NAMING OREGON STATE FLOWER

Someone last week queried the Oregonian, asking as Oregon's state flower and to learn what year the choice was made.

The Oregon Horticultural society appointed a committee of two botanists to select a state flower. The men were D. B. Pilkington and E. W. Hammond.

The incident of the query will remind some of the pioneer residents here of that memorable occasion, when the Oregon grape was selected by the horticultural society.

Those were the days when Hood River was setting the pace for the northwestern apple industry.

Hood River has taught the north-west how to raise fine apples. For years she has been pointing the way for prevention and elimination of disease pests.

A STATE INCOME TAX

And again they are talking of a state income tax for Oregon. Have they forgotten the substantial majority against the income tax at the recent election?

It has just become known that as a direct result of the removal of the executive and sales office of the Simons company from Kenosha to New York on account of discriminatory and burdensome legislation in Wisconsin, the city of Kenosha will this year lose more than $50,000 in taxes.

ELIMINATING A PESTIFEROUS EXPENSE

The Chamber of Commerce proposal to eliminate the worrisome solicitations which have cost Hood River business folk no small sum the past several years is worthy the interest of everyone.

THE BRIDGE ROAD

Anything been done yet about the proposed bridge road? Suitable connections between the highway and the new bridge should be made available before the heavy traffic of summer.

THE LEGISLATURE

All eyes are now on Salem. The 33rd legislature can make a record for itself if it will by indulging in less of bad old laws, the adoption of the few new ones needed.

Help to send Hood River's Pythian

Indians to Providence, R. I., this summer. Join the crowd next Wednesday night and go to the colored minstrels to be staged by the band at the Bialto theatre.

Winter is half gone. Seed catalogues are already intruding us, and in dreams we are planting the first radish bed.

Let us all help to keep the fire truck in the station during the ensuing year. There have been no fires for 14 days.

Why does not Portland solve the problem of "Inch-and-a-quarter" Jimmy by securing him for the police force?

Clipped Here and There

An apple in a Washington orchard is just an apple and nothing more. On a New York fruit stand or in almost any other city on the continent it has become something resembling the first coin of a gold nugget.

The result of that effort is summed up in one word, "service." The apple has been packed and shipped and sold and resold and delivered so many times that whereas the farmer raises it for an average of 78 cents a box the consumer pays it for $5.

The retailer who sells the apples one or a dozen at a time gets $1.87. The jobber from whom he buys them a box at a time gets 40 cents. The wholesaler who buys them a carload at a time and sells them to the jobber in broken carload lots gets 30 cents.

The investigator believes the bulk of this "spread" is represented by the actual cost of the service performed. The net profit, they say, which all the various middlemen take does not average more than five per cent of the retail selling price.

Manure is effective in clearing land of "black alkali" in Oregon when used in connection with sulfur and gypsum, but not alone. Studies by the experiment station indicate that heavy applications of sulfur alone will be effective, but further investigations are under way.

The many friends of Dr. M. E. Welch will regret to learn that he is ill at his home.

S. A. King has left for Astoria, where he has been made superintendent of the Pacific Power & Light company's branch there.

most of the taxes. Those on the land are entitled, under every moral obligation, to benefits to be brought about by use of tax money.

Not heedful of the substantial majority by which the people voted down the state income tax, a new bill is to be presented to the incoming legislature. Senator Toomey, of Clatsop county, is to offer a bill to raise taxes by a levy on incomes in addition to the other taxes and the federal income tax system.

The rate of taxation under the proposed measure would be 10 per cent of each $1000 of taxable income for the first $5000, 15 per cent on each $1000 of taxable income on the second $5000, 20 per cent on each $1000 of taxable income on the third $5000, 25 per cent on each $1000 of taxable income on the fourth $5000, and 30 per cent on each $1000 of taxable income over $20,000.

Apples that netted the grower 75 cents a box, after paying for packing and freight but not for the cost of cultivation, are being retailed to New Yorkers at $5 a box. And there are some four million New Yorkers who wouldn't leave New York on a bet.

Like other men who have retained vitality and vigor far beyond the allotted years, he has a rule. It is, "Work hard, play fair, and make every man your friend."

Men are not all built alike. Some are naturally endowed with strength of body and activity of mind beyond others. But there is a fundamental in the Day formula that all men may follow. That is, not to allow oneself to be poisoned by hatred of others, but to put their money into, and try to follow with their active interest, too many businesses.
