SPORTSMANSHIP

If the students of the Hood River high school heed the advice tendered them Tuesday by Coach Garber, who is training the football team, they will end this year's football season with victory, even though they do not win all their games.

The new Hood River coach, in his talk Tuesday, urged the student body to desist from mob razzing during games. Sometimes the ruling of a referee may seem a little unfair. Indeed, referees may make mistakes, but the students are urged to refrain from "rasberry" stunts.

We are glad to note a new spirit of support for the home football team growing among the business folk of the town. We are glad to call attention to the Chamber of Commerce football rally next Tuesday. But we would warn the citizens of the town, just as Coach Garber warned the student body, against undignified action at games.

Let your partisanship take a different form. Support your home team but do not leave ill feeling and welts by ribald remarks addressed to players or visiting rooters.

PLAYING AT THE ROUND-UP

Pendleton citizenry, in their efforts at establishing the Round-Up and making it a national revival of the sports of the olden cow country, have done more than making it a sporting event. The Round-Up has become playtime for thousands in Oregon and Washington.

The spirit that exists at Pendleton causes everyone there to forget business for the time. Worries are laid aside. As everyone knows, who has read the stories of cow country frontier, even though he may never have experienced it himself, the cowboy, in town to spend his monthly wage, had not a responsibility. So with every man, woman and child who is lured to Pendleton.

A vacation is real when the participant can forget the environment and routine life that has been temporarily left behind. Pendleton has afforded the world the locale for a real four-day vacation.

Mother Nature is good in the mid-Columbia. Who wouldn't like to get out and be actively engaged in the apple harvest in such weather as now prevails in this land of mountains, forests and orchards? These quiet days of the autumntime, when the sun beats down with a benignity, warm enough to join with the frostiness of nighttime in putting color and zest into a world renowned fruit, are the glorious days of the mid-Columbia.

The Columbia gorge was never more beautiful. Billowy clouds formed a haze-like segment, set between purpling north and south sides of the great canyon of Wana. As the sun dipped toward China across the Pacific, the clouds turned from drab gray to flaming copper. The very haze that makes the distant hills the more alluring, was lightly tinted. Phaeton, in driving his chariot over eastern Oregon the four previous days, no doubt had been impressed with the prodigality of man at Pendleton. He wanted to show the homeward bound motorists that man, as yet, hasn't been able to vie successfully, when nature really tries.

The Glacier is a very warm supporter of economy in municipal government, but we also believe in fairness. The proposal of the city to reduce pay of members of the volunteer fire department, we believe is ill advised. It may be that the fire boys, on occasion, fall to earn the $1 or $2 each, when responding to alarms. It is not infrequent, however, that the firemen ruin clothes in the performance of their duties. The volunteer firemen are a loyal, earnest, hardworking bunch. Has the council ever considered what might be the cost of a paid fire department? Under existing conditions, fire protection in Hood River is adequate, and its cost is marvelously low.

Should a literary light, whose rays have grown as effulgent as those of our old favorite, Irvin S. Cobb, make an asset of his name in signing tobacco advertisements? We will admit that our keen interest, when we read such an advertisement signed by Mr. Cobb, was blunted by a sense of disappointment. We were made to feel a little ashamed of the man who originated old Judge Priest and that phrase, "No more privacy than a goldfish."

Let yourself be tagged Saturday. The members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion will be working in a good cause. You'll be proud of the tag Saturday night when you see the Legion drum and bugle corps in action. You'll be prouder Monday evening when news comes of their victory at Salem.

CAN FIREMAN COMMAND MANDER MOTORS?

Can members of the fire department commandeer motor cars to carry them to fires? This was the question that came up before the city council Monday evening, when the matter of payment of a bill presented by A. B. Cooper was presented. The members of the department took the stand that the city is liable, in that firemen have the power of commandeering private cars in fighting fires.

Last June Chief Volstorff asked Mr. Cooper to carry him to a fire. The machine was upset, and a bill for damages was presented by Mr. Cooper. The city council declined Monday night to assume such action. The fire department was instructed to pay the bill, and the city will reimburse the department. Mayor Bennett stated that he would appoint a committee to discuss and bring in a report on the matter of the power of the fire department officers commandeering private cars.

The council Monday evening voted to pay the expenses of Fire Chief Volstorff to a convention of Pacific coast fire chiefs at Seattle. The council denied a petition of the Hood River bakery to erect a parquette in front of the new Rialto building. A city ordinance, it was stated, prohibits such construction.

LOCAL ODD FELLOWS MOTOR TO PORTLAND

It was a great day in Portland yesterday, when the parade of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows was staged. Portland has been the scene of this summer of many conventions and many parades have been staged, but that of the members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows was declared one of the most colorful and in the same time most dignified seen in the Rose City this year.

An approximate 250 members of the fraternal orders of this county motored to Portland to participate in the parade. They wore hat bands and sleeve bands, carrying the insignia of the order and an apple, denoting that they came from the land of the world's most famous orchards.

Today Hood River Odd Fellows will be busy greeting the thousands of their brethren who will motor through over the Loop highway. Motor corteges are expected to take the Loop trip on through until Sunday.

NEWS OF THE GOLFERS

Ladies' day at the club has been such a success since it was inaugurated four weeks ago that the committee has decided to carry it on during the coming month. The following are chairmen for golf: Mrs. Geo. W. Thomson, October 6; Mrs. C. T. Dewey, October 13; Mrs. E. A. Frank, Jr., October 20, and Mrs. E. W. Birge, October 27.

Chairmen for cards and tea will be: Mrs. Ernest Smith, October 6; Mrs. S. J. Moore, October 13; Mrs. A. J. Derby, October 20, and Mrs. V. R. Abraham, October 27.

Mrs. Albert Peters is chairman of the entertainment committee. Golfers of the Hood River Golf and Country club suffered their first team defeat in the section of the local course last Sunday when the Multnomah A. C. club team of 16 men came here and gave them a 36 to 11 trouncing. It was simply a case of too strong a team for the local men, as Hood River averaged fully up to their regular scores.

Two local players deserve especial mention. Harry DeWitt, whose rating puts him about ninth on the list, but who is one of the hardest match players in the club, shot the best local score, a 78, and won all three points from his opponent. Likewise Danny Pierson, playing his first big match, came through with a 39 and a 41 for an 80-hole total of 80, by far the best game he has ever played. Danny won but one point as his opponent shot a 77. C. C. Crew and C. C. Anderson also deserve credit for winning their matches. More than half the visitors shot in the 70s, George James leading with a 75. A return match will be played on the Multnomah course in Portland in October.

October 4 the local team will go to Oregon City to play the return match with that club. When the Oregon City team was here in May the local team defeated them very easily. The match on the Oregon City course should be more close.

Highway Worker Accused

Commissioner F. H. Cross, of Oregon City, returning with his family from the Pendleton Round-Up, endeavored Tuesday to secure a warrant from local authorities for what he claimed an unwarranted attack by a highway worker near Mosier. Mr. Cross stated that he inadvertently drove his car into the fresh midway paint signs being placed by a road crew. The car, although none of the men were endangered, approached close to the crew before Mr. Cross stopped. One of the workers hurled a rock through the windshield. Mr. Cross was cut by flying glass and his daughter was badly bruised by the stone.

When informed that he would have to secure his warrant from Wasco county authorities, Mr. Cross left here for The Dalles.

WOMEN'S CLUB NEWS

MOTHER OF MRS. SLETTON PASSES

Funeral services were held at the Portland crematorium last Saturday morning for Mrs. Jessie V. Gleason, former local resident, whose death occurred Thursday at Corvallis. Dr. Parrott, Portland Presbyterian minister, officiated. Mrs. Gleason lived for about nine years in the Pine Grove district. She lived for more than a year in this city. She moved to Corvallis more than a year ago.

Mrs. Gleason is survived by her daughters, Mrs. C. H. Sletton, of this city, and Mrs. Nettie Stewart, of Corvallis. A sister, Mrs. F. G. Church, lives here. A native of Wisconsin, Mrs. Gleason was 68 years old.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The first monthly court of honor of the Hood River Boy Scouts will be held next Tuesday, September 29, at the city hall. This will be the first of its kind in the mid-Columbia region, and it is expected that many parents of Boy Scouts will attend to see the presentation to their sons of the honors and badges earned by the scouts in camp this summer.

Members of the court of honor who have been invited to serve by the executive board are Ernest C. Smith, A. B. Bennett, John Mohr, Col. Steinhilber and L. B. Gibson. All scouts who have completed the necessary court test for advancement to 1st rank, or who have completed the work necessary for any merit badge, will be presented their awards by these men.

The camp emblems won by scouts for good work while in summer camp will also be given out at this session of the court, according to Executive Clarke Schouboe, who will act as clerk of the court. Albert T. Case, scout commissioner of the council, will have charge of the preliminary examination of merit badge scouts before their appearance in the court room.

It is the desire of the scout officials to hold this court of honor every month, somewhere in the county, so that scouts will be able to receive their badges frequently in accordance with the procedure of national headquarters of the Boy Scouts of America.

Thomas Johnson, of Troop 1, and Conrad Miller, Sydney Whorlow and Ferdinand Strauss, of Troop 3, are the first class scouts who will receive merit badges from the court.

Watch Your Back Porches

Tuesday night petty thieves entered the back porch at the home of W. G. Weber. They cleaned out the refrigerator and stole a loaf of bacon and other foods. The clothes line, too, was robbed. Mr. Weber says residents of the town should fasten their screen doors and keep things off the clothes line at night. Heed his warning.

Middleton-Wieden

At a very pretty home wedding in Portland Monday evening, September 14, Miss Hazel H. Wieden became the bride of Howard N. Middleton. The bride was read by candle light before an altar of autumn leaves and garlands. The rooms were beautifully decorated with baskets of fall flowers, ferns and palms.

Before the ceremony Miss Julia Johnson sang "I Love My Country." She was accompanied by Gretchen Brown, the bride's brother, F. Duane Wieden, played the wedding march from Lohengrin. Mrs. Frank Wieden, mother of the bride, and F. G. Wieden, of Salt Lake City, the bride's brother, received guests at the door. The bride, given in marriage by her father, Frank Wieden.

The bride was beautiful, gowned in white chiffon with lace godet and yoke and lace with long trailing veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a necklace of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Her flowers were Ophelia roses, lilies of the valley, orchids and sweet peas arranged as a shower bouquet.

Mrs. F. Duane Wieden, matron of honor, wore a frock of peach color georgette and wreath of gold and silver leaves and carried orchids, roses and lilies. Her bridesmaids, Mrs. G. Wieden, the bride's cousin, and Mrs. K. J. Middleton, of Seattle, received at the wedding party. Mrs. F. G. Wieden, of Salt Lake, and Mrs. Frank Wieden, of Eugene, were bridesmaids. The bridesmaids were: Prof. Howard Russell, of British Columbia; Miss Margaret Mitchell, J. Holman and Mrs. A. M. H. Stokes, of Seattle; Prof. and Mrs. Franklin Fols, of Eugene; and Mrs. H. K. Davenport, of Hood River.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Middleton are graduates of the University of Washington. At the time of her graduation Mrs. Middleton was president of Chi Omega sorority. Many telegrams of congratulation were received from distant relatives and friends. The couple went via S. H. S. Alexander to San Francisco, from which point they will motor to Los Angeles and other points of interest. Upon their return they will go to Tacoma, their future home.

The bride has a host of friends in Odell and vicinity who appreciate her charm and her many fine qualities and these are pleased to wish her the richest blessings life may grant.

Parkdale Students in Crash

A car occupied by five Parkdale high school students, en route home from school, Tuesday collided with a large sightseeing car, driven by W. H. Hentze, of Portland, on the Mount Hood Loop highway. While Russell Curtis, driver of the school car, escaped unhurt, his companions, Hazel Ringer, Anna Dimmick, Joseph Simulonski and George Aubert, were cut by flying glass and sustained painful bruises. Brought to the Hood River hospital, it was found that none of their injuries were serious.

The accident occurred when the school car entered the Loop road from a side road. Young Simulonski was injured more severely than any of the other children. He sustained a severe gash near his temple and was partially scalped. His wounds will not, however, prove serious unless infection should set up.
