MOSIER

E. A. Race went to Portland Tuesday, where he spent several days. Mrs. S. D. Fisher, of Hood River, was in town on business Tuesday. C. A. Hage was in Hood River Monday. Mrs. Fred Evans was in Hood River Tuesday. There was a slide west of town on the railroad track Tuesday. It was cleared away in time to let the trains through on time.

Mrs. James Cherry and daughter, Mary, were Hood River visitors last Thursday. John Fields, of Rowena, was in Mosier Friday. He was on his way home from a visit in Tennessee. Robt. Scarce spent several days in Portland the last of the week. Mr. Harding and Forrest Evans were in charge of the bank during his absence. C. A. Hage was a business visitor in Portland Friday. Odd Fellows attending the initiation...

"Aaron Slick From Punkin Creek" was staged in Odell Grange hall. It was a decided success. The actors played their parts remarkably well and the whole affair was handled without a hitch. All who attended this wonderful comedy pronounce it the greatest play ever put on in Odell. It was a "scream" from beginning to end. People laughed until their sides ached. Aaron Slick, and his "cousin" of Rosa Berry, an Oklahoma widow, under most extraordinary difficulties and the mischievous pranks of his biggs created one scene of laughter after another. The cast of characters follows: Aaron Slick, not as green as he looks, Melbera Johnson; Wilbur Merriew, a crooked speculator, Frank Dick; Clarence Green, a mysterious young man, Terry Barnes; Mrs. Rosa Berry, an Oklahoma widow, Vivian Hagen; Gladys May Merriew, a sweet young thing, Mary Kollis; Edna, Mrs. Biggs' regular tomboy; Dorothy Penberton; The Girl in Red, Vienna Annala; hotel guests.

The scenes were: Act I, Mrs. Berry's kitchen on an Oklahoma farm; Act II, a saloon later in the afternoon. Act III, A Chicago cabaret a year later. The orchestra included Will Kollis, violin; Maurice Fletcher, saxophone, and Blanche Tucker, piano. A number of people who did not see this play (and even some who did see it last Friday) have requested that the play be re-enacted. Odell high school will, therefore, present it again Friday, February 6, at the Odell Grange hall at 8 p. m. In addition there will be several new numbers on the program, clever selections that will be entertaining and interesting.

The double header basketball game scheduled to be played with White Salmon high at Odell high gymnasium Friday, February 6, will be played Saturday night, February 7, as Odell high is to present "Aaron Slick From Punkin Creek" Friday night. Miss Emily Fletcher has been coaching the girls' basketball team; she thinks the girls are in good shape for the fray. Wilbur Holman is coaching the boys' team.

Frene Ingalls and her sister, Edna, assisted in the high school program Friday night. Their guitar selections and choice vocal duets in the cabaret scene of "Aaron Slick From Punkin Creek" won applause. George Fletcher, Joe Kollis, Kenneth Malloy and Maurice Fletcher gave vocal numbers that were well received. In this same scene Mary Shute and Vienna Annala sang a duet. Lipda Edelius put on two clever, graceful dances.

The following pupils were elected delegates to attend O. A. C. Educational exposition February 21-23 at Corvallis: Terry Barnes, president of the student body; Vienna Annala, of the senior class; Cecil Dakan, junior class; Linda Udelius, sophomore class. Miss Swengel, of the faculty, will act as chaperon. This delegation is sponsored by the student body; it will make a thorough canvass of the educational exposition and give a detailed report to the student body and faculty soon after its return.

Miss Howard's cooking class made a candy sale at Grange hall last Friday night. The supply did not equal the demand; the girls sold out early. $9 were taken in. Miss Howard's girls are good candy makers as well as good cooks. It must be stated that a number of the pupils not members of the cooking class made and contributed some fine lots of candy, while others donated materials to make candy. The class is thankful for this assistance.

It seems that the scarlet fever epidemic has completed its course. There is but one case, that of a child named Hull being the unfortunate victim. This is the only case that has developed among high school students of Odell, according to official reports. We are glad that we are free from enter on various social and athletic events as public affairs.

News of Fruit Shippers. W. H. Dean, manager of the Mt. Adams Farm, Inc., has been in Portland this last week conferring with the owners regarding the property. They shipped 56 cars of Anjou pears last season, some 30 of which were handled by Sgobel & Day, and they also marketed 198 tons of Bartlett's. This property has been judged by several well posted fruit men to be the finest pear orchard in the country. It is composed of 210 acres of bearing Anjous, besides 20 acres of young Bartlett's, a large number of young Bartlett's, and the property contains almost 1,000 acres of splendid timber.

The warehouse of the Underwood Fruit & Warehouse Co. at Underwood, which was destroyed by fire last fall, has been rebuilt. Extensive plans for cold storage and increased facilities are contemplated for the coming season.

The Odell warehouse of Sgobel & Day is to be enlarged this season, as it was so crowded the past season that such business had to be turned away for lack of space. Paul McKecher, representative in considering the advisability of installing a complete packing plant, providing enough growers would be interested in having their crops packed. The firm also plans to ship cherries in car lots the coming season as black cherries sold throughout the middle west and Atlantic coast points for several seasons have brought large profits.

Pine Grove Dance Successful. The dance for the benefit of the school last Thursday evening was one of the biggest and best ever given in Pine Grove Grange hall and netted about $105 for the lunch fund. The hall was beautifully decorated with fir trees, boughs and crepe paper in the school colors. A lovely crescent moon hung from the back of the stage and provided soft moonlight for several waltzes when the hall lights were turned low. The supper, which was dainty and delicious, was served between 10 o'clock and 12 and was so refreshing the orchestra was induced to play for another hour and then the big crowd was loath to go.

The dance and supper committees wish to thank all who gave so kindly of time and talent and the visitors who attended and helped to make it such a success. Members of the dance committee were Mrs. H. L. Shoemaker, Mrs. J. R. Vannier and Mrs. H. J. Blackman; supper committee, Mrs. John Mohr and Mrs. Frank Dehman; decoration committee, Mrs. J. R. Vannier and Mrs. H. J. Blackman, and advertising, Mrs. Victor Thompson and Mrs. H. L. Shoemaker.

OREGON FURNISHES DINING CAR FOODS

Fresh green vegetables, right from the fields where they are grown, are now available to winter residents and travelers in Oregon and the west. Fresh berries, too, may be had virtually all the year round, together with many western grown fruits.

The rapid development of winter farming in Oregon, California and neighboring states now is producing a constant supply of excellent fresh green vegetables, so that such canned products practically have been eliminated from dining cars of the Southern Pacific Co.

The fact is brought to the fore in a report just issued by Allan Pollok, manager of dining cars, restaurants and railway clubs of the railroad. Favorable comment on these winter products of the west daily is made by travelers from the east on trains of the Southern Pacific, Pollok added.

Travelers served in dining cars and materially in spreading the fame of products of the west daily is made by travelers from the east on trains of the Southern Pacific, Pollok added.

Buyers for the railroad constantly are out over the territory personally searching western markets for the best products. In this connection, the fact may well be emphasized that the dining car department is entirely one of service and not of profit. The cars are operated at great expense.

At present the company is obtaining exceptionally fine cabbage and cauliflower from Oregon. The cabbage is firm, tender and sweet. Farmers in the Roseburg district have developed an excellent grade of broccolli.

In the past Utah has been noted for its tender winter celery, but this winter farmers near Portland have produced a variety of celery that is on a par with that of Utah or any other section. Pollok stated.

Apples of a uniform size are especially packed at the orchards in Oregon and California for Southern Pacific dining cars. Travelers frequently comment upon their good flavor.

Ranches in a number of favored sections of the Pacific coast are supplying winter-grown "summer" squash, new potatoes, fresh peas, lettuce, parsnips, egg plants and many other varieties of vegetables to tempt the palates of the travelers.

"In fact," Pollok stated, "during the last two years the development of winter farming in the west has made almost unbelievable strides. "And when an eastern resident eats such products in our dining cars in winter and learns they are fresh from our ranches he cannot help but wish he had a home out here and his own garden."

THE COUNCIL URGES GENERAL CLEAN-UP

The city council Monday night gave official cognizance to a clean up campaign to be waged by the Hood River fire department and the county health department. It was decided that the task of making the city presentable to the thousands of motor tourists expected to pass through over the Columbia River and Mount Hood Loop highways should be at once, and the police department, cooperating with Fire Marshal Morgan, was instructed to appeal to citizens owning vacant lots to have them cleared of rubbish and made fit for use.

The council officially set the last Monday in February as the date for starting the general clean up campaign.

The request of F. H. Blagg, section of Idlewild cemetery, for a connection with the pipeline of the municipal water system for a drinking fountain was referred to the fire and water committee.

The appeal of the Hood River Vinegar Co., the Hood River Creamery and the Apple Growers Association for lower commercial water rates was referred to the fire and water committee for investigation. City Superintendent Clark said he believed the request had merit, but he declared that so many things were involved that it would probably require the committee several months to reach definite recommendations.

Fire Marshal Morgan reported that the general conditions for fire prevention in the city were better than for the same period last year. He stated that 31 days had passed without an alarm. Seventy-seven inspections have been made this year.

C. A. Bell, accompanied by Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Bertram, appeared to the council for an appropriation of $100 for the Welfare association. The fund was granted.

An appeal of C. C. Conklin and J. M. Hatch, representing residents of west Columbia street, to engage privately in the improvement of the street, was referred to the street committee with power to act. Their appeal was supported by City Engineer Clark, who will, pursuant to the provisions of an ordinance that will be prepared, set the grade for the street.

James Stranahan was named president of the council.

Barrett P. T. Meeting Pleasant. The Barrett Parent-Teacher association held its regular meeting Tuesday night, January 27, with a good attendance. An interesting program consisting of the following numbers was given: Violin solo by C. E. Benton, accompanied by Julianne Benton; Mrs. J. R. Fordin discussed the responsibility that the rural community has for the recreation of the boys and girls; Miss Julianne Benton gave a pleasing instrumental number.

Dr. Jas. A. Fraser, of the Riverside church, gave a splendid talk on "The Home." A social hour followed and refreshments were served.
