

Hood River Starter

Information, $2.00 Per Year.

WANT TO SEE THE VALLEY

Hood River valley has been on the world map for more than a decade now. Many know of it who had never seen it.

Throughout the motoring world, and that is practically all of the world today, will see the most beautiful valley, beneath the most beautiful mountains in America, face to face.

There is just one fly in the ointment. From Parkdale south and west over the forest stage of the highway the dust is getting uncomfortably thick.

THE FRUITION OF AN IDEA

Hood River Guides won cheers for themselves and fame for their home community last Friday in Portland.

Never in Hood River history has an organization had better countywide support. The marchers were composed of city and rural young men.

OUR BROTHER'S FOURTH

Will occur Saturday after next. Hood River can celebrate that day with a just pride.

OUR BROTHER'S FOURTH

It is getting so that one approaches the Monday morning papers with fear because of the reports of so many automobile accidents.

Odell is coming along as a fruit shipping center.

Never have we noted such a fine crop of June weddings as this year. The glacier joins in extending to every bride and bridegroom good wishes and felicitations.

Boost for the Hood River-White Salmon package service.

Koberg Beach will soon be open. We'll welcome it, John.

Everybody went to Parkdale last night.

Going to church Sunday? Oh the Loop!

Mr. Hood Danes to be Resumed

Val Bearson and Mont West, of Dee, have arranged to resume the popular dances at the Mt. Hood Community hall.

Thursday Holiday Day

Tomorrow will be the hottest day of the year. The government thermometer at the West Side place of Cooperative Weather Observer Jeffrey registered 95.

ROGERS KNOCKED OUT IN EIGHTH

A large crowd was present Monday night for the first of a series of boxing bouts scheduled at the Rialto theatre. In the main 10-round event, Lester, an Odell boy, knocked Rogers, Dee lad, out in the eighth round.

FINS, FURS, FEATHERS

Bitten Sunday, while fishing with a party on Badger creek, east of Mount Hood, O. C. Dean did not go to a physician for treatment until yesterday.

Chamber Urges Oiling

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday forwarded telegrams to the State Highway commission and to the Portland Chamber of Commerce, advising that it was imperative that the Mount Hood Loop highway within the national forest be oiled.

A. F. & V. A. MANAGER VOICES OPTIMISM

"I am prone," said E. S. Briggs, secretary and manager of the American Fruit and Vegetable Growers association, headquarters of which are in Chicago, "to feel bullish over market prospects for all lines of fruits this season.

Many Go to Parkdale

With weather ideal, an estimated 2,000 Lower Valley folk yesterday afternoon and today journeyed to Parkdale, where Upper Valley strawberry growers with a colorful pageant, staged on the lawn of the grade school, celebrated the close of a profitable harvest.

The coronation of Miss Reta Kelly as queen occurred at 8.30. Then followed dances by children, students of Miss Alys Mae Brown, of Portland; songs by Barlett Leach, of Roseburg, and dances by Miss Brown, Ted Logan, Bobbie Russell and Thelma Layton, of Portland. Miss Lucy M. Giannetti accompanied the dancers at the piano. All visitors were served strawberries.

Strawberry Crop Reaches 48 Cars

The season's last carload of packed Clark Seedling strawberries was shipped Monday night by the Apple Growers Association, bringing the total tonnage to 48 cars, just double the 1924 crop. The season's crop was placed in the cars at 35 cars. Weather conditions, however, were ideal and the berries reached far better size than anticipated.
