GARFIT PLAN IS DISCUSSED

CHAMBER APPOINTS A COMMITTEE

Crutchfield Addresses Members at Chamber of Commerce, Giving a Ray of Hope on the Apple Market

Members of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night, after considerable discussion, decided to give the proposed apple exploitation plan of William Garfit, manager of the West-ore Fruit Growers Association, a closer study. Mr. Garfit, who was recently here, proposed that all Northwestern apple growers, shippers and the industries allied, such as boxmakers and packers, unite in preventing epidemics of disease and maintaining a high state of efficiency in the population. She declared that such work saved dollars and was productive of joy.

Mr. Vaughan stated that the health association in former years had been maintained by a county appropriation of $1,500.

"This year," said Mr. Vaughan, "we have asked for $2,500 from the county, for we feel that the work is of community-wide value and should be supported by the county appropriation. The Red Cross chapter has aided with the work in former years. We feel that it should not be forced, however, to have to call for subscriptions for its maintenance. We ask the citizens to support us in our movement and join us in our appeal before the tax budget authorities next week."

Club guests Tuesday were: Major A. W. Cleary, of Portland, United States Army officer in charge of instruction of the Oregon National Guard; Capt. Harold J. Blackman, of Company C, Donald Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bennett, of Vancouver, Wash., where he is connected with the Standard Oil branch, and J. W. Taylor, of the Vacuum Oil Co.

The meeting of the club will be held at the Mt. Hood Hotel next week, when about 50 teachers of the county will be present as guests.

Health, and Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, head of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association. Members of the Hood River county Health Association from every school district of the county were present for the session. C. H. Vaughan, executive head of the health body, presided.

Dr. Warner told of the invaluable work that has been done in Oregon in lowering infant mortality and the deaths of mothers by county health nurses. She congratulated this county on the efficient work that has been accomplished here by Miss Elizabeth Campbell, in charge of the health association's work the past two years.

She gave statistics showing the number of pre-school children's clinics held here the past summer. These clinics and the examination of children in the schools have resulted in the eradication of many defects. The clinics were held with the state department assisting in the work.

Mrs. Dunbar showed how the work of the public health nurse was of the greatest economic value in preventing epidemics of disease and maintaining a high state of efficiency in the population. She declared that such work saved dollars and was productive of joy.

Mr. Vaughan stated that the health association in former years had been maintained by a county appropriation of $1,500.

ALBERT SUTTON IS DEAD IN TACOMA

Albert Sutton, formerly owner of a large ranch place in the Green Point region, dropped dead in Tacoma, Wash., Sunday. Heart disease caused death.

Funeral services will be held in Tacoma, where Mrs. Sutton and three children survive. A daughter, Alberta Sutton, who formerly lived in Portland, is now in New York.

Mr. Sutton was 50 years of age, and had been engaged in architectural work in Portland with H. A. Whitney for nearly 10 years. Several years before forming a partnership with Mr. Whitney, Mr. Sutton came to Oregon from San Francisco and purchased a farm in Hood River valley, intending to retire from active business.

At the time of his death Mr. Sutton was in charge of the construction of several large buildings in Tacoma, including the Anna Wright seminary, the College of Puget Sound and the Rust building. The construction of the new Multnomah county hospital, the Shrine hospital for crippled children and the Scottish Rite cathedral was directed by Sutton & Whitney.

TAX COMMISSION NOW IN SESSION

The new county tax and conservation commission, composed of A. L. Mason, Edw. Hawkes and M. D. Odell, began to function Monday when the members scrutinized budgets of school districts. School budget hearings last night throughout the county. The commission will devote Thursday to irrigation districts.

The commission will pass on the different budgets. It was announced, before December 10.

The tax body will hear the city budget discussions Tuesday, November 27. Wednesday, November 28, the commission will scrutinize the tentative budget of the county. It is expected that the final day's business will attract considerable interest.

ASBURY BANQUET WAS GREAT SUCCESS

State Senator Nickelson was the oldest son present last Friday night at the father and son banquet given at the parlors of Asbury Methodist church. Senator Nickelson, aged 54, was accompanied by his father, M. H. Nickelson, dean of Oregon school clerks, having been clerk of the Hood River district for 20 different years.

The oldest father present was H. B. Leonard, Civil War veteran. Rev. W. N. Byars, the pastor, who delivered an address, was the youngest father. He is 30 years old. The youngest son was Master Lynn Wilson, son of James Wilson.

Addresses were delivered by K. D. Peterson, Dr. E. G. Luttrell and Clifford Emmel. Mr. Wilson gave a solo and numbers were rendered by a quartet composed of Charles Miller and three sons. The dinner, served by the Ladies' Aid, was attended by 98.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT BALL

The advance sale of tickets indicates that the 18th annual ball of the Hood River Volunteer Fire Department, to be held Thanksgiving night at Pythian Temple, will be one of the most largely attended ever held, according to L. J. Daniels, chairman of the dance committee. The proceeds of the annual fund are placed in the firemen's benefit fund.

Members of the city's official family and their wives will attend the big hop as patrons and patronesses.

POULTRY SHOW ON TOMORROW

EVENT LASTS THROUGH SATURDAY

Merchants Show Interest, Donating Premium Awards—Laraway Gives Cup—O. A. C. Cooperates

The county's first poultry and pet animal show will be held here Friday and Saturday under auspices of the Hood River County Poultry Association. A large room at the building of the Hood River Fruit Co. has been secured for the show.

Prof. Cosby and Brewster, of the extension service of the Oregon Agricultural College, will be here to judge the animals. Merchants who are assembling articles for premiums have entered enthusiastically into the plans of the association, and it is anticipated that the show will be made an annual event. The sweepstakes award of the event will be a handsome silver cup, awarded by W. F. Laraway.

In the past five years Hood River has made considerable strides in poultry raising. A number of farmers have gone in for producing purebred stock, and some of the state's finest pens of Rhode Island Reds and Leghorns are maintained here. While the valley formerly shipped in most of its eggs, today the town is supplied and many cases of eggs are shipped to Portland each week.

The premium list annexed by business folk is as follows: Consolidated Mercantile Co., sack of flour; Mt. Hood Meat Co., side of bacon; Frasier Grocery, sack of flour; H. S. George, Electric Kitchen, box of candy; Hood River Drug Co., box of stationery; J. G. Vogt, $5 hat; Kresse Drug Co., Brownie camera; First National Bank, $5 cash; Grange Cooperative Store, gallon of syrup; Mt. Hood Motor Co., motorcycle; Vincent & Shank, 3-pound can of coffee; E. A. Franz, aluminum percolator; C. A. Richards, $1 cash; Kelly Bros., feed department, sack of scratch; sack of egg wash and 70-egg incubator; Kelly Bros., hardware department, teapot; H. S. Braakman, wallpaper for one room; Perigo & Son, 3-pound can of coffee; A. S. Kolstad, curtain advertisement and two passes to show; J. C. Penney & Co., $5 blanket; Butler Bank, $5 cash; Molden-Tuelat-Bather Co., set of silver teaspoons; Apple Blossom, $1 cash; A. R. Kelly, Waterman's fountain pen; Book and Art Store, year's subscription to Country Gentleman; Taft Transfer Co., sack of scratch and sack of egg wash; Leunell Market, ham; Electric Bakery, cake; Paris Fair, $7.50 glass vase; Hood River Market, ham; H. L. Hasbrouck, pair of gold cuff buttons; Bartol-Mansfield Motor Co., spotlight; B. E. Cobb Co., willow egg basket; J. C. Jonsen, $5 pair of shoes; Hood River Apple Vinegar Co., six bottles of vinegar; H. Gross, wash tub and board; Apple City Electric Co., $5 electric box; Fire Shop, inner tube; E. C. Mooney, sack of scratch and egg sack; Holman & Samuel, bucket of lard and 2 1/2 pounds of coffee; L. H. Higgins, 2 1/2 pounds of coffee; W. H. Carrigan, 3-pound sack of flour and Portland Flour Mills, (sweepstakes prize on pen of chickens) four sacks of Olympic feeds.

The Standard Oil Co. and the Shell Co., which had announced a subscription, had not signified what it would be.

W. G. Weber gave a handsome dog collar. Others, whose names are not included in the above list will be given next week.

XTMAS HEALTH SEAL SALE AGAIN LAUNCHED

The Hood River County Health Association, of which C. H. Vaughan is president, again has charge of the sale of Christmas seals for the Oregon Tuberculosis Association. The sale will start Friday, November 30, and will continue until Christmas eve. In the rural districts the sale is being carried largely through the schools. In the city a mail sale letter system will be used, followed by booth sales.

Chairmen for the various districts are: Mrs. E. B. Perigo, general county chairman; Mrs. Earl Franz, Hood River city; Mrs. A. W. Peters, Pine Grove; Mrs. S. L. Banks, Oak Grove; Mrs. McCannan, Des; Mrs. J. B. Douggett, Mount Hood; Mrs. E. B. Woodyard, Barrett; Mrs. Mallory, Cascade Locks; Mrs. R. J. McIsaac, Parkdale; Mrs. J. M. Foley, Frankton; Mrs. Allison Fletcher, Odell.

TREE BRANCH GROWS IN HEART OF OAK

When a crew of the Pacific Power & Light Co. last week was felling an Oak tree on a West Side highway, a small, pressed, barren, with a shagreened end, was found embedded across its heart. William Rand, one of the best known timber cruisers of the mid-Columbia, who examined the tree, placed its age at about 100 years. The branch, a little less than an inch in diameter, had become embedded in a crotch probably about 35 years ago.

Mr. Rand said, and the tree had grown around it. He said it indicated that a forest fire had swept the district at the time. It was possible to make a mark with the carbon of the charred end.

Mr. Rand said he had seen similar cases before, indicating that forest fires had swept the community over 100 years ago.

Christmas Tree-Meeting Sunday

A community Christmas tree for the children of the city and valley will be held this year under auspices of the Elks of the section. J. H. Fredrick and John Baker have initiated the plan. A committee of Elks and representatives of the town's various fraternal organizations will hold a meeting next Sunday evening at the Chamber of Commerce to make definite plans.

It is proposed to hold the Christmas tree at the auditorium of the high school.
