(By Gordon G. Brown) Word has just been received by th writer that considerable winter in jury on red raspberries has been prevprominent authority in that section is quoted as saying that this variety the buds have been killed to a large extent. This is also true with Evergreen blackberries.

Hood River appears to have been rather fortunate as far as raspherries are concerned. The indications are now for a good crop and growers are urged to devote their best efforts on cultural practices, as there is reason to believe that prices will be relatively high. The writer has previously urged that suitable fertilization be employed. Those who have neglected this feature should attend to this at once. The ground should be put in such shape as will enable the grower to maintain a deep dust mulch during the season. Growers are advised to

The spring application of bordeaux is not satisfactory for the clean up of anthracnose in a badly affected Oregon orchard. A new spray program by the Oregon experiment station advises bordeaux mixture added to the July codling moth spray in such cases. Fall spraying is no longer recommended for this disease because of weather conditions at that time of the year, which favor infection and interfere with spraying.

Business Stationery

A business organization is judged to no small extent away from home by the character of its stationery. A neat letterhead carries a favorable impression. Sloppy stationery may create an impression that will hurt your business.

Many Hood River Valley Orchardists, among the most progressive farmers on the globe, have their letterheads and envelopes printed as regularly as business institutions of the city. Once used they are found to be indispensable. In the past few weeks we have printed stationery for crchardists and in every instance we have won a pleased customer.

How is your stationery?

We will be glad to have orchardist or business man call. Perhaps you have an idea as to some form for your ranch or business house and would like to have us help you work it out.

Come in, sit down and let's talk it over and then lay out a draft of your stationery form.
