THE LEGISLATURE

The 1923 legislature has ended, and the lawmakers are back again at their desks...

We are prone to agree with the Salem Statesman that the legislators, in intelligence, perseverance, efficiency in their efforts to work for state welfare and in honesty, were above the average of legislative assemblies.

Our congressional bodies of late have been getting too much in the fix the Oregon legislature was at the recent session.

CLEAN UP

Have you done your part toward aiding in Clean-Up Week? If not, get busy. Let the work of this week set a record for such activities.

BWARE THE FIRE TRUCK

Citizens with their automobiles cause the fire department serious worry. Instead of heading the alarm and clearing the streets, it appears that many motorists continue to pursue their way irrespective of the right of way of the motor driven fire truck.

Dr. Hudson Maxim, noted scientist, has advised southern cotton planters that they may kill off the boll weevil by using the methods of trappers in luring beavers and other animals to their death.

Scoutmaster Brockway knows boys. When he said last week at the annual dinner of Riverside church that the father who makes a pal of his son is smoothing the way of his son into useful manhood, he was indeed correct.

Have you tried Hood River's bakery products? Kroff's Malted Milk Bread and the Electric Bakery's Real Milk Bread have no superior anywhere.

According to the records of the Portland Union Stockyards, an approximate $9,000,000 was spent for hogs shipped from Dakotas and Nebraska to Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane.

Let Hood River citizens help out with Apple Week. Are you doing your share here in consuming the valley's surplus product?

The Portland folk ought to be celebrating apple week every seven days of each week that is passing.

BREAD TRUCK TAX WILL BE OPPOSED

A. J. Mason, here yesterday, announced that rural residents are opposed over plans of the city council to adopt an ordinance setting a $200 annual tax on each motor truck carrying bakery products here.

KING GRAVENSTEIN POOLS ARE CLOSED

The Apple Growers Association's first cash distribution on the 1922 tonnage went forward to growers Monday, checks aggregating about $160,000.

D'ANJOU PEAR POOL IS CLOSED

The Apple Growers Association has announced the close of the pool on D'Anjou pears for 1922, the tonnage reaching 75,000 boxes.

IMPROVEMENT FOR STORAGE UNDER WAY

Crews of Baldwin & Swope Monday began wrecking the interior of the storage plant recently purchased by the Apple Growers Association from the Derivative Fruit Co.

O. A. C. BAND WILL COME HERE SOON

The Oregon Agricultural College Band, which will start an eastern Oregon tour, will visit Hood River for the first time.

Underwood Plant is Expanding

The Underwood, Wash. Fruit & Warehouse Co., of which H. W. Hamilton is manager, is making preparations for construction of an annex to the shipping plant constructed by the concern last year.

Sluts to Demonstrate Z-Type

The sunny weather of the past several days has centered activity of orchardists in spraying operations and spring work.

Make Hay While the Sun Shines

It is up to apple growers to put this good weather to use. Haul out your boxes and be prepared for the coming season's work.

Attention, Ladies!

For one day only, Friday, March 2, I will have on display a wonderful showing of Dresses, Coats, Wraps and Caps that will please you in style, quality and price.

PHOENIX CAMP NOTES

Members of the camp of the Phoenix Utility Co. made a round subscription for the favor of any one common to the Hood River and Coquille chapters.
