that all voters in all districts attend the polls and cast their vote, whethe elect five directors simultaneously with passing on the school question itself. Vote for these directors, what ever may be your sentiment on the union school. You will be entitled to a choice in selection of the directors, whether you are opposed to the school or not.

The proposed mass meeting, sched uled for next Tuesday evening at of boys and girls in club work who the high school, should be an enlightening one. Attend the meeting and voice your honest convictions as to the school matter.

STREET PAVING

Hood River is presented with peculiar problem in its task of securing paved streets to connect the city with the Columbia River Highway the fund is now $7,153. Fifty students and the West Side orchards. It is have been helped prior to this year. almost as important that Twelfth street, serving the business section of the Heights, be improved as it is to eliminate the dusty, bumpy thoroughfare at the west border of town, where traffic of the Columbia River No. 25, Chi., Omaha, Kan. Highway enters the city. Circum stances have become such that the city should provide charter amendments that will enable the paving of streets that serve the general public by application of general bonded indebtedness or through general taxa- No. 2, tion.

It's tempting, we'll admit, to carry home a bunch of the wayside wildflowers that are embellishing the greening hillsides of the mid-Colum bia. But how long will they last after daily forays of hundreds? Today our annual run of smelt and the springtime blooming of the early annuals form a lure in Oregon. W may lose them by our careless greediness, however. Not a half century ago dwellers in the Mississippi valley saw migrations of wild pigeons, the flocks so dense as to blot out the suns shine. Today this species of pigeon is extinct.

Do not worry about the frosts of sinity. Small piped is will be preserved in the past week. Indeed, it will be piped is the piped is th well for them to continue for a time. It is better to have them now, re tarding the swelling of the apple buds, than after the fruit trees have bloomed.

A worthy tribute was paid by Judge Fred W. Wilson last Sunday afternoon at The Dalles to Malcolm Moody, ex-congressman, whose funeral services were held on that date. Mr. Moody had taken a big part in the development of the great eastern Oregon country.

HOW BANKERS HELP Seventeen students are se an education in the Georgia State Col lege of Agriculture through financial aid which the State Bankers Asso tion is giving. In 1923 the Ase tion increased, its annual dues so as to contribute toward the education could not otherwise receive a higher education. This genr, therefore, $1,000 was put into a trust fund with the College to be loaned to students who need help. It was pinced in what is known as the "Ex-President's Fund," a fund which has been receiving voluntary contributions from the retiring presidents of the Bankers Association since 1915. In amount O.W.
