STUDENTS' MUSICAL PERFORMANCES GOOD

The high school auditorium was filled to capacity last Friday evening when the Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club were presented, the former in a one-act cantata and the latter in a two-act operetta.

The girls were very colorful, dressed in shepherdess' costumes and each of the sheaths carrying a crook. The leading roles were taken by the following: "The Old Sleeping Woman," the title of the cantata, Mildred Shepard, soprano; a fairy, Werdine Isbell, soprano; Celia, Virginia Vaughan, soprano; Phyllis, Mabel Montgomery; Doris, Harriett Fuller, and Daphne, Lois Jean Sinclair.

The boys presented Captain Vander Hum or "The Rollicking Tars." Prince Koberg portrayed admirably the part of the bold pirate, who during a part of the action disguised himself as a Mrs. Brown, enamored Dick Brae, a tenor, Tom Clarke, who was coxswain of the captain's gig. The solos of young Clarke and Harry Weber, a baritone, were exceedingly good.

Others who took leading roles in the operetta were: Lee Garrett, who played the part of Dick Spray; Fred Hillis, Ed. Naumes, Frank Pierson, George Castner, Gordon Manser and Tom Johnson.

Both vehicles were directed by Mrs. C. H. Heaney. Mrs. Heaney had also trained the high school orchestra, the members of which gave between act numbers and rendered an admirable accompaniment. Mrs. Pearl Hollingsworth accompanied the singers on the piano.

The stage of the boys and girls were lively and they executed drills and dances with spirit. Clifton Emmel was encored when he gave a piano selection from Liszt. Miss Leona Van Allen gave specialty dances that won hearty applause.

"A Comrade Rides Ahead"

"Time brings not death, it brings but changes
I know he rides but rides afar—
Today some other planet ranges
And camps tonight upon a star
Where all his other comrades are.

"For there were those who rode before him
As there are these he leaves behind;
Altho' from us, time's changes bore him
Out there our comrade still will find
The kinship of the comrade mind.

"Time brings us change and leaves us fretting,
We weep when every comrade goes—
Perhaps too much, perhaps forgetting
That over yonder there are those
To whom he comes and whom he knows.

"I would not hold our loss too lightly:
God knows, and He, how deep the pain
But, friends, I see still shining brightly—
The brightest link in all our chain
That links us with a new domain.

"For this I sever, because believing—
Time breaks no circle such as this.
However hurt, however grieving,
However much a friend we miss
Between the worlds is no abyss.

"For friendship binds the worlds together—
World over there, world over here,
From earth to Heaven is the tether
That brings the earth and Heaven near
And makes them both a bit more dear.

"Not weaker now our chain, but stronger
In all our loss and all our ill
We now shall look a little longer—
At every star above the hill
And think of him, and have him still.

"Whatever vales we yet may wander,
What sorrow come, what tempest blow
We have a friend, a friend out yonder
To greet us when we have to go
Out yonder, someone that we know.

"To all eternity he binds us,
He links the planet and the star;
He rides ahead, the trail he finds us
And where he is, and where we are
Will never seem again so far."

Roberts Named to A. G. A. Board

The Apple Growers Association announced Saturday that C. T. Roberts had defeated Dr. J. D. Guttery for the 11th place on the directorate of the cooperative sales agency. Both are East Side orchardists. Ten directors were named last Saturday. The candidates passed on at the extra poll failed to receive a majority of votes at the first election.

Paul Keir Badly Shaken by Fall

Paul Keir, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Keir, had a narrow escape Friday when thrown from his pony. Out for an early morning canter young Keir was riding at a swift gait down Columbia street. Instead of proceeding straight down the street, as young Keir intended, the pony, when he reached an intersecting street where his stable is located, made the right angle turn suddenly. The young rider went straight ahead.

Young Keir missed striking a telephone by two feet. Although he landed on a small grass plot he was knocked unconscious. His injuries were limited to a bad jarring and a painfully bruised chin.

SANFORD & MILLS HAVE CLEVER CAT

Sanford C. Mills, who keeps a lodging house here, has the cleverest cat in Hood River, if not in all the state of Oregon. Billy, as Mills calls the seven-month-old cat, which he found a weak kitten crawling along the streets. The cat, its eyes just open, was too weak to drink milk when he carried it to his rooms, and he fed it with a spoon.

But Billy today is a monster for his age. He weighs seven pounds. His partisans intimate that he must be a feline of gentlemanly blood, for he is a veritable tiger cat. Over his eyes are false eyes, markings one may find on a Royal Bengal. Indeed, his body, while darker, has the stripes of a huge cat of the jungles.

Mr. Mills and Billy are boon companions. His master says that he has not allowed Billy to play with other cats.

"He and I are partners," he says, "and he has responded admirably to my discipline."

Billy sits on a little stool at the table. He says grace before meals, and will eat only what his master offers him from a fork. He has a small pipe that he takes after the meal, holding it between his teeth, just as a man. At Mr Mills' bidding the cat will turn over, jump through his arms or follow numerous other commands. He will stand on his hind feet and box like a boy or enter zestfully into a game of ball.

Billy is, indeed, a remarkable cat. He is a refutation of the statement that cats cannot be trained to do tricks.

Treasure Peterson at Shrine Hospital

Treasure, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Peterson, is at the Shrine hospital in Portland, recovering from an operation which surgeons hope will enable her to walk without use of crutches. The girl, when a baby, suffered from an attack of infantile paralysis, which left one of her legs badly withered.

Treasure is one of the brightest, most beautiful and popular young girls of Hood River, and scores are watching hopefully for her return from the hospital cured.
