Actually—

It requires equally as much thought and ability to build a 5-room home as to erect a 20-room mansion. It is a fact moreover, that the small home or bungalow belongs to a distinct class of architecture that is far better suited for the average American Family than a larger structure.

This company will gladly offer ideas and suggestions to help you narrow your choice to what is essentially the most desirable design for you in particular.

BREAD TRUCK LAW TABLED

COUNCIL PROPOSES NEW ORDINANCE

New Law Provides for License for All Motor Vehicles of All Wholesaler Carriers Visiting City

An ordinance providing for the assessment of a license fee of $450 annually against all motor trucks of whatever kind, operating in the city and regularly delivering their product here, which was adopted at a first meeting of the council two weeks ago, was tabled Monday night. The judiciary committee, however, has proposed the substitution of an ordinance that will assess a graduated fee, depending on the daily, weekly or monthly visits of the wholesalers, on the vehicles of all wholesalers delivering their products here.

Recorder Howe, who wrote at the instance of the judiciary committee, reported that the Salen council had not enforced the ordinance which provided for a $450 license fee for motor trucks on bread trucks entering Salen outside of Marion county. The city attorney of Salen, it was stated, had discovered that the law could not be enforced. The original local ordinance was patterned on the Salen law.

Mr. Howe reported that Oregon City has a license fee of $150 per year, but an ordinance that has been applied and has stood the test of the courts.

C. O. Huelst, chairman of the judiciary committee, stated that it was the purpose of the council not to make preliminary charges but to charge enough to place the out of town wholesalers who are making delivery of their product here on an equal basis with local concerns. Vehicles of patients traveling through the city are excluded from the proposed new ordinance.

A delegation of Grange members from various points of the valley visited the council Monday night to protest against an ordinance that would charge visiting trucks. A. I. Mason, their spokesman, urged a tariff for revenue instead of one for protection.

John Kibbing, chairman of the council, saying that a city market be established.

Street Commissioner Clark reported that the curb and gutter of Ninth Street between Duane and State had broken so badly that it was necessary to water was undermining the base of the street. The matter was referred to the street committee with power to act.

J. F. Hutchinson petitioned the council for a permit to lay a private water main from Columbia street to a residential lot on Duane street. The council granted the permit on the condition that the applicant should lay a water main to the street.

The Hood River Apple Vinegar Co. petitioned for a service that will give them an increased supply of water. In order to conform with the present law, the city will have to install a new two-inch main from the corner of Sixth and Columbia streets to the vinegar plant.

P. F. Sawyer asked the council to make a change on a water meter main in affecting new connections. It has been the custom, he stated, to charge $10 for new connections and its figuring on a contract for the new connection building recently in use in this price. A charge of $40 was made for three connections in supplying a two-inch service pipe. The matter was referred to Water Superintendent Clark, who will take it up with his predecessor, W. T. Price.

A demand of the city that the county increase its rental for cell space from $15 to $25 per month at the city jail may result in the county acquiring the basement of its garage, located on the court house grounds, into a county prison. The county has notified the city of its failure to meet the demand.

Miss Goyette was taken ill about a week before her death with an affection of the basal ganglia and had gone to Portland, where a surgical operation was performed. It developed subsequently that she had an abscess of the brain, and an operation was performed for relief of this trouble. Her death followed.

Miss Goyette was 28 years old and a native of Wisconsin. Previous to her work at Park Street school, she was principal for five years at Pleasant View school. She was a prominent member of the Business and Professional Women's Club. She was a member of the local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Attendance at a Hood River funeral was never greater than Monday when citizens gathered at Riverside Community church to pay their last respects to Miss Goyette. Every seat in the building was taken, and many were turned away. Rev. W. H. Boddy, pastor of the church, was in charge of the services, and a eulogy was read by Rev. W. H. Boddy.

Miss Goyette's body will be laid in state at the funeral chapel until the morning of the funeral and hundreds of people are expected to attend the funeral. The funeral will be held at Riverside Community church. ## LEGION CLUB DATE IS SET

JULY 14, 15 AND 16 DESIGNATED

Oregon Editors Will Be Guests of Hood Club 1928 Expedition to Top of Hood's Snow Peak

At a meeting last week the Hood River Club committee of the Hood River American Legion Post set July 14, 15 and 16 as the dates for the annual ascent of Oregon's most popular snow peak this summer. Members of the committee, Ken Shoemaker, G. R. Wilbur, Harold Henshaw, R. W. Van Horn and Leon Foust, say that indications point to a heavy increase in attendance at the recreational party of this year. Last season, despite the heavy smoke blanket laid over the mid-Columbia by the Herndon Creek forest fire, the total participation reached 251.

The announcement of the Legion Mount Hood Club date means that the Oregon Editorial Association annual convention will be held here July 12 and 13. The editors of the state have accepted an invitation from the legionnaires to participate in the climbing party as honor guests.

"We hope that every editor of the state joins in our climbing trip at the mid-high elevation," says Mr. Shoemaker. "Their presence will result in a better understanding of the people of the beauties of our mountain wilderness. Our editors will be inspired to tell of our great scenic asset."

The annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be held in Portland beginning July 11. Oregon host clubs state that they have already received inquiries from many delegates for information on recreational trips. Portland and Hood River club women declare that they believe a large number of the delegates will welcome participation in the Legion mountain party, and these convention visitors from all parts of the nation are expected to reach the members at the Legion camp this summer.

On former years but two days Saturday and Sunday, have been devoted to Legion climbing. This year, however, the climbing will be held over three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Monday will be included in order that Hood River merchants, who cannot leave on Saturday, will be able to join the mountaineers and remain over two days.

All local city and commercial organizations are aiding the Legion in preparations for the party. County and city officials are offering their aid.

HIGHWAY SPEEDER IS GIVEN $25 FINE

Walter Hayes, teacher in the Portland Y. M. C. A. school, learned Friday that speeding on the Columbia River Highway is dangerous and expensive. Hayes was assessed a fine of $25 by Judge Othman after he was arrested by Traffic Officer Murray and Wood. The men were driving east this side of Cascade Locks, when according to their testimony, Hayes passed them going 60 miles an hour. At the time the officers remarked that the fast driver was one for a bad accident, as the road surface was covered with a thin film of ice.

"We would have attempted to follow the speeding man," said Officer Murray, "but other cars were ahead of us and we considered it too dangerous. We did not have to go far, however, until we found Mr. Hayes in just the predicament we predicted. He had skidded and collided with C. A. Pillsbury, an Evanson, Wash., man whose machine was badly injured in the smashup. Mr. Hayes agreed to pay damages."

The local traffic officers have warned drivers who make the Highway while it is covered with snow skin to drive with their right wheels well to the side of the road. In such case, Mr. Murray says, the danger of skidding is minimized.

K. P. TO PRESENT ARTIST AT CONCERT

The Knights of Pythias band will give a concert and dance tomorrow, Friday, evening at Pythian Temple. The band will present at the concert Loren Luper, former Oregon Concert College man and late of Home's band, in trumpet solo. Mr. Luper will be accompanied by Mrs. Luper, former Albany College student, who is a widely known piano player. Dancing will follow immediately after the program.

Those who have heard the band boys in practice for the approaching concert declare that the city has a treat in store. The program, it is declared, will be pleasing to all. Mr. and Mrs. Luper have prepared several special numbers that will be highly entertaining.

INCOME TAX REPORTS MUST BE MADE

Income tax reports must be made before March 15. Local folk this week are being aided in their returns by Deputy Inspector Kunkle, who has headquarters at the City Hall.

Carl Wolf Pays Fine
Carl Wolf was fined $10 by City Recorder Howe yesterday for violation of a city ordinance which prohibits loitering on the streets. Officer Sunday night arrested Wolf, who, they say, visited with Fred Curtis and took delivery of a bottle of moonshine.

When officers made the arrest, they found the bottle in Wolf's trunk. They destroyed the evidence. City Recorder Hart, who discovered the moonshine, says morning had already taken a sample of the liquor, and Curtis was held for promoting liquor.

and after were beset with groups of Social tribulation. Sparrman was held at Millside cemetery.

Miss Goyette, whose father died when she was at the age of six years, lived in the home of her mother, Mrs. W. H. Boddy, and Mrs. G. O. Conditon. She began her career as a teacher here at the age of 21 years. She loved her work as Mrs. Boddy died in the highest honor and she, a devotedly religious, the practical Christianity. She knew the value of all of her students. Although the public never knew many in the time when she had succeeded in her teaching and other articles of teaching for kiddies in her classes. The memory of her acts of charity will linger in sacred niches of the minds of many boys and girls even after they have grown old.

Miss Goyette is survived by her mother, Mrs. H. L. Goyette, two sisters, Mrs. C. G. Conditon, and Mrs. Mabel Boardman, of Portland, and a brother, Frank Goyette, of La Crosse, Wis.

H. R. BOX COMPANY SHOWS EXPANSION

The Hood River Box Company, managed by H. A. Bell, has begun the construction of a new plant on the site of the old plant on Railroad avenue, just east of the Hood River Spray plant. Because of its comparative isolation, but few folk of the city know of the activity that goes on in this section of the city.

The box plant is being principally now on apple boxes. Asparagus crates, however, are being made for the contractors of the garden and the area for vegetable crates from the Dallas will soon demand attention. Roads of the valley are drying out and daily more boxes are being hauled away by growers. Thirty sections have been placed by Eugene Valley growers and Manager Bell expects the hauling of boxes to this section to begin as soon as road conditions are better.

The hood box plant has been greatly improved during the past year. A new, of the hood type, was installed last fall. The conveyor belt in operation, and a third, from the rail tracks is being installed. A wood hopper has been constructed for removal of the refuse. A shower has removed the dirt from all machines. The box factory now has a capacity of 5,000 boxes daily. When the new conveyor is in place, the capacity can be increased to double that amount.

The price of boxes is much higher than last season when growers began the season buying containers at 11 cents each. The small price of this year, new, around 18 cents, is expected to go to 25 cents. Unless growers place their orders early it is said that a shortage may occur. Bills of the month are being paid only on the basis of cash. The hood box plant is being shipped out immediately on the day they are made.

"It is a good business," he says, "to build up a permanent business here. We hope eventually to have a plant that will supply the Hood River Valley and contiguous territory with all the boxes they need. We make a practice of dealing at home. We would like to have the people of the valley get acquainted with us and buy from us, in order that we may, as quickly as possible, build up a large parcel for the city."

PIONEER TALKS TO THE LUNCH CLUB

The Lunch Club Tuesday was honored by a visit of Donald McKay, Portland pioneer, who is now residing at the west side of the city. Although 98, Mr. McKay, who served many terms in the Oregon legislature, having been speaker of the house and president of the senate, is very active. Mr. McKay, who established a lumber concern and who was instrumental in getting the first bridge across the Willamette river, said he had lived in Portland 56 years. Mr. McKay is a 3rd degree Mason.

"I have been in Hood River a year. I would like to live here as long as I lived in Portland, but I am fearful that my wish will not be granted."

Mr. McKay, who was accompanied by L. R. Patterson, a friend, was the guest of J. W. Swope, chairman of the day. He was introduced by Truman Butler. Other guests at the luncheon at the Oregon Tuesday included: Geo. Ogden, of Odell; C. E. Mcintosh, Isaac T. Beal and C. C. Walton, of Parkdale, and U. R. Grey, of Baker. The latter, now Baker county engineer, was formerly with the State Highway Department. He was the builder of the Mosier-The Dalles section of the Highway, which he laid out.

A most pleasing musical program was given by Albert T. Case and Miss Sara Howes.

E. V. Burns was announced as a new member.

O. A. C. BAND HERE MONDAY, MARCH 26

Solo work by individual members of the O. A. C. military band will be the chief feature of the concert to be given here March 26.

"The band this year is the best that has ever represented the college," says Captain H. L. Beard, director. "It contains virtually the same personnel as last year's band with the addition of several experienced musicians. It is evenly balanced between reeds and brass and the artistic effect produced approaches that of a symphony orchestra. This is due to the large number of clarinets and saxophones used, and lack of the French horn instead of ordinary alto, and the large drum corps. The band plays the same grade of music as the best concert bands in America."

H. L. Beard has conducted the band, sponsored by the press the best of his organization of his kind on the Pacific coast, for 18 years. Captain Beard was graduated from O. A. C. in 1906, served in the Philippines, and has since been instructor in music, and band leader.
