

"I'd as soon turn in my dog"

"Turn her in? Why should I? That old Ford is as good as she ever was. Since I switched to that new Zerolene 'F' for Fords she runs like a clock and seems to have a bit more power too."

Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to all the bearings requiring lubrication—especially the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls that are frequently oil-starved when an unsuitable lubricant is used.

It deposits a minimum of carbon, and because it lubricates better, enables the engine to develop a considerable margin of power over and above what you're accustomed to expect from your Ford.

And it costs not more, but less than most of the special Ford oils now on the market.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

Lambia river Sunday. The mighty fish put up a battle royal and it took Brown just 40 minutes to land it.

O. B. Ramey, former land holder and a director in the Star Fruit Co., was in Corvallis on business last week.

Wood & Bacon are operating new trucks in the logging industry here. These logs are being cut on Sycamore mountain and are being dumped into the Columbia river to be made up into rafts for the Wind River Lumber Co. at Cascade Locks.

Orchardists and others on the mountain are complaining bitterly on account of the severe damage to their roads, caused by overloading the big trucks. Positively nothing has been done by the county commissioners to regulate this traffic and the taxpayers have no voice in the matter, it seems.

Evan Childs Post, American Legion, is formulating plans for a Fourth of July celebration here. There will be sports and races in the morning, a baseball game in the afternoon and a picnic during the evening.

The annual institute of teachers of Klickitat county will be held in White Salmon in September.

Prof. and Mrs. Roy Cain leave this week for Corvallis, Ore., where they will attend summer school.

Prof. E. M. Smith has gone to Eugene, Ore., and Mrs. Smith to Monmouth, Ore., to attend summer school.

The reservoirs of White Salmon are leaking and holding only 50 per cent of their capacity, and steps are being taken to repair them at once. Steps have also been taken down the bluff to the North Bank highway. Three hundred of them used to serve Hood River before the dam in the dam past.

It was a quick way to get to the river in the old days and was a real convenience. It has been stated that the stairway was hurting the jitney business, so repairs have never been made; neither have the shabby remaining two-thirds been condemned and are now being used by the most adventuresome.

June 24 has been set for a big picnic to be given by the local American Legion Post and Legion Auxiliary on the Buck creek camp ground on the shores of Northwestern lake. Supper will be served at 7 p. m., with games, etc., to follow immediately after.

Will Bessans suffered a badly mangled big toe recently when a peave handled by Al Wilke accidentally struck the member. Bill is hobbling around and shows no signs of being "peavie" over his misfortune. He is the Oregonian representative here.

Mayor Geo. C. Gladden has gladdened the hearts of the people by stating that a truck will be put in service to pick old rubber, tin cans, etc., early this week. The dumping grounds have been under water for some time and are now ready for Fords galore. Good chance to annex some old radiators to serve as a good ground connection for radios, if the paint is removed and the pesky things connected up in series.

The pageant scheduled for June 12 was postponed on account of Frank Fox, of Hunsu, being called east on urgent business. Fox had a prominent role in the production.

Loop Road to Open Soon The Mount Hood Loop road should be open to travel by the last Sunday of this month, according to the estimates made last week at the United States bureau of public roads. T. H. Conway, of Portland, mountaineer, returned last week from a trip over the snowbound section of the loop road.

The snow is melting rapidly, he reported. A week ago the first snow was encountered 7.5 miles east of Government Camp. At the rock crusher near White river a series of drifts aggregating 250 feet long and about 2 1/2 feet deep were encountered.

The White river bridge is in good condition. At the north fork of Iron creek a drift 100 feet long and about three feet deep was found. From there to Bennett pass the road is clear with the exception of two trees which have fallen across it.

The bulk of the snow is from Bennett pass to Hood River meadows, a distance of about two miles. In all there are about 80 feet of drifts from 12 inches to two feet deep. 150 feet of 3 1/2-foot snow and 50 feet of three-foot snow.

Mr. Conway estimates that the snow can be cleared off in another 10 days. Time is necessary for the road to dry for a short period before travel over it can be permitted.

Oiling of the loop road is a question which has assumed proportions of considerable importance. On the east side the state is oiling the section between Hood River and Parkdale. From Orient nearly to Rhododendron, on the south side, the state is completing the oiling. This leaves the section between Rhododendron to Parkdale unoled.

Heavy dust will result on this section during the summer months, according to Conway. The Rhododendron Home Owners' association has been among the leaders in the effort to secure the oiling of the remainder of the highway. One reason advanced is that if it is done at the present time the blazes in the meadows will be preserved, serving to keep the road in excellent condition. If it is allowed to remain unoled it is said that traffic will remove much of the blazes from the road with the result that later oiling will not be as efficacious.

Charivari for Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Hood River has never had a more largely attended or more enthusiastic charivari party than the Monday night for Mr. and Mrs. William Marshall, just back from their honeymoon trip to coast points.

The Hood River Guides, as they finished their drill, had word of the big party, and they at once motored in a body to the Telephone apartments, where the staff of the telephone company was already lined up with various noise making devices.

At a signal the merry-makers stormed the apartment stairs. The day made one think of Aristotle day. Finally Mr. and Mrs. Marshall came forth. Bill was hitched to a Ford roadster, and Mrs. Marshall was required to drive him thus hitched up and down the street. The guides then formed and the newlyweds were escorted down Bush street and through the business section of town. On returning all were served with ice cream and cake, and the men were regaled with fine cigars.

"Do you know where Mrs. Bartmess and I can adopt another girl?" asked Mr. Bartmess, before bidding good night to the charivari party. "We lost our last chance, as it is, but we'll try to get another. We'd like to have another."

W. E. Brown, of the North White Salmon district, and one of the most ardent fishermen in the northwest, landed a five-pound bass in the Columbia river Sunday.
