brother, John Huff, of Parkdale. Mrs. Rita had not seen her sister in 17 years. F. L. Manser has completed retouching the big Hood River valley plow on display at the Hood River Garage. The plow is creating a great deal of attention among tourists. It is worth an inspection by all local residents.

BUSINESS WOMEN HEAR OF ROSARIA

Members of the Hood River Business Women's club Wednesday night last week heard the story of the Rosaria pagans as it is being produced this week in Portland, from the lips of Herbert C. Outburt, publicity manager of the Portland Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Outburt was the chief speaker at a dinner given at the Columbia George Hotel, Mrs. Susan Lynn, assisted by Miss Estelle Gordon, Miss May Davidson and Mrs. Orva Wiley, was hostess at the pleasant party.

LOOP HIGHWAY TO BE OPEN SUNDAY

The Mount Hood Loop highway will be open Sunday. This was the word given by Col. E. Stelshauer, Upper Valley commission member of a committee organized to stage the annual Parkdale anniversary festival, brought here Tuesday night from Portland, where he had gone to confer with officials of the bureau of public roads.

CANNING COMPANY BUSY WITH BERRIES

One of the busiest places in Hood River this week, where strawberries are rolling in from valley ranches in destitute bulk, is the Hood River Canning Co., where a crew of 155 girls and women and a score of men are preparing the luscious fruit destined for final consumption in all parts of the world.

ACT OF KINDNESS IS APPRECIATED

Mrs. C. A. Bell, of the Hood River Welfare association, charitable organization, who recently joined City Marshall Hart and Sheriff Edick in raising sufficient funds for sending Ethel Bels, girl about 20 years old, to her foster mother, Mrs. Fred W. Cameron, of Los Angeles, has just received a letter of thanks from the latter.

The wedding of Curtis E. Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gould, of Odell, and Miss Lona Sims, of Corvallis, was solemnized Tuesday noon at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. Sims, at Corvallis.

SOVIET WHITEHEAD

Monday afternoon, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Amanda D. Whitehead, Miss Marjorie Whitehead became the bride of George I. Mowery. Dr. James A. Fraser, pastor of Riverside church, officiated.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGES

Twenty years ago the city had an ordinance that regulated the solicitation of hotel runners at the railway passenger station. Today the city council has been approached to repeal the old ordinance and apply it to employees of automobile parks.

FINN, FURS AND FEATHERS

After spending two nights at the Mount Hood hotel a carrier pigeon has left for parts unknown. The bird appeared suddenly on a veranda of the hotel, apparently utterly spent. Members of the staff cared for it. After eating a few morsels and drinking water, it cuddled down in a corner and slept. The hotel folk did not expect to see the pigeon again after it left after its first night at the hotel, but it made itself at home there about dusk the second day.

Arvo Hukari was in the Wenatchee district last week. He says that the climate on the apple crop there is steadily declining. The local camp of Woodmen of the World will give a social and dance at Woodmen's hall this evening. All members and their friends are invited to attend.

Three Hood River students have been appointed to the Greater O. A. C. council as a special committee to look after the interests in Hood River for the coming year. They are Elizabeth Kelly, chairman, Richard Ford, and Kathleen Carlos. The Greater O. A. C. council is composed of a chairman and two other representatives from every important town in the state. It organized to carry out the work of the Greater O. A. C. committee in the various parts of the college among students and alumni.

Scouts Enjoy Trip to Post Canyon. Last Tuesday night the Scouts of Troop No. 4 enjoyed a pleasant overnight camp in Post canyon. Several of them passed Scout test, and those who did not go out for that purpose learned the fundamentals of camping. "It had not been for the moonlight," says Scoutmaster Anderson, who was in charge, "nothing could have been better."

Mr. Anderson was assisted by N. Wilson, of Canada, who served as an instructor with a Canadian troop for over six years. While connected with the Scouts in Canada he was awarded six special merit badges for the success he attained in the principles of scouting. "Although there is a new troop, we hope to have the best drilled and most thoroughly trained group of Scouts in Hood River." This is the combined sentiment of both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Anderson.

W. M. Dickerson Here. W. M. Dickerson, San Francisco representative of the Apple Growers Association, is here on a vacation. Mr. Dickerson for number of years has been engaged in popularizing the Hood River apple in the Bay district. His efforts have been successful, and today it is declared the Oregon fruit is the most popular in all the nation. The best distribution of apples there has gained rapidly. Mr. Dickerson will go on his annual fishing trip to the Canadian Rockies before returning south.
