ODELL

Your correspondent noticed the following errors which in some manner crept into last week's Odell notes. Program of the Christian church Ladies' Aid Society supper and sale should have read "More than $70" instead of "More than $17." Another should have been Holman & Davis instead of Stranahan & Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Forcier are offering their furniture for sale and making preparations for leaving Odell at the close of high school in which Mr. Forcier has served as principal for the past two years. They expect to establish themselves in Eugene, where their son, Odell, may have high school and college advantages.

J. Monroe Shelley, of Eugene, who passed away last week, was an older brother of Rev. Troy Shelley. The message bearing news of his passing did not reach Rev. Shelley and his first knowledge came through Portland newspapers.

CENTRAL VALE

Mothers' Club meets today at the home of Mrs. Nels Hagen. The new president, Mrs. O. H. Hill, will take charge of the meeting. The other officers elected at the last meeting were Mrs. Earl Clark, vice president, and Mrs. H. A. Sylvester, secretary-treasurer.

The new Willow Heights sign post at the intersection of that road and the Loop Highway is very unique and attractive. On a post set in cement is a large sign on which are found the names of all the residents of that section, about 16 in number, and an arrow pointing the direction. The enterprise of the Willow Heighters is to be commended.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be next Monday night, the last Monday in the month. This will be a very worthwhile meeting, as after the business meeting Mrs. Hill will give an account of her trip to Hawaii, with pictures to illustrate the talk. There will be music, too, so the program will be worth making an effort to hear.

Mrs. J. H. Fletcher went to The Dalles last week to attend a Woman's Club meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hounsell are enjoying a new Ford sedan that was bestowed on them by Mrs. Spring.

Our community is booming this year with three new babies and two brides so far, and wedding bells will soon be ringing again in our midst. William Gilkerson, assisted by his father and brother, is remodeling the house on the F. E. Gilkerson orchard place preparatory to bringing his bride there soon.

DEE

Though it was one of the most inclement days of the season, the silver tea held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. A. Collins was well attended and a success. The rooms were literally decorated with cherry blossoms and tulips. Miss G. G. Stabler and Miss Sophie DuBath, attired in gorgeous Japanese costumes, served tea, and Mrs. E. H. Greene presided over the coffee urn. A neat little sum was realized for the Community Club.

A number of the residents of the community attended the funeral of C. A. Bell last Friday. Mr. Bell had a host of friends in Dee, who feel in his death a personal loss.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hazeltine delightfully entertained the Fortnightly Club Saturday night. There were cards and music until midnight, then most delicious refreshments and visiting till some time later.

Little Billy Collins is suffering from an abscess on the back of his eyeball, receiving it as the result of the flu. Easter when some of the little fellows were out on a hike, Billy was hit in the eye with a rock. He attended school Monday of last week, but grew worse constantly until he was operated on last Monday. Last reports were that he was well on the way to recovery with no serious results.

The semi-annual meeting of the Presbytery of Pendleton met at the Upper Valley Community church last Thursday and Friday. Twenty-one delegates were registered. Rev. G. H. Wilbur, Hood River, was elected moderator. Considerable business of importance was transacted. Reports given by the pastors showed the church to be in a healthy condition. Allen Patawa, a Umatilla Indian, was accepted as a candidate for the ministry and commissioned to work under the supervision of Rev. J. M. Cornelison on the reservation at Tutilla. He sang several hymns in his native tongue during the Presbytery session. Dr. J. A. Fraser, Riverside church, gave the principal address Thursday. The ladies of the Parkdale church served meals at the manse to all delegates. The visiting ministers were taken for a trip up the Loop Highway Thursday afternoon. Mr. Wilbur was commissioned to represent the Presbytery at the national assembly at Columbus, O., in May. The meeting was declared to be the most successful held in many years and the local church was heartily thanked for the arrangements made for the entertainment of the visiting clergy and laity.

Carrie Weaver Culbertson was born November 30, 1849 in Pennsylvania. She took up residence in Tacoma, Wash., in 1885 and taught in the high school there for 25 years, giving up her position upon her marriage to Edward Culbertson. After a few years in Washington, Pa., the family moved to Hood River county. She passed away at the home of her stepson, T. B. Culbertson April 18, after a very brief illness, aged 75 years, 4 months and 18 days. She was a woman of many excellent qualities, taking a keen interest in every good movement. She was especially interested in the church. Her passing is deeply regretted by all who knew her. The funeral service was held in the Community church, Rev. R. A. Hutchinson officiating. Interment followed in the local cemetery.

The service in the church Sunday morning will be of special interest. The members of the Odd Fellow lodge will attend in a body. You will enjoy the music and the pastor's message. The service will commence punctually at 11 o'clock. The forum and Sunday school will meet at the usual hour. Young people's meeting at 7 o'clock. Preaching in the Mt. Hood church at 8 o'clock. Come and bring the family.

The annual firemen's ball was well patronized Friday evening. The unannounced appearance of a county officer made it necessary for three Hood River men to leave before the ball was over.

Dan Jordan is the proud possessor of a new sedan.

Mrs. Warren J. Gibbs was elected delegate at the last meeting of the Rebekah lodge to the Rebekah Assembly which meets in Ashland in May.

Parkdale has been assigned a quota of $200 to raise toward the maintenance of the Boy Scout executive. If you are interested see W. L. Mason, H. G. Keeney or R. A. Hutchinson.

V. C. Follenius gave an address in the church here Sunday morning on "The Claims of Youth." It was greatly enjoyed.

Clyde Basler had the misfortune to break both bones in his right arm near the wrist Sunday afternoon. And it's baseball season, which adds to Clyde's misfortune!

The citizens of Upper Valley are considering the erection of a new high school building. The present building is altogether inadequate and an increased enrollment next year will bring about a difficult situation. It is suggested that steps be taken immediately to erect the first unit consisting of two class rooms and a gymnasium and community auditorium. For a number of years there has been a growing demand for a suitable place for recreational activities and a meeting will be called in the near future to discuss the matter. The present building would ultimately be converted into a junior high school.

SCHOOL NEWS

(Miriam Grow)

The high school baseball team went to Mosier last Friday afternoon, where they defeated the Mosier high school team by a score of 7 to 1. The Moro team was defeated at Moro last Saturday, when Hood River high school took the game with a score of 16 to 2. The game was played in a drizzling rain and the field was very slow. However, Coach Follenius was well pleased with the showing, which gave the boys fine practice before this week's game with The Dalles.

The annual spring classic in athletics will take place on Gibson field Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when the high school baseball team, organized and coached by V. C. Follenius, will meet The Dalles aggregation. The advertising department has put out unique tickets, bearing the slogan, "I helped our team beat The Dalles." Because the student body athletic fund was exhausted by football and by the little made in basketball, the baseball squad is attempting to make and pay its way. Although season tickets will be good at this game, scores of students and others also are buying the special ticket in order to help baseball out financially.

The seniors have completed their poetry collection and have started work on the casts for the one-act plays to be used as the senior plays Friday night, May 15.

The Mascot staff, under the direction of Ernest McKittrick, editor-in-chief, is making strenuous efforts this week to complete all of their material and have it ready for the printers. Many cuts have been received from the engravers and practically all of the material has been edited. The Mascot is promised the public, this year, some time before the close of school, probably May 29.

Some of the important dates between now and the close of school are the following: May 1, county teachers' institute, afternoon and evening; May 8, junior class picture show, high school auditorium, afternoon and evening; May 15, senior class plays, high school auditorium; May 20, senior class day, afternoon, high school auditorium, and annual junior-senior prom in the evening at the Columbia Gorge hotel; Sunday, May 31, baccalaureate exercises; Thursday, June 4, 8 o'clock, commencement, high school auditorium; Friday morning, June 5, 9 o'clock, final assembly, report cards and junior hi graduating exercises.

Last Friday A. L. McCauley, of the commercial department, took two typewriting teams to the state contest at Corvallis. The senior team was composed of Geraldine Sosey and Lois Jean Sinclair. The junior team was made up of Virginia Miller and Marion Baldwin. Our contestants, however, failed to make a place.

Edward A. Ruby, of Whitman College, spoke to the senior class Tuesday afternoon.

Last Friday the seniors were told of the advantages of the Oregon Agricultural College by Mrs. Blasier, of the teachers training department.

All city schools observed the 150th anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord in appropriate exercises the first part of the week. The program suggested by Supt. Churchill was followed out. In the high school, at the regular Tuesday morning assembly, Prin. Gibson presented the high school orchestra in a double number followed by the Girls' Glee club, both of which were directed by Mrs. Henney. At Prin. Gibson's invitation, Arthur Cannon, of the junior high school, recited Patrick Henry's oration on "Give me liberty or give me death." Judge Wilson, of The Dalles, was then introduced, who who gave an inspiring patriotic address. The program closed by the students singing the high school song, "There's a Blue, Blue River Winding," to the tune of "Long, Long Trail."

The names of Miss Harriett Fuller and Edwin Mitchell should have been added to the list of students who will graduate this year.

Mrs. H. G. Cooper substituted during the absence of Mrs. Harriett Blashfield and Mr. Barnett last week.

Room 2 had the privilege of listening to a short talk on the history of money, by I. R. Acheson last Friday morning.

Junior hi defeated Oak Grove Friday afternoon, 14 to 5. Garland Osborne made the lone home run of the game. Wayne Mendenhall umpired.

An assembly was held during the eighth period Monday to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Battles of Lexington and Concord. The opening song was "America," followed by the pledge to the Flag. Mr. Barnett read Governor Pierce's proclamation on the celebration of the 150th anniversary of the Battle of Lexington. The singing of "America the Beautiful" was followed by Laureen Peck's recitation, "Concord Hymn," and the "Song of Marion's Men" by Ronald Dreske. Basketball letters were given to Garland Osborne, Oscar Olsen, Kenneth Kent, Robert Goin, Russell Acheson, Ronald Ingalls and Max Calandra. Stars were given to G. Osborne, O. Olsen, R. Goin, R. Acheson, R. Ingalls, M. Calandra, C. Day, R. Hathhorn, R. Dreske and E. Sagers. The singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" closed the program.

SPRAY RECOMMENDED FOR PEAR GROWERS

(By Leroy Childs)

Throughout the Lower Valley pears will be in a condition to receive the calyx spray sometime this week. This should be applied as soon as the petals have fallen and should consist of the following application: Atomic sulphur, 12-100; arsenate of lead, 4-100.

A new material now being used as a substitute for the atomic sulphur is the so-called dry-mix lime and sulphur, a finely divided sulphur mixed with hydrated lime and caseinate spreader. This should also be used at the rate of 12 pounds to the 100 gallons of water along with the arsenate. This combination is recommended for the purpose of controlling fruit worms, leaf roller, mildew, which causes a russeting on the fruit, and pear scab.

The calyx spray for apples will probably not be due for another week or ten days in the case of the earlier varieties in the lower elevations.

Owing to the fact that the crop does not appear to be heavy, doubtless there will be present in the various orchards some trees with a very light bloom and upon which only a little fruit will develop. Under conditions of this sort, we have observed that the codling moth usually gives more trouble than is true where the crop is heavy. This is due to two reasons: First, growers are inclined to skip or to spray only for fruit on trees which are lightly loaded, resulting in a poor coverage of such fruits that are present; second, the codling moth, which to a large extent seeks out fruit about which to deposit eggs, concentrates on the scattered crop, and as a result, the chances of worm entrance on a small crop is greater than is true where the crop is heavy. Because of this situation, growers should take extra precautions with their spraying practices. The calyx spray has proven to be an extremely important spray in handling the codling moth. Good control of the first brood of worms very materially assists in eliminating trouble in spraying, this should be done late in the season rather than in the early applications.

Double strength lead is recommended as it is of material assistance in controlling moderate infestations of the leaf roller and is also very effective in controlling the green fruit worm and incidentally supplies plenty of poison for the codling moth. Where mildew has been a factor, lime sulphur at the rate of 1-35 is recommended which will also assist in preventing any development in the case of apple scab. This spray should be applied as soon as the majority of the petals have fallen from the blossoms.

Keir Installs Frigidaire

A. S. Keir has had installed an electrical refrigeration system, known as "Frigidaire," at his soda fountain this week. The equipment will furnish refrigeration for 40 gallons of ice cream and supply the fountain with ice. The unique little electrical engine is placed under the floor beneath the fountain.

The equipment was installed by W. A. McClurg, of Portland. The larger soda fountains in metropolitan points are now equipped with such apparatus, it is stated.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The state of Ohio does not allow drinking scenes in the movies. Scenes which include flaunting of whiskey flasks or reflect upon prohibition will be "cut" by order of the governor, and when wealth is made to appear an excuse for indulgence in intoxicants, that part of the film is being ordered deleted. Two women constitute the board of censorship for the state of Ohio.

In the matter of reference to the narcotics or their illegal distribution and sale, the censors are "using the shears," though there has been no ruling in the matter. They declare that a policy they follow closely is to eliminate stories and scenes that make attractive crime, drunkenness and gambling, and any which show unnatural practices dangerous to social morality.
