ST. MARK'S DEDICATION NEXT SUNDAY

The cornerstone of the new St. Mark's Episcopal church will be laid this coming Sunday by Bishop Remington, bishop of the district of eastern Oregon. The stone, which will be placed in the southwest corner of the nave, will contain various articles of interest—a history of the church, a list of subscribers to the building fund, copies of local papers, the names of the building committee and officers of the church. A special and impressive service of the Episcopal church will be used for the occasion. Short addresses will be made by Rev. L. H. Miller, rector of the church, and by Ralph E. Bennett, a member of the bishop's committee. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. S. F. Aitken, will sing as an anthem "How Amiable Are Thy Dwellings" by Barby. Bishop Remington will preach the sermon.

Added interest will be given the event by the presence of Captain C. A. Schetky, probably the oldest member of the Episcopal church in this county. Captain Schetky remembers the blessing given him when he was four years old by Bishop White who was chaplain of the Continental Congress and one of the first bishops of the Episcopal church in the United States, having been consecrated bishop of Pennsylvania in 1783. Capt. Schetky is an interested member of St. Mark's church and is able to attend the services which, with the aid of his remarkable memory, he is able to follow without difficulty.

The history of St. Mark's church dates back to the very beginning of Hood River. The first known service of the Episcopal church was conducted September 2, 1870, when Rev. William Stoy, of Trinity church, Portland, came to Hood River to conduct the funeral service for the mother of Mrs. Naomi Schenk, of The Dalles, at Paradise farm. After that occasional services were conducted by clergymen from The Dalles, the services being held in the old school house, now the court house, and in the home of Mrs. Middleton, mother of Mrs. Charles E. Bone. The first church, which was torn down this summer, was built by Rev. Clarence H. Lake in 1904.

The new church, which is now under construction, will fit into the parish house which was built last year, thus forming one building and providing attractive facilities for the varied activities of a modern church. The new building will be impressive and beautiful. While there will be sufficient accommodation for a large congregation, the plans permit an addition to the nave and the building of a chapel on the north side of the nave whenever these are required. The architects are Lawrence and Holford, of Portland, and the contractor is L. M. Bentley.

The public is cordially invited to attend the service of the laying of the cornerstone.

GIBSON GIRLS GIVE TREAT AT RIALTO

Local folks enjoyed a real treat last Friday evening when the Gibson Girls' orchestra was featured at the Rialto. Although their performance was short it was peppy and has been acclaimed by many to have been the best of its kind seen here for several months. The girls, all of whom appeared on the stage in bathing beauty costumes, gave several solos, both instrumental and vocal. They received four encores for their playing.

During their stay in town the girls furnished music for two dances, one at Robin Hood hall and the other at Koberg's open air pavilion. Both of these were well attended and satisfaction was evinced by all present at the originality and musical ability of the troupe. The young musicians also visited the home of Dr. McVay and played several numbers of popular music for his entertainment.

The orchestra was organized in Salt Lake three years ago by R. Y. Gibson and although the girls are all under 21 years of age they show excellent training and have a good start toward success as musicians. Since their organization the young ladies have traveled over the west giving concerts under the management of Mr. Gibson, who is the father of three of the girls and general manager of the orchestra.

The girls played for six months at the American theatre, which is the largest in Salt Lake. Some of the other places where they made appearances are: Colonial theatre at Idaho Falls, Capitol theatre at Fort Collins, Colo., Empress theatre at Denver, Colo., and the Rivoli at Pendleton.

After leaving here the company went to Portland where Mr. Gibson expected to negotiate with the manager of the Liberty theatre for an appearance there.

The troupe will return here next month to put on another entertainment.

SCHOOL NEWS

The Hood River city schools will open next Tuesday morning, September 1, at 9 o'clock, for the registration of pupils. The usual assemblies will be held in the high school, and the junior high, when the new teachers will be introduced, the new pupils welcomed, and the opening day information given out.

The forenoon will be spent in the formation of classes, and getting the school organization under way. Pupils will then be dismissed for the remainder of the day in order that they may secure any needed books and supplies for recitations Wednesday.

Supt. A. M. Cannon will hold a preliminary teachers' meeting of all the force Monday afternoon, August 31, at 3 o'clock, at the high school. After this general meeting the principals and teachers will meet in their respective buildings.

Friday morning, August 28, at 9 o'clock, all pupils who have done summer work under special teachers will report as follows: The pupils of high school and junior high in room six, in the high school building; all other pupils up to and including the sixth grade will report to room ten in the Park Street school building.

All grade school pupils below the high school who are entering this system, as new pupils with transfers from other districts, should report to the superintendent at his office at the high school Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Bring your report from the last school attended.

Pupils who know their exact classification may purchase the readers for their grades before school opens; but do not buy other new books until after you have registered or secured a book list.

A great deal of summer work in the way of repairs and betterment has been done at all of the school buildings, and their physical condition for the opening of school was never better. The same corps of janitors, as last year, has been retained for the next year. They are: C. S. Jones, high school; E. C. Bucklin, junior high; Isaac Ford, Park Street school; C. P. Bucklin, Cos primary school.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott and small son, Thomas, Jr., after a visit here with Mrs. Elliott's mother, Mrs. Emma E. Epping, and sister, Mrs. John R. Norton, have returned to their home near Visalia, Calif.

WRESTLING CELEBRITY IS IN THE CITY

Discovering that a wrestling celebrity, Fred Mortensen, was here working as a carpenter, arrangements were made by A. S. Kolstad Tuesday for a series of events soon that will be of interest throughout the Pacific northwest. Mortensen, who holds the championship belt of Denmark for the light heavyweight championship, having been presented with the trophy by the king and queen, will hold a series of elimination tests that will later lead to a match between the winner and Ted Thye, of Portland. His first match will be with Farmer Vance.

Mortensen has two children, a little boy and girl, aged 6 and 8 respectively, who were said to have been a sensation at the Elks convention in Portland recently. Mortensen formerly was in charge of the gymnasium of Farmer Burns, who is said to have declared the children as perfect specimens of young humanity.

When Mortensen participates in the wrestling bouts scheduled for Hood River he will end the program with presentation of the children in exercises and will give talks on children's care.

Washington Apple Crop Big
A commercial crop of 27,800,000 bushels of apples and a total crop of 30,750,000 bushels for Washington, exceeded only once in the history of the state, is predicted in the first forecast of the federal crop reporting board, made public at Spokane recently.

The forecast compares with a five-year average for the past five years of 22,576,000 bushels of commercial apples and a total crop of 26,458,000. The crop averaged 75 per cent normal July 1, compared with 60 per cent a year ago that date. The previous high crop was in 1923, when the commercial crop was 28,500,000 bushels and the total crop was 33,000,000 bushels.

The peach crop was forecast at 671,000 bushels, 60 per cent normal. The pear crop is set at 1,937,000 bushels with the condition 64 per cent normal. Grapes averaged 83 per cent normal with a predicted crop of 2125 tons. Hops showed a condition 96 per cent with a crop forecasted at 4,267,072 pounds.

ARCHIE ROOSEVELT CATCHES A BIG ONE

"This, I have recalled in my two days of hiking and fishing in the mid-Columbia Cascades, must be a mighty fine country to live in," said Archie Roosevelt at the Columbia Gorge hotel Sunday night. Mr. Roosevelt, accompanied by E. T. Gregory, of Boston, has been a guest of the tourist hotel since Friday night. Saturday the visitors fished trout, and steeled in the Little White Salmon river. Mr. Roosevelt landed a big one.

"Even though I had not been charmed with the scenery of your valley and the surrounding foothills, catching that fish, which was one of the best fighters I ever hooked, would cause me to remember my visit to Hood River," said the son of the late famous Rough Rider.

Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Gregory left Sunday night for Spokane.

Herman Ranger Notes
Friday night about midnight the Boy Scout lodge at Waktum lake, Mount Hood national forest, was discovered to be on fire near the fireplace in the large dining room. The fire had gained such headway before being discovered that it was impossible to put it out. Besides the officers there were 100 Boy Scouts from Portland at the camp.

These boys were asleep in their tents a short distance from the lodge building. Order was maintained and the boys were quickly dressed. Two of them were detailed to walk to Indian Spring cabin, a distance of 2 1/2 miles, to notify Forest Service Patrolman Starrett stationed there of the fire, and telephone District Ranger Wheeler as it was impossible to use the telephone at the lodge on account of the heat.

The lodge was a large log building and was soon a mass of flames. Sparks were starting many spots fire in the timber and a few nearby trees caught fire in the tops. The boys under the able direction of their superior officers were detailed to different sectors and all spot fires were extinguished, and the burning trees felled. Only by good discipline and thorough work on the part of the Boy Scouts was possibly a bad forest fire averted. The lodge and contents were a complete loss.

At 3 a. m. the building having burned down enough that the services of the boys were not needed to protect the forests, they all started out on the Eagle creek trail. Ranger Wheeler sent in a pack train of supplies and an emergency telephone outfit for the Boy Scout officers who remained at the camp to supervise the moving out of the boys' bedding and tents, and also had breakfast ready for the 100 boys when they arrived at the foot of the trail at 8 a. m. At 9 a. m. stages arrived and the boys left for Portland.

Tuesday County Surveyor Hurlburt and District Ranger Wheeler left for the Green Point road to survey that portion of the road above the E. D. Kingsley ranch, where the forest service and county are going to expend $500 to eliminate the bad grade at this point.

Special Grand Jury Meets
Speculation as to the scandal that will be brought to light at a special session of the grand jury called yesterday by Judge Wilson at the instance of District Attorney Baker to investigate complaints about liquor and women parties, formed spies for gossip. Business men have been named as having aroused complaints because of their relations with young girls. Allegations were made to the authorities that the men and young women visited the Neal creek ranch home of Mrs. Nellie Fenece, young widow, who was fined $55 in a case last week on a liquor charge. Five men, from Salem, The Dalles and Portland, apprehended while guests at her home, paid similar fines.

Wind Hits Peers
High winds prevailing here last Thursday night took a toll of d'Anjou pears estimated at five per cent. Geo. T. Gulligan, East Side orchardist, placed his loss at 10 per cent. The valley's d'Anjou tonnage was placed at 270 cars, and it was thought the wind damage would reach more than $15,000.

Gravenstein apples have been picked and the later varieties were not felled by the wind.

Mr. Gibbs Writes from Minnesota.
Harmony, Minn., Aug. 18, 1925.
Editor Glacier: To make good my promise to you will drop you a few lines to let you know we arrived here Saturday evening and are now among relatives and friends. We stopped at the following places over night that we might view the country by day: Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Missoula,

Forsyth, Miles City, Bismark and St. Paul.
We found far more life and activity in the western cities and crops look fine all along the route. No gain to our beauty of our trip and but little smoke east of Helena.
We made a side trip of 60 miles out south of Forsyth, Mont., spending five days with old friends getting acquainted with ranch life in that section. We had the time of our life out there killing rattlesnakes, prairie dogs, viewing extensive coal mine workings, riding ponies over the ranges, branding cattle, handling horses and chasing grasshoppers, which are doing some damage in that part of the state.

We passed over the ground Custer and his men traveled just before he met his death in '76. We also passed through the Rosebud Indian reservation and saw Indian life at close range. I have a good snake story to tell my friend Dean when I get home and will bring proof to justify the truthfulness of the same.

E. W. Gibbs.

JAPANESE GUESTS OF CHURCH PEOPLE

The Japanese residents of Hood River county met on the T. Sato lawn Sunday afternoon as the guests of the Upper Hood River Valley Community church. The principal address was given by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Hutchinson, interpreted by the assistant pastor, Rev. T. Tateoka. Brief talks were given by Mr. Yasui, Hood River merchant; T. Sato, Parkdale; Mrs. Yasui and Rev. Tateoka. All the speakers voiced appreciation of the friendly relations that exist between the two races in this section. Musical numbers by the church choir and the Japanese Sunday school children were given. Japanese refreshments were served to the guests. Over 250 attended the meeting, the first of its kind ever held in the county.

K. P. BAND WILL PLAY IN CANADA

The Hood River Pythian band will go to New Westminster, B. C., September 7, and play a week at the British Columbia fair. The local band received the invitation to appear at the Canadian fall livestock and agricultural event because of the impression they made on their Canadian cousins last fall while attending a northwestern international convention of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorraan. The Pythian band members will wear unique Indian costumes, decorated the bit of the fraternal convention last fall.
