WHITE SALMON

Cooperative weather report, Burdoin Heights station, for the 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Saturday: Maximum temperature 64; minimum 35; partly cloudy, calm; light showers prevailed during the week; no damage by frost reported.

The story carrying the death of Mrs. Vern C. Zimmerman by the Glacier reporter in last week's issue was brought out to Burdoin by three different parties from White Salmon, and was sent to Hood River before a thorough investigation could be made. Mrs. Zimmerman was interviewed Friday morning and made a vigorous denial of the report. As Mark Twain once wrote: "greatly exaggerated." Two White Salmon anglers almost ran down a fine buck deer a week ago Friday while negotiating the Trout Lake road enroute to Guler. The animal ran across the road about five rods ahead of the machine and when the powerful headlights of the auto struck him the sight was one to be remembered. Drivers of the Wyers Stage line reported seeing many of these animals in the brush and timber between Camp 5 and Trout Lake. The snow between Lava cave and Goose Lake is deep, and the deer have not, as yet, gone up into the foot hills of Mount Adams. Two husky anglers, who were fishing in Trout Lake Sunday, tried to get to Big Goose Lake a week ago, but could not get through. They stated that snow drifts from 15 to 20 feet in depth were encountered. It is thought that the trip can be made in about three weeks, providing the forest service will permit cars on the roads in the reserve. The distance from Guler to Big Goose Lake is 14 miles, and it would not pay to pack in for the fishing unless anglers are equipped for sleeping in the snow.

Mrs. I. N. Brannan died suddenly at the family home in White Salmon Sunday, May 3, after a short illness. She was born in Michigan in 1880. She came west with her parents in 1892, and was married to Isaac N. Brannan in 1918. The family moved to White Salmon in 1919. Besides her husband, she is survived by four young children and a mother, Mrs. Katharine Birtzinger, and six sisters, Mrs. D. W. Minger, also Marie and Elizabeth, of Chehalis, Wash.; Mrs. H. Brelow, of Napavine, and Mrs. R. L. Hardman, of Valdez, Alaska. Services and interment were held here Tuesday.

The first ripe strawberries of the White Salmon district were picked Tuesday of last week by J. B. Wooley, who has charge of the berry patch on the McKeeher place at the foot of Bald mountain. The prospect for a bumper crop throughout the White Salmon district is very good.

Bud Holmington, former jitney driver here, who has just completed a "drive in" service station on the old city park site near the Colburn hotel, is now running one of the most convenient stations in town. The big lot has been acquired by the enterprising gas and oil vendor for parking of cars.

D. H. Sorter, popular county game commissioner, who is in the garage business here, was arrested last week for parking cars on the street in front of his place of business. His salesman and mechanic were also placed under arrest on the same charge, including a complaint covering the driving of a repaired car around the block on a test run, said car being minus a license. Sorter has been cramped for room in his garage and no other parking space was available. Competition in the automobile business is very keen here.

C. H. Estes returned from Seattle Sunday.

Capt. and Mrs. Spencer, of Portland, are living at their ranch near Husum. The Spencer place is noted as a beauty spot. The captain has one of the most commodious log houses in the west; also his own electric power plant, using water power to run his big generator. A good sized artificial lake was stocked with trout several years ago and the enterprising Columbia river steamboat man conceived the idea of installing electric lights close to the body of water; not only to furnish light for the bathers, but to attract bugs; these came in swarms and the electric bulbs were so close to the water that the trout would eat them.

Edith Klau, a former employee of the White Salmon hotel, has just returned from a trip to Germany.

Anglers from White Salmon report good catches being made in Major creek. Major creek canyon is very deep and the going is hard, but it is well worth the effort to fish down from the head waters, negotiating the Miller falls on a rope, unless one wishes to risk climbing up the steep bank to get around them. It is possible to drop over the cliff by sliding down a 75-foot tree, which has limbs projecting far enough to grasp.

Mrs. Anni Zywan and Mrs. Earl Wagnere visited Hood River Tuesday.

Among Goldendale people at the ball game here Sunday, May 3, were Omas, Kayser, A. C. Kesthafer, Robert Sunderland and Dr. Collins. Goldendale was defeated by the local team 4 to 2.

The paving project (Jewett avenue) has struck a snag, the opposition wishing a definite sewer system before paying is undertaken.

The Red Fir Lumber Co., operating five miles north of Husum, has purchased a large tract of timber from the Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co., estimated stumpage about 20 million feet, and will erect a new saw mill two miles north of its present mill. The Red Fir people have also purchased the old Ackley-Downs mill on Burdoin mountain from Crowe Bros. and will move the equipment to the new location during the month. The new mill will have a capacity of 20,000 feet per day.

Special Mothers' Day services were held at the Methodist church Sunday.

Groves who have good thermometers have been requested to cooperate with the horticultural inspectors in keeping a record of the evening temperatures in order to time the application of the first cover spray. Watch for Mornings.
