WIYEAST CLUB

The Wiyeast club will run an allday trip to Rim rock next Sunday Starting from the Mount Hood hotel at 7 a. m., the party will proceed by auto to the beginning of the trail a short distance beyond the Mount Hood postoffice. The trail zig-zags up the hillside to Long prairie, a meadow in the midst of the woods through which flows the beginning of Neal creek. From Long prairie the trail leads through the woods on the top of the Rim rock, from which a wonderful view of the Upper Valley and Mount Hood is to be had. The snow peaks in Washington are also easily seen. The return frip will be made over the same route. The total distance is about 12 miles. Bring lunch and canteens. Those who need transportation or can furnish additional transporta tion are requested to register with C. C. Crew at the First National Bank. Members should be prepared for the possibility of snow in the trail at the top of the hill. Friends of the club,

CONGRESSMAN SIN-NOTT IS ON JOB

(From The Dalles Chronicle)

"Nick" Sinnott is very much on the job at Washington, regardless of the fact that this is election year and that fact that this is election year and that the most highly organized attempt to "get" him in his career is being waged in eastern Oregon. From time to time come brief messages from the capital telling of how the congressman from the second Oregon district has put across another bit of substantial work, such as the recent park approprition bill. Then, every once in a while, Sinnott will be mentioned in press dispatches, in connection with some important bit of legislation which must pass through the committee of which he is chairman.

These meager flashes from the

"Sinnott is doing his utmost to secure recognition in the house for the McNary-Haugen bill," was the word brought back from Washington by Herbert Egbert, state president of the Farmers' Union, after Mr. Egbert had spent several weeks at the capital lobbying on behalf of the bill.

"Sinnott is working hard," was the cryptic message sent back by Dr. J. A. Reuter, who stopped in Washington while on his way to Europe.

while on his way to Europe.

The plain facts in the case are that "Nick" Sinnott is too busy to do much "Nick" Sinnott is too busy to do much active campaigning, even through the usual publicity bureau manner. He must rely on his past record, one of unusual achievement, and the support of his friends at home to see that the opposition does not-become too firmly intrenched. He does not intend to slacken in his work at Washington, which was more new much to constant which may mean so much to eastern Oregon farmers during the next month or so, with the farm relief bill to be

To return to his district now for a speaking campaign would be neglecting his duty, so Sinnott is staying on the job, confident that the voters will not fall to realize his position.
