PEAK OF BERRY HARVEST IS OVER

The peak of the Hood River Valley Clark-Seedling strawberry harvest is over. Shipments will clean up the first of next week. Shipment of four cars Sunday night brought the season's tonnage to 73 cars, an approximate 30 more was expected. Lower Valley picking has ended, and the harvest this week will be centered in Dee Flat and the Upper Valley.

rain was so heavy as to send the bulk of the fruit picked that day to canners. Shipments Saturday night as a result of the showers, reached only three cars. Market conditions have remained fair, and the average per crate price of this season will probably exceed that of last year. While weather conditions have limited cold product, this grade of fruit was sold to canners for seven cents per pound. Canners paid eight cents for field run berries.

STAGE AND SCREEN

The Hiatio Theatre announcement that the big Eastman film, "A Trip Through Filmland," will appear on its program July 3-5 is of special interest to movie fans.

The film story, to be shown under auspices of the Kresse Drug Co., introduces every step in the process of film making from the cotton as it comes from the cotton fields and the silver from the refineries, to the tiny strips of ribbon on which the picture itself is shown.

The theme of the picture is of direct interest to every movie fan whose knowledge of the motion picture world has heretofore been more or less confined to stars and producers. With the names and habits of these he is tolerably familiar, but comparatively little has been told of the way the film itself, without which movies could not exist, is made.

The picture seeks to remedy this defect in popular knowledge by showing how the cotton is made into the film base; how the silver is mixed with the potassium bromide and gelatine to form the light sensitive emulsion with which the film is coated; how the coating is done, the sheets of film slit into strips of standard width, perforated, reeled and packed ready for the producer's studio, and the taking of the film's favorite star.

The industrial aspects of the picture are relieved by delightful comedy drawings from the pen of that clever film cartoonist, Paul M. Felton, which makes the picture as entertaining as it is instructive.

The Hiatio Theatre has just signed a contract for the new Paramount 39 that have been advertised so extensively in the Saturday Evening Post. Among these great pictures are such offerings as "The Ne'er Do Well," "Cecil B. DeMille's great spectacle, 'Adam's Rib,'" "Java Head," "Adam and Eva," "Fola Nigri's first starring in an American made vehicle, 'Bella Donna,'" Gloria Swanson in "My American Wife," "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "Gentlemen of Leisure," "Mr. Billings Spends His Dime," "Racing Hearts," "The Go Getter," "Nth Commandment," "Children of Jazz," "Glimpses of the Moon," "The Exciters," "Can't Fool Your Wife," "Only 38," "Prodigal Daughters," "Light to Leeward," and many other great productions.

Negotiations pending the signing of the contract have been in progress for the last two weeks but after a long session with Mr. Gordon of the same office of The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation the Hiatio at last has the pictures signed for and dated. Watch for the opening date of Paramount, super 39.

The Hiatio has inaugurated a policy of having a two reel comedy included in the bill every Sunday hereafter.

"Westbound Limited" Monday and Tuesday, June 25 and 26, with a beautiful scenic, "Through the National Parks," which ran for two weeks at the Majestic in Portland. "Haunted Valley," the serial showing at the Hiatio every Wednesday and Thursday, is one of the best serials ever shown at this theatre. The serial in itself as well as being good thrilling melodrama is unusual in view of the fact that the action deals with the construction of new big projects and to date many thrilling adventures, construction of these different projects means the undoing of the "heavy" (that is, the deep dyed villain of the show).

"Night Life in Hollywood" will be shown at the Hiatio Friday and Saturday, June 22 and 23, with another room of "Fighting Blood." "Night Life in Hollywood" deals with the adventures of a young man who leaves the old home to go to Hollywood and make a name for himself. To tell the story would be to spoil it but we can safely say it is a picture that will please you all and at the same time show you just exactly what is going on in the most talked of city in the world.

Owing to the fact that "Night Life in Hollywood" was booked into the Hiatio for Friday and Saturday, June 22 and 23, the picture already booked for these dates had to be changed to the Hiatio for Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24. This is Harry Carey's latest picture, "The Kick Back," taken from the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name. Bear in mind that this is a show that has never been shown in Hood River before and was supposed to be shown at the Hiatio at Rialto prices but it will be shown at usual prices at the Liberty. It is brand new, with the Liberty, "Night Life in Hollywood" will be shown in Hood River again.

The cast of "The Prisoner," the Universal screen dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's "Castle Craney-crow," which will be shown at the Rialto Sunday, with Herbert Rawlinson in the starring role, is an unusual one inasmuch as it contains only players who have won their way to the top rank by years of hard work. There are no players in it who rose to fame "in a night."

Rawlinson himself is a star not only because of his popularity, but because in several years' consistent success he earned the rank. The boys, while on their voyage, will visit Japan and other parts of the Orient.

has been a star in her own right for a long period, and so has June Elvidge, who plays the secondary feminine role. Bertram Grassby, to be seen in the "heavy" role of the story, graduated into pictures from the success of several years' consistent work on the stage. Since then he has played the most polished "villians" and is noted as an artist of unusual promise in this particular type of role.

Ether Ralston, Lincoln Stedman, Lillian Langdon, George Cowie, Hayford Hobbs, Bert Sproutie and Boris Karloff are all popular players of recognized standing. Maxie Carlilo is the one member of the cast who has just recently come into pictures. He was a high officer in the Italian army during the late world war and gained fame as a dauntless fighter.

The greatest of human emotions, love, is the theme of Emory Johnson's great super-drama, "Westbound Limited," at the Hiatio Monday and Tuesday.

With the old world today torn by hatred and with various European nations seeking to throttle each other, "Westbound Limited," with its sweet love story and its wistful appeal, threading a great, dominant drama in which trains crash, a gigantic forest fire sweeps onward with a terrific roar between automobile and express train, comes as a panacea to take the spectator away for a little while from the world's sorrows for an hour or so of keen enjoyment in watching the motion picture screen. Blending with the best work of his career, Emory Johnson's "Westbound Limited" are the little touches of humor that Emory Johnson with the rare touch that stamps him as one of the foremost picture producers of today is able to inject into his work.

"Westbound Limited" glorifies a railroad man. It shows him as a loyal, faithful and brave human being at his work on the railroad. Ralph Lewis is depicted as the police officer in "In the Name of the Law" and got over still bigger in "The Third Alarm," both produced by Emory Johnson.

But in "Westbound Limited" he does the best work of his career. Among the principals in the cast are Ella Hall, Claire McDowell, Johnny Haron, Taylor Graves, Wedgewood Nowell, David Kirby, Richard Morris and Jane Morgan.

"Bobbed hair may be doomed, but I know one person who is going to wear her hair bobbed regardless of all the new fashions that may be decreed," declared Viola Dana, the little Metro star, when asked when she was going to allow her hair to grow long again.

A style of hairdresser is one thing, every girl should decide for herself. The reason some are changing is that bobbed hair is not becoming to them, if it is fitting to a girl's type and affords her so much more comfort and convenience than long hair. I can see no reason why she should let it grow out just because it is announced styles are changing.

Miss Dana is at present appearing in "Crinoline and Romance," a Harry Beaumont production, at the Hiatio next Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Van Nita Walters won the Premium contest, in which a number of local boys and girls recently appeared, for June 22 to 25. In this place the club will run a one-day trip to Lost Lake Sunday, June 24. The farthest point that autos can reach at the present time is the forest boundary, four and a half miles from the lake. This gives an opportunity for a nine-mile hiking trip to the lake and back. The road into the lake will not be open to autos for several weeks yet, so this is the best opportunity to visit the lake in rhododendron season.

The start will be made from the Hotel Oregon at 7 a. m. Those wishing to make the trip will please register with the secretary, C. E. Graves, phone 5698, not later than Friday evening, June 22, stating whether they need transportation or can furnish it, and if so, for how many. An effort will be made to provide free transportation for those needing it, but in case this is impossible, a small fee will be charged, the amount of which will depend on the number of people registering. The trip is open to friends of the club, as well as members. Bring lunch and drinking cup. The Club will furnish coffee at cost. Hood River will be reached on the return trip not later than 8 p. m.

The club wishes to call the attention of its members and friends to the new regulation of the Forestry Service forbidding the picking of rhododendrons within 200 feet of the highways on trails. This is absolutely necessary for their protection, and the same rule should be observed on the county roads even though the county does not attempt to enforce it. The rhododendrons are one of our greatest scenic attractions and they will soon be a thing of the past unless everyone cooperates in this movement to preserve them.

Many Indians Here A greater number of Indians are participating in the strawberry harvest this season than in the past seven years. Delegations of Warm Springs and Pendleton Indians, with their families, camp equipment, papooses and dogs all loaded aboard big automobiles, drove in for the harvest. Redskins from neighboring colonies, are here in numbers. The picturesque and colorful groups on the streets in the late afternoon, after the squaws have finished the day's work, have attracted the attention of tourists the past week.

The Indian men are not keen for work, but spend the days resting in the cool of oak canopied groves. The evenings are spent in gaming. Authorities have watched the Indians very closely this year to prevent drunkenness. Merchants have been warned against selling canned alcohol cubes, used for heating purposes.

Hukari Has Good Crop The East Side apple crop bids fair to be clean and large sized fruit this season, according to K. A. Hukari, owner of a 40-acre tract there. Mr. Hukari, who will start his thinning crews next week, says the June drop now in progress, will result in a good natural thinning of the fruit.

Weather conditions will result in a much lower codling moth damage here than last season. The cold days have to date resulted in but small activity of moths.

Helights News The Helights Garage has just been made replemend with a new coat of paint.

F. T. Anderson was busy, this week making installation of a new drinking fountain placed at the intersection of Twelfth and C. streets near the Sanitary Market of Holman and Samuel.

The Oregon-Washington Telephone Co. is busy rebuilding the lines on the Helights.

MRS. CASTNER SAYS SHE WILL TAKE REST

Mrs. Chas. H. Castner, who retired as Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of the Oregon Eastern Star last week, has just returned home, stating that she will settle down for a good, long rest. Mrs. Castner, who has been active in public and official work for the past 10 years, declares that she is well satisfied with the action of the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star in adopting certain measures for which she exerted her efforts.

"The action that pleased me much," Mrs. Castner, "was the voting of $4,000 toward establishing a scholarship loan fund for young women of Eastern Star families. The scholarships will be established at the University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural College and Monmouth Normal School. Judge Burnett, Mrs. Dora B. Schilke and myself were appointed on the committee to administer the fund. The Chapter also voted $400 for the W. C. T. U. Farm Home. It was voted to establish the Daughters of Job, an organization of girls along the line of the De Moley."

Mrs. Stella G. Drake, of Portland, succeeds Mrs. Castner. Other Hood River folk present for the Grand Chapter included: Dr. and Mrs. Pineo, Mrs. V. R. Abraham and Mr. Castner.

NEWTOWNS WILL BE WRAPPED IN OIL

Forty per cent of the apples of the growers affiliated with the Apple Growers Association will be wrapped in oiled paper the coming fall, according to A. G. Lewis, in charge of the supplies department of the cooperative organization. The Association will require growers to wrap all of their apples in the prepared oiled wraps as a result of experiments that have been conducted the past several years by D. F. Fisher, federal pathologist, who is stationed at Venatchee, and Leroy Childs and Gordon G. Brown, of the local branch experiment station.

Mr. Lewis says the oiled papers give the fruit an additional storage life, preventing scald and spoilage. It adds greatly to the value of the apples, although the cost per box will be nominal. The Association will conduct experiments the coming fall and winter with other varieties packed in the oiled paper.

Oiled paper for Newtowns will be utilized generally by other shippers here the coming season in the hauling of their Newtowns.

WIYEAST CLUB

On account of the long continued cold and cloudy weather, with the consequent probability of excessive moisture in the high forests, it has been decided to postpone the Wiyeast Club camping trip to Wahtum Lake, scheduled for June 22 to 25. In its place the club will run a one-day trip to Lost Lake Sunday, June 24. The farthest point that autos can reach at the present time is the forest boundary, four and a half miles from the lake. This gives an opportunity for a nine-mile hiking trip to the lake and back. Bandit at Ruthon Hill A lone bandit, Saturday night when a transient motorist failed to halt at Ruthon hill grade, fired on the car. Traffic Officer Murray was near the top of the grade and heard the shot, thinking it a firecracker exploded at a Japanese farm house. On learning of the attempted robbery he hurried to the scene but was unable to get a trace of the bandit.

Within the past three weeks motorists failing to halt for stick ups, have been fired on three times on the Columbia River Highway.

Admiral Mayo and Party Visit Here Admiral and Mrs. Mayo, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Jones, wife of Admiral Jones, were here for a visit last week at the Dukas Valley ranch home of Miss Beesa Henry. All the members of the party expressed delight with the scenery of the district.

The visitors while here were entertained at the Columbia Gorge Hotel.

Hood River Boys Off for Orient Russell Scobee, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Scobee, and Paul Huelat, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Huelat, who will be members of the Hood River high school senior class this fall, sailed Monday from Portland aboard the Westerner. The boys, while on their voyage, will visit Japan and other parts of the Orient.

HIGHWAY TRAFFIC IS GROWING LESS

J. R. Nickelsen says that the traffic of Oregon cars is lighter this season than last, although the number of foreign cars, chiefly Washington and California, is as great as last season. Oregon motorists, Mr. Nickelsen says, are not traveling to the extent that they did a year ago. Mr. Nickelsen Saturday forwarded to the State Highway Department the results of a census of travel taken a mile west of Cascade Locks and another between this city and Mosier.

The Cascade Locks tally showed: Oregon touring cars, 450; foreign, 339; light trucks, 20; heavy trucks, 13; motorcycles, 8, and horsedrawn vehicles, 1. The statistics for travel between here and Mosier were: Oregon cars, 380; foreign, 292; light trucks, 19; heavy trucks, 25; motorcycles, 5, and horsedrawn vehicles, 10.

Record Berries Are Shown

The record Clark Seedling strawberries shown here this year were grown by Alex Manners, Odell orchardist, who last week brought a pint hallock of the fruit to the First National Bank. Two layers of the huge berries left the hallock heaped up. The top layer contained only nine berries. The fruit was firm and of fine shipping quality. The largest berries, however, shown in the valley this year were produced on the Oak Grove ranch of G. A. McCurdy. His fruit, of the Marshall variety, ran 14 to the pint hallock. Each berry requires several bites.
