

ODELL
Mrs. W. H. McGuire delightfully entertained a party of her friends, the young married ladies, at her home last Thursday afternoon. Cards were the principal entertainment for the afternoon. Delightful refreshments were served.

Miss Edna Plog entertained friends at dinner Sunday. Miss Plog leaves this week for Mossy Rock, Wash., where she will instruct students of the high school in domestic science and art.

Miss Eunice Kroeger, who has spent the past two months here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kroeger, expected to report for duty at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, the first of the week. She has been in training for the past year.

Mrs. G. W. Lafferty returned home last week from a visit with her friend, Mrs. Lansing, at Walla Walla.

A message received here Friday stating that Mrs. H. L. Dean of Rupert, Ida., was seriously ill was the cause of great anxiety on the part of her three daughters, Mrs. W. P. Kemp, Mrs. W. L. Shelton and Mrs. L. K. Rhoades. A later message reassured them and she has continued to improve. She suffered from a severe attack of pleurisy.

O. H. Ehrck, of Bend, spent the week end in Portland and Odell. He returned to Bend early in the week.

Harold Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Beecham and daughter, Miss Gladys, and Mr. and Mrs. Starr and baby, all of Portland, motored here Sunday for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Purdy. Mr. Harris is Mrs. Purdy's son.

Edgar Harris, with the First National bank, of Portland, spent his vacation here packing apples.

Misses Katherine and Louise Rodusky, of Portland, motored here Sunday and stopped for a friendly call at the postoffice. The young ladies formerly resided at Winlock, Wash., and are friends of Mrs. H. C. Johnson's home folk, who reside at Winlock.

Henry Teague, of Washougal, is here for apple season. He will be employed in the warehouse of Duckwall Bros.

The entertainment of Friday evening was successful beyond description. The musical numbers, violins, Mrs. W. F. Young, Miss Marguerite Ferrin; piano, Miss Thelma Stevens; vocal, J. H. Fletcher and Mrs. A. H. Ferguson, were all greatly enjoyed by the audience. A reading by Mrs. J. E. Ferguson was very appropriate for the occasion and was exceptionally well rendered. The play, "The Old Maid's Association," was all that the name implies and more. There was action and fun continually, the characters being exceptionally well taken. Rev. W. S. Gleiser as Prof. Makereaux, was all that a French professor should be and his makeup so complete that his best friends did not recognize him. His wonderful machine made the old young, the young younger and middle aged ladies were transformed into spiritedly girls, a little fox terrier dog into whistles. The committee in charge, Mrs. G. E. Bowerman and Mrs. A. H. Weinheimer, the director, Mrs. O. L. Walter, and the players themselves deserve great credit for having given an evening so filled with entertainment.

The Ladies' Aid Society will be entertained in the home of Mrs. W. H. Shelton next Wednesday afternoon.

The anniversary service of last Sunday morning was attended by an audience which comfortably filled the church and even though the program was largely statistical close attention and interest was manifested during the entire service. Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, 78 chairman, had selected numbers as noted last week. Mrs. Ferguson was elected teacher of the Young People's class at the beginning of the Sunday school 12 years ago and she has served continually in that capacity from that time. These anniversary services are beneficial inasmuch as they reunite those identified with the work at an earlier date, draw them into closer relation with the workers here and afford both old and new workers an opportunity to judge by comparison how great has been the progress.

Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Gleiser and son, Charles, went to Portland Wednesday morning for the annual conference, which is in session this week. Mrs. J. E. Ferguson went Thursday morning. She attends as a lay delegate from this charge. The last session of the conference will be held at Eagle Creek next Monday afternoon. This is in order that visiting ministers and delegates may view and enjoy riding over the Columbia Highway.

The pioneers of Hood River county will hold a reunion in Hood River next Monday. A number from Odell are members of this organization and they will likely attend.

Sunday school 10 a. m. next Sunday. Morning service at 11 o'clock in charge of Rev. Geo. P. Pemberton, who has just returned from the Idaho Conference, of which he is a member, and who will have much of interest to his hearers. At 7:30 p. m. service in charge of the Epworth League and choir. Leland Purdy will be leader for the Epworth League; subject, "Breaking New Trails." Congregational singing, special numbers. Offering for choir to purchase new music.
