Outside Mechanics

WHEN this community crowds the major part of its building program into a few months it becomes necessary to bring in mechanics from Portland or other points to handle it. The money they earn is taken away with them and the community gets little in return. The same amount of construction could be handled entirely by local labor if the work started earlier in the spring. Then the money would be in the hands of local taxpayers and would be spent in our own community. Let's start our work now and give local labor a fair chance.

FINANCE CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED

Representative Citizens of the Community Back Movement for Securing Adequate Scout Facilities

As an outgrowth of the Mid-Columbia Boy Scout Council, held at The Dalles March 30, which elected Truman Butler president, and which was attended by a number of Hood River valley men there was formed last week the Hood River County Boy Scout Council. This council is made up of men representing all sections of the valley and includes: Truman Butler, Dr. V. R. Abraham, R. B. Perigo, E. E. Lage, Rev. W. O. Livingston, S. L. Banks, D. L. Pierson, W. L. Mason, Rev. A. F. Lacy, P. A. Olinsted, A. B. Bennett, K. D. Peterson, Rev. B. A. Hutchinson, H. G. Keeney, E. R. Moller, A. T. Case, Rev. J. A. Frazer, C. E. Miller, Don Nunemaker, A. A. Hukari, Dr. H. D. W. Pines, Victor O. Follenius, A. B. Casb, G. A. Olinsted, Rev. L. E. Miller, E. O. Blanchard, Rev. W. N. Byars and I. R. Acheson.

The executive committee of the council consists of: Dr. V. R. Abraham, chairman; P. A. Olinsted, vice chairman; H. E. Perigo, secretary; treasurer, and E. E. Lage and S. L. Banks.

A group of men representative of the civic and commercial life have themselves individually and collectively to see that an adequate Boy Scout development program is worked out for Hood River valley and successfully carried through to completion.

Hood River has been exceedingly fortunate in having Albert T. Case and Victor O. Follenius conduct a large share of the Boy Scout work, but the pressure of responsibility has so vital and growing a movement and scouting has become too heavy for these volunteers. As a result The Dalles Boy Scout Council and the Hood River County Boy Scout Council will endeavor to raise enough funds to jointly employ a Scout executive specialist to do certain things which are absolutely imperative if the insistent demands of present and many more prospective Scouts throughout the valley are met.

Not one cent of this fund will go to building costs as the Scouts use building equipments already available. Not one cent goes to Scoutmasters and other leaders who give much time and effort to this work. Nor is the money being sought for an outside organization coming in but rather for making available a method, a program for the entire community to use within limits to help bring out the good in its own boys.

This executive specialist will make available a service which will improve the quality of what the boy gets as well as help the man get it done. This will result in every community in the valley through the better training of Scoutmasters, troop committees, patrol leaders and series including specific knowledge of boy nature; through the individual leaders working deliberately toward specific objectives with the best methods for realizing these being made available, and through a standardization of instruction and testing.

The Scout executive will find and train and use and keep Scoutmasters and other leaders who give much time and safe camping privileges and all needed council or valley-wide equipment. This needed service will bring about the largest possible number of boys of Scout age committed to the Scout cause and subjected to the benefits of the Scout movement for character development and citizenship training. It will continuously interpret the Scout movement and what it does for our boys and community through an adequate program of publicity.

The bulk of crime in the United States is committed by minors. But it is the consensus of opinion of judges of juvenile courts that Boy Scouts never get into their courts. When you take to this Scout movement you give out an "insurance policy" for right conduct and community citizenship.

This development program of the Boy Scouts is the spiritual answer to Hood River valley's great $365,000 bridge stock issue and $285,000 highway bond issues. Surely there's $2000 for character building of boys and young men!

This Boy Scout program is the greatest and most far reaching project before the entire Hood River valley today. The city that does not regard its boys and young men as its greatest asset, is apt to find them its largest liability. The tomorrow of Hood River valley rests largely on what it does for its boys and young men of today. It is the duty and privilege of every citizen to do his share in this notable enterprise.

GUIDES ARE READY TO BEGIN DRILLS

The Hood River Guides will hold their first drill at the big receiving warehouse of the Apple Growers Association next Monday night, when Sergeant-at-Arms Shoemaker, the serac, will put the rookies through their paces. The Guides, this city's new booster club, the active membership of which will form a marching body 50 strong for participation in the Portland Rose Festival and other high state festivals, at a meeting Monday night adopted a unique badge, which will carry an outline reproduction of Mount Hood with Lost Lake in the foreground, the name of the member and a small apple underneath. These badges will be worn by active and associate guides in order to identify them while at home and form a corps of citizens ready at all times to give authentic information to the thousands of tourists expected in the valley this season.

The active Guides will be measured in a few days for unique Swiss Alpine costumes, which will form their

APPLE BLOSSOM IS VERY NEAR

C. M. T. C. BOOSTED AT THE LUNCH CLUB

The Citizens' Military Training Camp, to be held the coming summer at Camp Lewis, was given a boost Tuesday by Dr. V. R. Abraham at the weekly meeting of the Lunch Club, held at the First Baptist church. Dr. Abraham, who holds the rank of colonel in the medical reserve corps, urged parents with boys over 17 years old to give the camp serious consideration. He cited that the training offered is ideal in citizenship building; Carroll M. Hurlburt, a major in the reserve corps and captain of Company O. D. N. G., gave the military training camp the highest recommendation.

Dr. Abraham also emphasized the benefits Hood River will receive from a campaign to be launched next week for subscribing a fund of $2500 which will be utilized in joining with The Dalles in employing a full time paid Boy Scout director for Hood River and Wasco counties. A mid-Columbia Boy Scout Council was recently organized at The Dalles, with Truman Butler as president.

The business and professional men forming the lunch club will meet next week at the municipal auto park with C. O. Huchel, park master, as chairman of the day. The Women's Relief Corps will furnish the luncheon.

PYTHIAN CONVENTION SUCCESSFUL

Tuesday night was Knights of Pythias night in Hood River, and more than 200 members of the great fraternal order assembled from all parts of Eastern, Wasco and Hood River counties to participate in the annual convention of the district of Oregon, comprised of these counties, all evening at the Pythian hall. The convention opened with a prayer and bearing the Pythian crest of arms, assembled in front of the local Pythian hall, when with the Hood River Pythian band leading, they marched to the parlors of the Methodist church where the local Pythian sisters served a sumptuous chicken dinner.

Grand officers here for the event were Jay Upton, grand chancellor; and A. W. Meyer, district grand chancellor. The Meyer silver cup was won by The Dalles lodge by 1 1/2 per cent. The convention, on which F. G. Cox has spent a great deal of time, was declared the best ever held in the district, and Grand Chancellor Upton declared the Pythian district conventions are the best in the state.

GRADUATING CLASS SMALLER THIS YEAR

The graduating class of the Hood River high school this year is expected to be as large as the year preceding class of 71 of 1924. At present fewer than 80 pupils seem to be qualifying. Doubtless other names will be added to the list before leaving school, but the annual graduation exercises will not meet the regular requirements for graduation. If they are permitted to finish this year it will require special board action. The publication of this list has not been that all the names whose names are included will finish, because there are some whose work and attitude will have to change for the better or their names will not be on the final roll. A revised list will be published again about graduation time.

CANNERS PROPOSE CUCUMBER PLANT

J. H. Lake, of Liberty, McCall & Liberty, here Monday from The Dalles, announced that his company had raised plans for establishing a receiving and mailing station for cucumbers, if sufficient acreage can be signed by growers. The cucumbers will be utilized in making pickles at The Dalles plant of the company.

Mr. Lake, who for several years has been working to secure such a plant for Hood River, says the local soil and climate are ideal for production of a picking cucumber. He will endeavor to secure plantings of 50 to 100 acres, furnishing growers with seed. It is expected that within the city limits he can be turned to produce cucumbers with cucumbers.
