ODELL

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. M. Hawthorne Tuesday afternoon, July 14. A very interesting meeting was held, every one taking part in the program of current events. A silver tea set was carried to hold a silver tea set in Mrs. Ferguson's home at some early date, the money derived from the tea to be used for purchasing membership in the community hospital. Next meeting to be at the home of Mrs. A. F. Smith Tuesday afternoon, August 11.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Payne and daughter motored from their home in Oklahoma City, Okla., arriving here Sunday for a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Holman. Mr. Payne is a cousin of Mrs. Holman. Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Holman, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Holman, of Hood River, and Mr. and Mrs. Payne and daughter motored to Newport for a week's vacation at the coast.

Fred Dick and Lloyd Ehrck spent several days last week fishing and camping at Zedger lake and other mountain camping places. Dance at Odell Grange hall Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ehrck went to Portland Thursday for the Elks' parade.

A. B. Brooke has bought the J. H. Shull 10-acre tract, which is located conveniently between two tracts he previously owned. The new purchase brings Mr. Brooke's Odell holdings to 94 acres. His plan is to make this a building site from which the two other tracts can be reached easily.

H. S. Galligan and daughters, Eleanor and Mildred, motored to Portland for the Elks' parade. Last Thursday a reunion of the Fraser family was held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Galligan. Nineteen were present. Miss Alice Galligan accompanied an aunt to her home at Wasco and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Galligan and daughters motored to Wasco.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the church. Everybody welcome. There will be a board meeting also. All Aid members are especially requested to come. Light refreshments will be served. Mrs. M. Cameron, formerly of Odell, now of Portland, spent Monday night at the home of his brother, Oscar Cameron.

C. J. Marts has sold his home property in Odell to C. F. Chevrone. Chester Chevrone is well known in Odell and is, we understand, to become one of the clerical force of Odell Cash store. We are pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Chevrone to Odell. We are also glad to note that Mr. and Mrs. Marts are not leaving Odell as plans which they will be ready to announce next week indicate.

Rev. Wm. A. Sunday preached a splendid sermon Sunday morning from Proverbs 29:18—"Where there is no vision the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he." Members of the Methodist church and those of the Christian church and many other local residents as well as those from outside points gathered in the high school auditorium. All, we believe, received inspiration from the evangelist and his message.

Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Gleaser and children are home from their vacation. The Epworth League cabinet met Wednesday evening at the home of A. H. Weidner to make plans for sending delegates to the Falls City Epworth League institute. The Epworth school 10 a. m. next Sunday at the Methodist church. At 11 o'clock Rev. Gleaser will deliver the first of a summer series of sermons; sermon subject, "The Summit of Life." At 6:15 p. m. Junior League, Lois Shearson, leader; 7:15 p. m. Epworth League; topic, "Extending the Way," leader, Horace Gilkerson. At 8 o'clock evening service with sermon by Rev. Gleaser.

Mrs. Annie O. Johnson, of Odell postoffice, has been granted leave of absence and she will spend the greater part of August visiting her mother and brothers at Winlock, Wash., a sister in Seattle, one at Silverdale and friends at these places. She also plans to attend "The Wayfarer" and be present at the summer reunion of students of Nelson College.

Many friends in Odell are interested in the Fletcher-Bucklin wedding of Monday, an account of which will doubtless appear in notes from Central Vale. Young friends, we wish that life's richest blessings may be yours.

A. L. Stevens had the misfortune to lose his apple house and barn by fire Wednesday last week. All contents of the apple house, including a grader, boxes, truck, tractor, sundry tools as well as a Marmon touring car were burned. Mr. Stevens and family have the sympathy of their neighbors in their loss.

The two-year-old son of S. Namba narrowly escaped drowning in the irrigation ditch Friday morning. The Namba children were picking blackberries along the edge of the ditch when the little fellow fell in. One of the children brought the father who, with difficulty succeeded in dragging the young boy from the swirling water. Though he seemed at first to be dead the continued efforts of neighbors brought him out and he is now as chipper as ever and absolutely against playing near the ditch.

Mr. and George Wierick and family have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in the loss of their new home Friday morning. It is supposed the fire came from a defective fuse. They have not yet decided whether they will rebuild this year. Mr. and Mrs. James Dugan, from Marlan, O., were visiting with Mr. Dugan's sister, Mrs. George Wierick, last week.

DRIED FRUIT RATES

Extension of current rates of 60 cents on canned goods and 70 cents on dried fruits to May 1, 1925, instead of terminating their expiration on December 31, 1925, as originally fixed, has been announced by the Pacific coast-European conference, which has been in session at San Francisco. The rates were lowered by the conference about the middle of April.

With few exceptions the charges are applicable to exports as well as the regular ports of call, and have figured in transactions on new season products. The early California canned goods, arrived in Portland Friday, as has proved stimulating among steamship lines and the coast volume this year is depended on to make up a large part of the business for scheduled services.

Future contracts are expected to be influenced by the action of the conference in insuring a continuation of rates until next May.

J. J. McGowan, of Seattle, Pacific coast manager of the Royal Mail service, arrived in Portland Friday en route home from the San Francisco season, and went over rate matters with George Powell, president of the Oregon-Pacific company, which represents the service of the Royal Mail and Hawaiian lines in the Oregon district. Mr. McGowan is credited with having estimated a considerable increase for the 1925-26 season in the shipment of fresh apples from the coast, the gain being promised largely through heavier shipments from Yakima and Wenatchee districts in Washington.

As the joint service includes the operation of full refrigerated vessels during the apple season as well as the regular carriers that have part of their space fitted with cooling facilities, close touch is maintained with all sections of the coast that contribute to the apple export movement.

WOMEN'S CLUB NEWS

The first stated session of the newly elected board of the Oregon Federation of Business & Professional Women's clubs, was held last Saturday evening in the club-rooms of the Portland club. Members of the retiring board were present together with the new board, which is composed of the following officers: President, Miss Louisa M. Hacker; first vice president, Miss Mame Zeitelman; second vice president, Miss Roselle Hall; recording secretary, Mrs. Edith Ryan; corresponding secretary, Miss Martha Gatch; treasurer, Miss Martha Goldsp; national vice president for Oregon, Mrs. Alice Maloney; directors, Misses Bertha McCarthy, Olga Gray, Ruth Johnson, Ellen Gray, Gertrude Nolan, Ethel Webb and Mrs. LaRue Rhea, together with the presidents of the 12 federated clubs.

Miss Margaret Fleming, retiring first vice president, gave a very much worthwhile talk on "What the State Means to the Clubs and Individuals Members." Mrs. Pearl Baldwin, retiring national vice president for Oregon, told in an interesting way the "Work of the National Vice President with Relation to the Nation and State." Mrs. Susan Lynn and Miss Alice Hutchinson, retiring second vice president and treasurer, also gave brief talks.

Invitations have been extended by both the Astoria and Seaside clubs that the next state convention come to their cities. This matter was balanced upon by the executive council resulting three times in a tie vote, so in that the matter is of great importance to all the clubs, same was referred back to the entire executive council for decision, which should be reached by August 1.

Miss Mame Zeitelman, first vice president, was appointed to serve as chairman of the state bulletin committee, one of the most important committees for the year. One member from each club had been appointed to serve with Miss Zeitelman, being, Astoria, Miss Margaret Huebler; Coos Bay, Mrs. Alice Maloney; Corvallis, Miss Mabel Hollister; Dallas, Miss Dora Searles; Eugene, Miss Madeline Hall; Hood River, Mrs. Susie Lynn; Portland Women's Advertising club, Mrs. Collette Harris; Portland Business and Professional Women's club, Mrs. Pearl Baldwin; Roseburg, Miss Grace E. Taylor, and Salem, Miss Rosella Keber.

The members of the Hood River Business Women's club Monday night decided to proceed in cooperation with the city in the beautification of a triangular plot of ground at the west edge of the city, where Cascade street and Oak street, which carry the Columbia River highway traffic through town, intersect. The women have available $150 to apply to the park.

At a meeting of the directors of the club at the home of Mrs. C. A. Richards Monday night chairman of committees were appointed as follows: Education, Mrs. Harriet Blashfield; membership, Mrs. Orva Wiley; program, Mrs. R. E. Johnson; publicity, Mrs. Susie L. Lynn; legislative, Mrs. Wm. Monroe, and finance, the entire board.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Boy Scouts of Hood River and Wasco counties went into camp at Lake Saturday for a two weeks' outing. A troop of 30 from Hood River county arrived at the lake Saturday, while troops from Wasco county that are already in camp or will reach it this week are expected to swell the total to 75.

On their arrival the camp was fully established for the young scouts in a detail of 18 boys under the direction of Scout Executive Schlemmer. He had been engaged in preparing for the visitors, W. W. Donaldson, Red Cross swimming instructor at First-land will have charge of this branch of Boy Scout training.

A feature of the stay of the Hood River-Wasco county scouts at the lake will be to exchange visits with the Portland Boy Scouts who are now camped at Wahnum lake, which will be made by taking over the trail established between the two points by the forest rangers. The camp at Lake lake, which has been named Amberlock, will remain open five weeks.

Baby Boy Nearly Drowned Falling into a swiftly flowing irrigation ditch near Dea Friday, a two-year-old son of F. Namba, a Japanese, was carried 200 yards before he was rescued. The baby, who was in the water, was unconscious and believed to be dead. Neighbors who were attracted to the scene of the accident by the frantic cries of the mother, immediately applied restorative methods and succeeded in bringing the child back to life.

HOOD RIVER NEWS

Although the heat of Hood River has been very hot during the big summer season, it has not been as hot as it has been in the past. Many favorable comments and much appreciation from the thousands of spectators who lined the streets of Portland as they marched past.

Probably the largest parade in the history of Hood River was the big parade which was held in the city on Friday and Saturday. The parade was made up of many floats and bands who were dressed in their uniforms and threw the crowd into a state of excitement. The parade was held in the afternoon and the crowd was very large.

MERRY MORAINÉ

(By Will E. Bates) Intellectual women are always your dread; Now tell me, dear sir, is it true? "Why, yes," said the wag, "Very likely I may."

Have made the remark in a jocular way; But then, on my honor, I didn't mean you. One to Mr. and Mrs. Fish Worms talk for 200; but here's a sudden change; Fish is still for worms—is not that passing strange?

On a Colubrid Chef Peace to his snakes. Speaking of snakes Killed my own omnibus. Why not? So quick a death's been to me. Let not his friends lament his lot—Mors omnia comulans.

Think It Over Do you know a trained and vigilant train dispatcher, one who never closes his eyes, who while sitting at his desk carefully superintending the trains passing over his division, during on meeting points, wind, weather, ground, etc. Do you know that the train dispatcher's office is the most important office in the railroad? These men and women are the cream of the telegraph profession; cool men with nerves of steel; ever alert for the safety of the passengers and employees under their care. Well, then, why not let us have them to hold their post? But surely it is putting the bulldog out of business; ending the life of the man who does not sleep, who never gets tired. The railroad is the life of the west. Keep them working, but not least, there is an dispatcher watching over you when you travel on buses.

The writer entered the railroad service in 1923 and gave up in the service. At present, unfortunately, he is not connected with any of them, but thinks he is in a position to judge the outcome of the increasing traffic on highways.
