $5 on a charge of possession of a loaded revolver, he was taken before Justice of the Peace Onthank who assessed a fine of $25 for possession of moonshine.

Floyd recently came here from Astoria.
His arrest came when he tried to turn the front porch of H. Gross into sleeping quarters for the evening.

PROPOSES XMAS TREE

District Attorney Baker, collaborating with the Public Welfare Commission, an organization which administers the charity of the city and valley, is arranging for a monster Christmas tree for the children of Hood River.
C. A. Bell, of the Welfare Commission, has offered the use of the lower floor of the Mount Hood Hotel for the tree.

Definite plans for the proposed community tree will have been worked out by the time of next week's Glacier.

Rev. Lister Called

A committee of members of the Valley Christian church last week called on Rev. J. B. Lister and tendered him a call to the pastorate. He accepted the call provided that no definite tenure be established. Rev. Lister was formerly pastor of the church. For the past several years he has been engaged here in real estate business and as a nurseryman.

7%

Stores, banks and offices are open for your convenience only between certain hours. But day or night, year after year, this Company stands at your call to serve with light, heat and power.

To be "Always at Your Service" means that your light and power company must have plants of sufficient size, modern machinery and first-class equipment.

The funds with which to provide these things cannot be collected as a part of the cost of service, but must be procured through the sale of securities.

Because of this, you have an opportunity to become financially interested in this essential local industry. Back of your investment stand substantial plants and property.
