TRUE to limits of 1/10 of one one-thousandth

McQuay-Norris piston pins—after being triple heat treated—are machined to the most exacting standards of accuracy.

Each McQuay-Norris piston pin is ground round, true and straight to within 1-10 of one one-thousandth of an inch. If it isn't, the inspectors, with their amplifying gauges, catch the error and reject the pin.

Individual pin accuracy and then group accuracy and uniformity insure perfect pins for your motor.

Individual wrapping before being packed in cartons retains the perfect finish that is a feature of McQuay-Norris pins.

The most rigid inspection is given all McQuay-Norris products—piston rings, pistons, pins and bearings.

We also carry for your car cylinder head gaskets, fan belts, valves, valve springs, brake lining and a complete general accessories line.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Each of the four groups of Boy Scouts in Hood River, took part in the annual camp fire held at the home of Mrs. John Thomas Brogan, formerly Miss May Pfendner, for many years a resident of Hood River, was here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Brogan. Mrs. Brogan's wedding occurred in Los Angeles Monday, June 28. She and Mr. Brogan will make their home at Tountville.

At a meeting Wednesday night of last week of the drum and bugle corps of the Hood River American Legion post, which took first prize in Class B at the Prineville convention, the corps was reorganized and plans were made to make it a larger and more efficient body the coming year.

A committee was appointed to select a new and striking uniform. Funds will be raised to purchase the uniforms and to buy more instruments for the men.

California Bride Visits Here Mrs. John Thomas Brogan, formerly Miss May Pfendner, for many years a resident of Hood River, was here for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Brogan. Mrs. Brogan's wedding occurred in Los Angeles Monday, June 28. She and Mr. Brogan will make their home at Tountville.

Mrs. Brogan, a sister of Mrs. Edna Ellen Wright, of Hood River, was for a number of years in charge of the bakery at the Jones Cash store in Portland.

There will be a first class swimming coach and instructor, W. W. Donaldson. Hood River scouts will remember him. A dandy swimming coach, Mr. Donaldson, has been with us nearly two and a half years of water to swim and play in that you can reach bottom at any place. Plenty more water for diving and experienced swimmers. These places will all be marked off with log booms for maximum safety. Boating will be allowed to all swimmers. Sinkers can go after they "catch on" under Donaldson.

Fishing to suit yourself—or the big lake trout up there. Campers, tent hikers, cruise hikers to Washouk lake, berries, eats, and Oh! Man! such sleepin' o' nights. Only four boys to a tent! Board floor to all tents, too.

Each scout will need and must furnish the following for use in camp: Scout uniform or equivalent for "dress up"; a camp uniform of scout shirt and shorts or stockings or equivalent for general use; an extra shirt; two pairs of socks; night gowns; shoes (heavy, well broken in) tennis shoes or moccasins; bathing suit; two blankets or quilts are not enough, so bring more if you can; two towels, toilet outfit of tooth brush, paste, soap, needles and thread, buttons, comb and brush.

A coat or macinaw will be good for rough weather. Bring a straw tick for sleeping mattress. This should be of cheap cloth made in form of bag six feet long and three wide. The camp will furnish straw to fill it. The bag can be used as a dunnage bag to pack your stuff for camp if you haven't a regular bag.

Also, mess kit consisting of regular scout mess kit or army mess kit or a tin cup, (not aluminum—it burns) a tin plate, bowl (granite-ware is fine) knife, fork and spoon. A small frying pan for hiking is handy.

Scouts can also bring if wanted: fishing tackle (and your license); camera, small musical instruments (not band instruments); field glasses; signal flags, scout axe, knife and pack sack. What else have you that's helpful?

Canteen expenditures limited to five cents a day. No packages of sweets or pastries can be accepted at camp from parents or friends. These will be confiscated if smuggled in. Don't try it. The canteen will be set up to let you pass a box around during Council Fire. Medical service available at any time.

What camp costs you this year: $8 per week, in advance, to include transportation, board, instruction and all other necessary items at camp except as heretofore given.

Visiting day for parents and friends is Sunday only. Guests may ride up the lake on our guest boats leaving auto camp Sunday morning at 9:30, 10:30 and 11:30, returning to auto camp at 2:30, 4:30 and 6:30.

Please advise the camp director of your coming so additional food may be prepared. Mail address for camp: Boy Scout Camp, c/o Oregon Lumber Co., Dec, Oregon.

Nels E. Nelson, of the Oregon Lumber Co., has been generous in aiding the Boy Scouts to establish their lumbered camp. He has donated lumber from the old stocks at the Dec mill for flooring the tents at the camp.

CAMP FIRE NOTES Tuesday evening, June 30, the B-Johns Camp Fire met at the home of Myrna Cobb for a social evening. Joyce Nye's Bluebirds, Peggy Edwards, Alene Culbertson, Mildred Baylone, Jane MacMillan, Margaret MacMillan, Vera Jean Kold, Norma Koldstad, Gertrude Sinclair and Peggy Baldwin, under the direction of Carol Hurlbert and the girls' leader, presented a fancy dance. Dorothy Anderson, of Editha Hartwig's group, presented a delightful solo dance. After the program the camp fire held its weekly meeting.

for Heavy Pulling

PLOWING through last deep mud, climbing steep grades, coming out of last lumber—this Jumbo-equipped Ford truck on one pull does it. In emergency low speed the Jumbo Glens Transmission gives the pulling power of the Jumbo Ford motor. In double-low, used for ordinary hauling, it does two-ton work.

For good roads and light hauls, shift Jumbo Glens into "over-drive"—30% faster than Ford high speed. A sliding gear transmission with 3 forward speeds and 1 reverse, when used together with the Ford planetary. The only transmission that combines over-drive, direct and under-drive with a reverse gear and that is properly handled by means of through bolts under compression (patented), extra self-aligning universal joint, and cross shaft support.

Drive in any time and let us install a Jumbo Glens Transmission in your Ford car or truck. We carry the complete Jumbo line of transmissions ranging in price from $47.50 to $116.00.
