THE SWIMMING SCHOOL

We doubt if Hood River ever participated in an activity of greater worth than the Red Cross swimming school held at Koberg's beach last week. We wonder how many youngsters learned the art of maintaining self-confidence while in the water. They were taught how to take care of themselves and yet not to engage in foolhardy ventures.

In Mr. Donaldson, the Red Cross instructor, the school had a master who knew his business, but to Victor C. Follenius and John Koberg must go a major part of the credit for the success of the event. Mr. Follenius was present every day, both morning and afternoon, in the water teaching the small children how to swim. He deserves the thanks of all parents.

John Koberg's magnanimity in donating the use of his beach and the services of his life guards should be recognized by a public expression of appreciation. One of the greatest services derived from the swimming school is that of directing attention to the Koberg beach and the elimination of the dangerous sloughs. Hereafter, when one goes swimming, let it be to Koberg's beach, where safety rules.

ALL OREGON should benefit from the visit of the Oregon Editorial Association to the Tillamook country last week. We know of no town of 2,000 people in the Northwest that is more prosperous than Tillamook. Editors are a discerning lot. They observed all of these things. They delved into the reasons. They found that Tillamook success is built on practical co-operation. These editors will take home the facts they gathered, and hereafter they will be found active proponents of movements to weld agricultural and horticultural interests into working cooperative bodies.

Tillamook performed a service to the state in entertaining Oregon editors. The K. P. BAND DANCE Hood River folk, both city and valley, have an opportunity to show their kindly feelings toward the K. P. band. We believe they will take advantage of it. We predict right now that the big dance of next Wednesday night will have a record attendance. Just watch everybody buy tickets to the social function being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Have you secured yours?

The Columbia Gorge hotel grounds are now a veritable fairyland, especially at nighttime, when the myriad of amber lights shed a glorious glow over Phelps creek and its miniature cascades and hurrying Hoo-Guin-Guin falls. We suggest that Hood River folk journey out in numbers Saturday night to see the K. P. band greet the Portland Ad club. It will be an event worth while.

IRRIGATION WINS IN BIG WATER CASE

Irrigationists of the valley expressed jubilation yesterday when Geo. H. Wilbur, secretary of the East Fork Irrigation district, received news from Salem that the supreme court had rendered a decision in the noted Hood River watershed litigation favorable to the irrigationists. The Pacific Power & Light Co. had laid claim to the waters of the stream under alleged rights incident to riparian ownership. The supreme court decision was in confirmation of the circuit court and the findings of the state water board, which spent six years in a survey of the entire watershed.

PYTHIAN BAND WILL PLAY FOR AD CLUB

A feature of "Venetian Night" at the Columbia Gorge hotel Saturday will be a greeting extended by the K. P. band, all members in their unique Indian costumes. Manager Tremblay expects that this will be the real lift of the evening. All Hood River people are extended a cordial invitation to attend the meeting, in respect the new lighting system and get acquainted with the Portland Ad club.

Pomona Grange Next Wednesday Pomona grange of this county will hold an all day meeting next Wednesday at Parkdale. Members of the Parkdale grange will be hosts and will serve a basket dinner at noon. Mrs. William Munroe, lecturer of the county grange, states that an interesting program is being prepared.

Hood River Box Co. Will Start Night Shift In order to take care of the increasing local demand for fruit boxes, the Hood River Box Co. will start August 1 run two shifts daily with full crews, which will insure prompt and regular deliveries to valley customers. Address P. O. Box 378, Telephone 1342.

TWO ENGAGEMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Mrs. P. B. Laraway and Mrs. C. L. Turney entertained Saturday afternoon at the Laraway home on the East Side in honor of Mrs. C. A. Dano, of Sandon, who with her husband has been visiting here. Mr. and Mrs. Dano formerly resided here and have a host of friends in the city and valley.

Shortly before the buffet lunch was served little Miss Marion Shoemaker presented the guests with tiny envelopes which told of the engagement of Miss Florence Evelyn Turney to Arthur Clark Bickford and Miss Adah Laraway to Robert Morris Hays.

Miss Turney is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Turney, of Odell. She is an instructor of biology in The Dalles schools and a former University of Oregon student. Mr. Bickford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Bickford, of Pine Grove, and is interested with his father and brother in the Pine Grove store and also extensive orchard projects.

Miss Laraway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Laraway, of Pine Grove. She is a former University of Oregon student and at present is taking work at the Oregon State Normal at Monmouth.

Mr. Hays is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hays, of Albany, and is connected with the Shell Oil Co. here. He was a student of the University of Washington and also the University of Oregon and is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

No date has been set for the weddings. Miss Ethel Bickford, Miss Edith Anderson, Miss Jessie Turney, Miss Bernice McDonald, Mrs. Will Magill and Mrs. H. J. Blackman assisted in the dining room at the lunch hour. About 50 guests called in the course of the afternoon.

MORE THAN 1,000 AT SWIMMING SCHOOL

A total of 1,485 children and adults registered at afternoon and evening classes of the Red Cross swimming school, maintained for six days last week at Koberg's beach, with William Donaldson, an accredited Red Cross instructor, and Victor C. Follenius, recreational director of Hood River schools, in charge. Seventy-five boys and girls learned to swim during the school. Those who already knew the art were taught expert strokes. Veteran swimmers were given thorough instruction in life saving and were shown all methods of resuscitation.

Mr. Koberg donated the use of the beach to the Red Cross chapter, which paid the expenses of the swimming classes. The city school board very graciously released Mr. Follenius for the six days of the school. He has also been released for participation for eight days in the Boy Scout camp at Sanctuary lakes beginning next Saturday. Mr. Follenius taught the younger swimmers at Koberg beach last week the first lessons of the art. He was in the water each day from 10 to 12 and from 2 to 5.

During Mr. Follenius' absence at Sanctuary lakes the recreational work will proceed here as usual, others having been secured to take care of the work. The weekly picture show will be given Saturday at junior high school. Swimming lessons will be held each Friday and Tuesday from 2 to 5 o'clock. Mr. Koberg has donated the use of his beach for lessons during these two afternoons of each week.

At a meeting Monday night the city council passed at first reading an ordinance calling for the paving, full width, of Oak street from Ninth to Thirteenth street. From the latter point to an intersection with the Columbia River highway a paving 16 feet wide will be laid. The ordinance calls for concrete paving.

The council recently let a contract for a narrow-width paving the full length of the unpaved stretch. The suit, calling for an injunction, was filed by Mrs. Banks Mortimer, who alleged the unconstitutionality of the ordinance, in that, as her complaint stated, the work would constitute her abutting property without due process of law. The contract for the original paving was cancelled, according to the council, because of a defect in published notice of the work. It is anticipated that a new suit will be filed against the city.

SAMUELSON FAMILY TAKE TENNIS AWARDS

Oliver Samuelson and his sister, Mammie Samuelson, established a family tennis record when they won the second annual county boys' tennis championship last week. The boys' championship, respectively, Saturday afternoon on the Country club courts. At the same time Miss Elizabeth Derby and Edward Naumes won the consolation event, bringing to close one of the most successful tournaments ever held in this valley.

Samuelson, although only 12 years old, handily defeated some of Hood River's most promising players before meeting Gordon Manser, the local Manser, who is four years older than Samuelson and more than a head taller, easily took the first set in the match and the lead went into the second set and although Samuelson played a steady and heady game, Manser's experience and hard driving promised at the first to easily outclass him. About the middle of the second set, however, Samuelson seemed to settle into his stride and from then on forged steadily ahead, keeping the large gallery in constant applause by his accurate placing and speed, and taking the match 2-6, 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

The most spectacular match of the day, however, was the final in the consolation between George Wuest and Edward Naumes. The boys were so evenly matched that the outcome was a matter of breathless interest until the final point had been played. This event went to five sets and play lasted for two hours and 20 minutes. Naumes finally won through with a score of 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-8, 7-5. Mammie Samuelson won easily from Vienna Hunkari, 1923 title holder, in straight sets 6-1, 6-3 and Elizabeth Derby likewise did not extend herself in taking the consolation title from Evelyn Brune 6-1, 6-2.

The Kelly trophy cup, boys' championship prize, the Kresse trophy cup, girls' prize; the Tracy racket, boys' consolation trophy, and the Boyd racket, boys' consolation award, were publicly awarded to the winners at the close of the tournament by Mrs. John R. Norton, in charge. Ray Anderson and John Norton acted as umpires.

The committee in charge wishes to thank members of the Benedict tennis club and the Hood River Country club for their cooperation and the use of their courts and also wishes to gratefully acknowledge the assistance given by Mammie Samuelson and Lawrence Wright, which went far toward making the tournament a success.

MT. HOOD SAFE IS BLOWN BY BURGLARS

Burglars, who Friday night blew the safe with nitro glycerine, secured $75 in money, stamps to the value of $100 and merchandise valued at $300, including a bolt of silk at the Mt. Hood store of H. C. Wyatt, who is the village postmaster. Officers before the same judge a few weeks ago blew the safe of J. J. McInnes, where heavy loot was secured. They made their getaway apparently in an automobile.

Shelf Edick spent Saturday at Mt. Hood going over the few small clues available on the crime. Oregon editors have not forgotten the fine time given them by the Hood River Legion post and Chamber of Commerce on their recent visit. Frequent mention was made of this party at Tillamook last week. The editors express the hope that they will be permitted to return for another attack on the snow peak some year in the near future.

Hood River folk will be glad to learn that one of their sons is making good in the newspaper world. Lindley H. Spight, son of Mrs. L. H. Huggins, is co-publisher of the Tillamook Herald, one of the most thriving papers of the state. Mr. Spight received commendation for the active part he took in making the visit to Tillamook a pleasant one for every newspaper man and woman.

Dwight Langtry and Joe Heyd, representing the Tillamook Boy Scouts, were the guests of the editors at the hour on lighthouses of this nation and other parts of the world. Rosenberg Bros., who operate the concession at the seaside, won the hearts of the editors Saturday evening. The entire bench was turned over to the visitors. Some few took in everything even to a bit of the Pacific ocean. Elbert Bede was heard, after he had finished his speech, to address the big body of water that Balboa discovered, introducing himself as the Bede of Cottage Grove. The frolicking waverers, however, refused to recognize him. They were only named when someone turned the plate of his home city, where he is considered as a leading citizen, to Cottage Cheese.

A number of the editors remained over after the pleasant conferees departed on the beach for dancing at the pavillion, where they were guests of Messrs. Rosenberg. Citizens of Tillamook furnished automobiles to convey editors to crocheteries and the Whitney sawmill Saturday morning and to the beaches in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Moe had the pleasure of making the trip with H. C. Coe, of the power company of Tillamook. He was a skilled driver and was well acquainted with the entire countryside. His explanations of points of interest made the journey with him doubly entertaining and instructive.

Tillamook is planning on entertaining 5,000 members of the B. P. O. E. August 14, 15 and 16 at their annual state convention. Oregon editors will urge the Elks to make the trip. They know from experience that they will be well taken care of. Harry E. Morgan and H. C. Petteplace, members of the official staff of the Whitney Lumber Co., whose big mill at Garibaldi was inspected by the editorial party Saturday, were
