

OUR NEW YEAR arises above the horizon and sees our determination to furnish better shoes at lower prices than we have done in the past. The success which attended our efforts is a splendid spur to even better service. We thank all our friends and wish them joy and prosperity.

J. C. JOHNSEN

APPLES-PEARS

For a long time we have bought Apples and Pears. Growers make no mistake in selling their Apples, especially to a well-established local firm. We sell oiled wrapping paper, common wrapping paper, spray material, and all other supplies needed. Our business is handling growers' accounts, buying and selling Apples, warehousing.

TWENTIETH CENTURY
IS GOING FORWARD

The Twentieth Century grocery which opened in Hood River two years ago last September is one of a chain of thirty-one stores operated throughout the state including one at Vancouver, Washington.

This concern has had a most remarkable growth which, according to Mr. D. B. Cramer, the local manager, is predicated by the principle of giving the consumer the best merchandise obtainable at the lowest possible prices. Because of their immense purchasing power the Twentieth Century stores not only buy at rock bottom prices but are in a position to select their goods from the best markets in all parts of the country, thus giving their patrons the benefit of both quality and price.

He states further that the Twentieth Century stores are not "cut rate" stores but are founded on the belief that there are thousands of people who prefer to pay cash and carry their groceries home, thereby paying themselves for thirty-one days instead of paying the merchant. In this way their patrons save practically ten per cent which is equivalent to getting their groceries free over one month in each year. Worth while isn't it?

To prove that this firm operates the kind of stores the public wants, Mr. Cramer points to the fact that they started with one store less than nine years ago, and are now operating thirty-one, making it necessary to move into their new warehouse, in Portland, which will be ready next month. This warehouse has a ground floor space of over twenty thousand square feet. Here the company will have truckage both in front and rear, thus reducing their expense in handling goods, which will in turn be handed on to the consumer.

Mr. Cramer concludes, "while the Twentieth Century stores do not claim to have the lowest prices on everything, their general low average prices on quality merchandise are such as meet with the approval of the keenest buyers."
