

C-T-C's Won't Skid

REMARKABLE compounding of the tread rubber is primarily responsible for the extraordinary road-gripping quality in the unresisted C-T-C tire.

That compounding is under improved, secret processes which also gives the C-T-C tread greater toughness and durability, enabling it to deliver extra long-distance mileage without quickly wearing down.

Heavily buttressed and securely reinforced traction blocks surround deeply imbedded spongy pockets as added insurance against slipping and skidding. C-T-C's are more powerfully hand-built of better materials.

DUNBOLTON IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS

Judge Fred W. Wilson, who Thursday afternoon sentenced Howard S. Dunbolton, former clerk of the Butte-Bank, Co., who pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling funds from the savings account, to five years in the penitentiary, declared that his sentence would have been six years, had Dunbolton approached the court with a plea for a parole. Had Dunbolton fought the case and been convicted, Judge Wilson stated that he would have sentenced the man to 7 or 8 years.

Dunbolton, on the Monday before, had entered a plea of not guilty, although several weeks ago he had confessed to officials of the bank that his embezzlements, extending over a period of two months, had involved a sum of $11,000. Judge Wilson in sentencing the ex-bank clerk said:

"It became evident to me Monday, when the case came up, that this court would be asked for a parole. That proceeding, however, would have been entirely useless. I would never have granted such a request. No matter what my personal feelings might have been, I should have given the man those of the average citizen with a sense of sympathy, that would not have been the thing to do.

"In the past few weeks, no doubt, Mr. Dunbolton has been in your mind's tortures, but there is another debt that must be met, a debt to society generally and a debt in the way of a warning to others who might emulate the course that you have pursued.

"It would be wrong to pass sentence on men who come before the court after transgressions and who are without remorse to plea for them, and then to heed the parole plea of others.

"Furthermore, I want it understood that the defendant has not jeopardized himself by acting as he has today in making the issue. He has gained by it."

Judge Wilson then urged that Dunbolton get the right viewpoint of himself, gain the proper perspective.

"The proper view," continued the judge, "is that you square your shoulders and say to yourself and the world: 'I have paid; have met the issue manfully.' You have come into court without reservations or a plea for leniency. You have stood here in court in a creditable way and met the issue.

"You have friends here in Hood River, and you have shown that you are ready to pay the debt, your friends have a fine opportunity of showing the true quality of friendship. They can show this spirit of friendship to your very estimable wife. Your true course is back to Hood River, where you should have an opportunity of immediate employment. Here there can be no camouflage or subterfuge. You should return here and fight out the battle with friends."

Dunbolton, escorted by Deputy Sheriff William Edick, was taken to Salem Friday by automobile. His wife is left with two small children. Constable Olinger accompanied Mr. Edick.

When his defalcations were discovered an effort to make restitution. With the $6,000 bond of his surety, the Fidelity and Deposit Co. the bank was reimbursed to the extent of $9,000.

The prosecution proceedings were initiated by the bonding company.

BERRY TRACTS ARE READY FOR TOPPING

(Gordon G. Brown)

Strawberry growers are advised to start topping their plants very shortly. This consists of removing stems, leaves and runners in a thorough manner. This will stimulate new growth, facilitate cultivation and remove the possibility of disease, providing the tops are burned.

Careful attention to this work pays. This has been tested and demonstrated by the Experiment Station on several occasions. A quick growth following topping means a large plant by fall. Such growth enables the strawberry plant to store up a great deal of food for the crown, the fruiting parts, inasmuch as a heavy bloom and larger yields are dependent upon stored food.

Topping should be thoroughly done and followed soon by horse cultivation and hoeing. Two hundred and fifty pounds of a 6-10-4 commercial fertilizer per acre is also advised and this may be worked into the soil by such operations including irrigation.

Experiments in topping by the Hood River Experiment Station over a period of years indicate clearly the feasibility of thorough and early topping. Such work has resulted in greater yields and larger berries.

Earl Richie Fined, Sentenced

Earl Richie, suspected for several months by local officers, was fined $100 and given 30 days in jail by Justice of the Peace Onthank. Richie was arrested July 4, while walking the street with a child in his arms. Officers declared that Richie was using the child as a blind for purveying liquor. Porties of the booze were found concealed in the child's clothes.

The child, it was discovered, belonged to a woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Edna Johnson. She states that she knew nothing about the liquor, having picked Richie up on the road to give him a lift.

Council Considers Buying Land

The city council is considering a proposition for the purchase of two acres of land from the county just west of town to be utilized in conserving the municipal water supply. Bedden's springs originate in the county land, formerly used in excavating for gravel. If the county land is purchased it will be fenced.

Spasmodic Constipation

"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Feltz, Birmingham, Ala.

HOOD RIVER FOLK SEE THE PRESIDENT

A number of Hood River folk motored to Portland on the Fourth to see the President. None of them, however, were more interested in seeing the journey down to the Multnomah Hotel to participate in the reception held by former Ohio folk than Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Dunlop and Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. McClain. All of them were old-time neighbors and friends of President and Mrs. Harding, and they called not merely to see the President and the First Lady of the Land but close friends of youthful days.

During the reception President Harding was heard to call cheerfully to "Kate." When those present looked to see who Kate was, she was discovered to be Mrs. Dunlop.

Many Hood River folk were disappointed that the Presidential party did not stop here. Because of the lack of definite information many folk from remote sections of the valley motored to town at daybreak, only to find that the Presidential special had passed through shortly after midnight. The W. telephone station was kept busy throughout the night connecting valley homes with the O-W. R. & N. station.
