To your mothers, kind and true,
To your loyal, willing leaders
And the good you plan to do.
May your lives be bright and cheery, Glowing in the light of love, Consecrating every duty
To the Father up above.
May the bright and glad tomorrow Find you standing side by side, Having many social pleasures

That the girls of Blue Triangle Are the ones from sea to sea Who, with help of loving mothers, Make life what it ought to be.

left for Portland Monday, where Mrs.
Templemeier will undergo an operation.
Oak Grove Canteen Grocery Club
E. W. Birge, president of the Apple Growers Association, arranged to have three of the members of our club visit the board of directors' meeting Monday and as there are many ap-posts to assist strangers in finding the directors' sanctum, we were a little late. However, we found all the members on duty except Jim Norman and we learned from the chairman that Jim was out looking for something to direct, and as he found nothing, just to show up the board works a resolution was offered to pool all the officials' and employees' salaries, advancing 25 cents for the wives and children. When the pool is voted and statement made after strawberry season a final distribution to be made if any approximation has been provided. The vote was 10 ayes and Mr. Birge, having cut all his trees out, needed the money and was nearly ready to resign. A resolution was made to formulate by-laws for our club so we asked Mr.
Stone to tell us about the Apple Growers Association by-laws and he said they really don't mean what they say being so full of jokers. They had them printed in little nice pamphlets form but the stockholders' by-laws were all right but they were not for the growers. We were invited to have supper with the directors but as one of the three had how to milk and the pheasants to feed we could not remain. Mr. Stone passed the pipes, and after being invited to come again, we bowed ourselves out.
The club members when in town Monday called at the First National bank, saw the sights and looked at the money and had a pleasant time with Messrs. Blanchard and Moore.
After explaining how easy it is to borrow money at their bank the members said they desired to pay their dues in the Corner Grocery Club. Mr.
Blanchard produced a box of Robert Burns. Of course we helped ourselves to only one as we did not want Mr.
Blanchard to know we were in the habit of getting two White Oyas.
Mr. Moore said he would send some four-foot wood, but no. We want it sawed 10 inches long as the man that does the work has left the village.
The carnival at the school house last Wednesday was a live wire, with some fun, acts and dancing. The Balley and Whiskered Lady were made honorary members of the Corner Grocery Club. Every day in every way there is something doing out here.
Mayor Robert Perigo has some ones at that. We have several snow plows at your disposal.

The third speaker was one of our victorious debaters, Miss Thelma Johnson, whose topic was, "A Daughter's Responsibility." The next speaker was Miss Elder, who so generously gave the use of the hotel to the Y. W. C. A. for the afternoon and evening. Her talk was very interesting, the subject, "A Girl Citizen in Her Home, Her School and Her Community." The last toast was given by Miss Sherrill, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of The Dalles. Her subject, "Girls As I See Them." Miss Sherrill is much loved by all the girls and her talk was very pleasing. Then Miss Daymen, secretary of seven states on the Pacific Coast, gave a long, interesting talk about the Y. W. C.
A. of the world around. We were very fortunate to hear this wonderful speaker. The program was concluded at about 10:30 p. m. and was enjoyed by about 60 people. The bread for the banquet was furnished by E. Campbell, of the Hood River bakery, and the butter for the same affair by W. M. Black, of the Hood River Creamery.
