CENTRAL VALE M. O. Downing and his daughter, Frances, have quite the ill with tonsillitis but are now much better. The two rooms of the Central Vale school enjoyed a treat for opening exercises Monday morning in the form of some educational records loaned to the school by Mrs. E. J. Motion. Hearing and talking about the new records was an especial pleasure to the pupils as they are tiring, somewhat, of those in the school collection which they have heard so often. Many of them have records of an educational nature, which they are willing to loan the school for a time, they will be greatly appreciated by both teachers and pupils. James Fletcher spent the week end in Portland last week. W. B. Gearty, who recently moved to Pine Grove, had the unfortunate misfortune to fall and break two ribs. He was in the hospital a few days but has now recovered sufficiently to return home. With the number of cases of scarlet fever in Odell increasing can it be that the same negligence that allowed the epidemic to get such a start in Hood River will allow it to start in Odell? While the teachers and health authorities are trying to do all in their power to get a stop to the spread of the disease, should parents say that "they are such light cases it doesn't matter much," or "probably it is just German measles" and allow suspected cases to expose others before quarantine is enforced? The fact has been emphasized that "light cases" may have very serious results. Let every parent take it on himself to see that his child shall neither expose nor be exposed if care can prevent it. A lecturer over the radio from KGO Monday night said, "It pays to keep well, not only to the individual but to the community as a whole." This is just what the educational committee of the Public Health association has been trying to get across to the people. We at Central Vale are especially anxious for the scarlet fever to fade away, as we need to give an entertainment to raise some money for our photograph and hot lunches. Due to a line out of order last week we failed to get the item about the Hill's departure, which the Odell reporter beat us to. But we are glad they had the opportunity to go on such a delightful trip and will be ready to welcome them back about the first of March. Mother's club will meet a week from today, January 27, at the home of Mrs. M. O. Downing. We hope all those who have not had the opportunity to go away for the winter will be able to get out and enjoy a pleasant afternoon.

MIDDLE VALLEY C. C. Mann and son, of Pendleton, motored up one day last week and spent the night with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. Craft. Mr. Mann was on his way to Salem to take his place in the legislature, and his son to resume his studies at the university. Mrs. W. Austin has been visiting the dentist the past few weeks. Mrs. E. Hillstrom has been on the sick list, but is improving. Roy Montgomery and family returned home from Portland last week. Jimmie Whelan and Walter Kieley, who have been down with chicken pox, are very much improved.

January 22. Mrs. J. Lynch, of Portland, visited at the home of Mrs. Montgomery last week. Loyd Bird left last Friday for Corvallis, where he will attend school. L. J. Cooper, of Elbe, Wash., is visiting friends in the community this week. Mrs. S. C. Walters and daughter, Betty, who have been ill with chicken pox, are recovering nicely. H. Osborne has purchased the Roberts ranch in Dukes Valley. Mrs. B. J. Montgomery spent Sunday in Hood River with her husband at the home of Mrs. J. Crapper. Sunday school at 10.30 a. m. and preaching at 2.30 p. m. next Sunday.

DEE Mont West and Val Bearson drove to Portland last Wednesday, returning Saturday morning early. Leslie Sealcock, of Portland, visited at the J. E. Edgar home the latter part of last week, returning to Portland Friday. Mrs. A. K. West has arrived from Libby, Mont., for an extended visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. West, who is accompanied by her small son, Walker and Alva, has been with her sister, Mrs. Jessie Hutson, at Parkdale for the past week. All will be glad to know that Stanley Parker is well on the way to recovery from an attack of scarlet fever. So far no new cases have been reported. Mrs. C. A. McCannion was called to Portland last week by the illness and death of her brother-in-law, Mr. Kuntz. Mrs. McCannion will remain with her sister in Portland for a short time. Miss Whitaker spent Monday in our school examining the children. She was assisted by Mrs. M. R. Catherine and Mrs. R. S. Hazletine. Our school children were found to be in fairly good physical condition. A number of local enthusiasts attended at Mt. Hood Tuesday night. With so much interest behind them the smokers should be very successful. Mrs. E. H. Greene is driving or rather we should say will drive, when the condition of the roads will permit, a new sedan de luxe Oldsmobile, a gift from her husband. Louise Edgar is taking a little vacation of ten days on account of having been exposed to scarlet fever. Everybody hopes she will not get it. Owing to local enthusiasm the meeting of the Community club scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Stabler has been postponed. Mont West purchased a new Star touring car Tuesday.

PARKDALE Mrs. Rosette returned home last Thursday from Hood River, where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Scobee, and family. Friends of Grandma Wishart will be glad to know that she is remarkably well this winter and enjoying her stay in Canby. Mrs. D. R. Cooper went to the Dalles for a visit recently. Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Puddy, is recovering from a bad case of tonsillitis. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Basler motored to Hilo and Seattle last Friday. Mr. Basler is having his vacation. The high school basketball team are practicing, getting ready for coming games. Warning to all those having chickens: Keep the shot gun handy, as thieves have been visiting hen houses recently. Mrs. H. F. Goodlander is recovering at the Hood River hospital from a recent operation. The library meeting announced for last Saturday was not very well attended. Not enough were present to transact business to be brought up. There was a small attendance at the grange meeting Monday afternoon. Too nice a day for pruning. Bert Stranahan was up from Hood River the first of the week making arrangements for the K. of P. minstrel show and concert to be given in McLean's hall Monday night. What would happen if the state legislature now in session should pass a law to close the churches throughout the state? Don't you think there would be a strong protest made by all creeds and classes? Yet we wonder if you are taking full advantage of the ministry of the church? Do your children attend the church school session Sunday morning? Do you attend the worship service? Are you cooperating with the local work of the ministry of the church? The community were the same interests in the church that you do what kind of a church would Upper Valley have? Think about these things and remember a hearty welcome awaits you at all services Sunday. Come and bring the family. Mrs. H. G. Keeney, wife of our school superintendent, is acting as substitute teacher in the commercial department of the Hood River high school this week. The professor seems to be getting along pretty well during her absence but would appreciate it very much if some neighbor would volunteer to split the wood; he isn't accustomed to that kind of exercise. The Parent-Teacher association has announced a full program for this week's meeting. The discussions center about the proposed kindergarten and child labor amendments. County Superintendent Crites and Mr. Calvin, of the state department of education, are to present the boys' and girls' club work. The week day school of religious education came into being last Thursday. Practically the entire enrollment of grades four to seven is taking the course under the direction of Rev. R. A. Hutson, pastor of J. D. Smullin. The local council of religious education is composed of F. L. Keating, H. G. Keeney and Mrs. W. J. Gibbs. Classes will be held every Thursday. It is hoped to include all the grades in the school with the exception of the primary room in the plans for next year's course. The Community church voted Sunday morning to send Mrs. H. F. Goodlander, church organist, who is a patient in the Hood River hospital, a message of sympathy and good wishes. The committee appointed by the pastor "said it with flowers" Monday afternoon. Don't forget the Boy Scout entertainment in the grade school Friday evening, 7.30. The discussion committee are urged to bring baskets with lunch for two. The boys and men are invited to bring the cash. Free admission.

White Salmon Merchant Visits G. G. Crow, White Salmon merchant, who was the driver of the first delivery wagon ever operated in Hood River, was here yesterday on business. Crow in 1886 began to drive the delivery wagon of Hanna & Wolford, pioneer merchants. The firm was later succeeded by Wolford & Bone. Mr. Crow, who was postmaster for White Salmon for 11 years, went to that city in 1900. He says that the new interstate bridge will make Hood River and White Salmon folk real neighbors.

WINS, FURS AND FEATHERS

The number of dogs to be found in the larger and more crowded cities of Europe causes one to stop and query, how is it that in these densely populated centers of the world, where families are large and where households are congested, there are to be found so many members of the canine family? Agitation extant in America against dogs in the city must have some cause. Is it the general antipathy or genuine hate of these animals that causes it to due to their lack of "manners"? A careful comparison of the European breed dog and the average American city dog will clearly show the reason. The American dog is, in most cases, just allowed to grow up unconfined and untutored, depending on his native instinct alone to guide him. European dogs practically to the animal, are trained and therefore the well bred children, are a pleasure to have around. Regardless of the length of our dog's pedigree, we can teach him to be quiet at night, to keep off neighbors' lawns or gardens, to refrain from chasing passing vehicles or pedestrians. Let's have some concern for the future of the greatest friend of man in the animal kingdom—the dog—Oregon Sportsman.

WOMEN'S CLUB NEWS The Women's club meeting last week Wednesday was book day, as scheduled, Mrs. H. G. Cooper in charge. The next meeting, January 28, is husbands' night. Mrs. C. G. Crow will be in charge. A banquet is being planned, and a snappy program that no one will want to miss. With Mrs. C. C. Crow in charge, the home economics committee of the Women's club is planning one of the best programs ever scheduled for husbands' night. There is to be a dinner at the Oriental cafe, followed by an unusually clever program. The participants in the program are: Mrs. James Smith, Blanchard, Kehr, Boyd, Anderson, Franz, Woolpert, Sylvester and Miss Hinc. Remember the date, Wednesday evening, January 28, at the Oriental cafe. For reservations call Mrs. Perigo, 2453; Mrs. Blanchard, 1272; Mrs. Smith, 6946; Mrs. Meyer, 3962; or Mrs. Crow, 2632. In the yearly calendar of the Women's club the names of two prominent members were unfortunately left off. Those with the names of the two members are: Mrs. C. H. Jenkins, Mrs. D. G. Jackson, Mrs. Mary W. Steel, Mrs. H. M. Dexter, Mrs. A. L. Anderson, Mrs. G. P. Jordan, Mrs. Roger, captain and Elizabeth Grubb, Mrs. W. E. Shay, Mrs. E. B. Cloud, Mrs. D. P. Holloway, Mrs. J. D. McLucas, Jr., Mrs. H. E. Baker, Mrs. A. W. Davis, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. D. W. Smith, Mrs. J. Kocken and Mrs. W. L. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. King, Mrs. William Eschelsky and Mrs. C. A. Richards will be hostesses to members of the Business Women's club at a dinner at the Methodist church this evening at 6.30 o'clock. Friends of members will participate in the dinner session. The Cascade Locks girls came up to Hood River last Friday night to play the first game with Hood River girls in a number of years. The Hood River line-up was as follows: Norma Young, captain and Elizabeth Grubb, forwards, Carol Gregory and Dorothy Hull; guards, Gladys Rath and Ann Wuest; side court, Verda Isabel. The game was fast and hard fought. The Cascade Locks team being larger than ours. At the end of the first half the score stood 11-8 in Hood River's favor. At the end of the game Hood River's score was 16. The Cascade Locks team was evidence of good coaching and team work throughout the game. The Hood River team plans to play Centerville, Odell, Parkdale, Cascade Locks and Mosier this season. The high school auditorium has just received a new cover, the product of Miss Ethel Swartz, of the home economic department. Friday night the Washington high school of Pendleton sent her basketball team up for a game with Hood River. The larger school outclassed the local boys, as the score of 37-12 shows. The first quarter saw first one team and second in the lead, but after that the outcome was never in doubt. Knorr and his companions to "drop them in" from the center of the floor. Saturday night the Hood River boys journeyed to Goldendale to play the Goldendale high team. The game was a close one, but the Hood River team has ever experienced and at times took on the appearance of a football game. Several of the Hood River players had to be taken out on account of injuries, although no serious ones were sustained. The game was won by Goldendale by the score of 48-14, with Radcliffe starting for Goldendale and Hathorn for Hood River. There has been a return game scheduled between the two teams to be played in the high school auditorium. With Lafayette's close refereeing all can expect to see a close and fast game.

RADIO NEWS With the new year are signs that a better understanding between different races of people here, and in their native countries across the sea, is slowly developing from radio broadcasting. Letters from listeners received at KGO indicate this. Commenting on a recent program heard in his home in Chinatown, San Francisco, Gon Sam Mee, incidentally revealed the trend of Celestial minds under the influence of radio broadcasting. "Just a few words of appreciation," he wrote, "for the sermon and concert this afternoon. Being a Chinese, I live in Chinatown where automobiles and other vehicles are so numerous Sundays that I am afraid to let my children go out upon the streets. But since I have built my radio set, they are content to stay at home. Of course they could not understand the words of the sermon, but they did know that some children were being helped, as my wife explained that part to them." The afternoon concert of the KGO Little Symphony orchestra was wonderful, as the selections were not too classical for the Celestial mind. I liked especially the "Blue Danube Waltz" and "Shubert's Sprende." If you know what the living conditions here in Chinatown are like you would know how broadcasting benefits us, especially Sundays. There are exactly 23 aerials in my block. It may interest you to know that there are more radio sets in one block of Chinatown than in any other part of San Francisco. Mr. Mue is an interpreter in the Immigration Service, office of the commissioner of immigration, Angel Island Station, San Francisco. From across the Pacific letters are coming as a result of recent KGO broadcasts to Japanese radio scientists, K. Kawahara, Anyia, Hakozaki, Hakata, Kiyuanyu, Japan, who signs himself "A Japanese Radio Bug," offers another sidelight: "Messrs. KGO Broadcasting Company: Owing to my small pocket book I could not tell this by cable. But I am very glad to inform you that my homemade 3 tube reflex set of my own design brought your program Q S A which spanned the immense water, in a twinkling time and with such immense clearness." Mr. Kawahara then gave a log, with the Japanese time, for each piece he heard, which was found to check very closely with the control room record at KGO. "I enjoy the Shanghai 60 watt station, about 600 miles away from here, on a loud speaker every night," he continued, "but it is unbelievable to have heard your station so clearly with the control room as a matter of fact, when the music was loudest, it would have been loud enough to operate a loud speaker with modest volume. Hoping you prompt answer, I remain, yours truly, K. Kawahara, a Japanese Radio Bug."

Farm Pointers Dairy herds in Oregon that produce less than 100 pounds of fat in one year give the owner only 13 cents per hour for his labor after other expenses are paid. This conclusion was reached after a three year survey was made of Oregon dairy farms by the extension service of the Oregon Agricultural College. Cows producing more than 280 pounds in one year paid the owner 43 cents per hour for his labor. Systematic milk records are kept by most successful dairymen of Oregon. These records show up the low producers which may be disposed of. Oregon celery growers were misinformed when inadvertently told that the experiment station says there is "a" certain cure for heart rot or other diseases, instead of "no" certain cure as was intended. Unlike newspaper men who lay their ailments to the devil, news service men have no delusions and no alibis—they did it. So while spraying with Bordeaux mixture may not be depended on as a sure cure, it is believed by the station to be beneficial even though not enough to hold the disease in check. Since it is chiefly the old leaves, trimmings and left over plants that carry the disease through the winter these should be avoided by planting on soil that has not been in celery for one or two years. Logan or other berry plants set seven feet apart in seven-foot rows run 888 plants to the acre. To find the number at different spaces apart the experiment station announces the following plan: Multiply the distance between rows by the distance apart of the plants in the row, and divide the product into 43,560, number of square feet in an acre. The 888 plants are the quotient of 43,560 divided by 7 times 7, or 49.

Fire Official to Talk Deputy State Fire Marshal Will Lester, of Portland, will be the guest of the Tuesday Lunch club at the Washona hotel next Tuesday, when he will give a talk on fire prevention. Fire Marshal Morgan arranged for the meeting. Robert Frey returned last week from a Portland government hospital. Mr. Frey, who suffered from gas poisoning during the great war, is much better.
