CENTRAL VALE

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Seeger were in Portland for a few days last week recuperating after a strenuous but interesting season in their summer camp for boys.

The Mothers' club held a pleasant meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. B. Moss. This is the last meeting until November 19. The supper was given for the benefit of the school fund.

The suggestion was made that cakes and pies would be likely to have a ready sale and donations for this table were made. There would be no soliciting for this. The fancy work committee, consisting of Mrs. G. A. Hoffmann, Mrs. C. M. Sheppard and Mrs. C. E. Schweitzer, requested that each one donating articles for the bazaar mark each article plainly with the actual cost of the materials so it would be easier to set a fair price. It was also requested that these articles be delivered to the committee as soon as finished, or before the next meeting in order to give ample time for determining the sale price. A motion was carried that each member of the club earn a dollar for the community house before November 20. It was suggested that some might make this during the apple harvest by selling home cooking or vegetables, eggs, etc. to the harvest help. It was thought that this would be a better way than carrying on the cooked food sales as was done one year.

O. H. Hill and Harry Furrow went last week to hunt deer in the Blue mountains near Prairie City.

Nels Hagen and son, Edgar, drove to Pendleton Wednesday to attend the Round-Up. They returned Sunday.

Mrs. Ida F. Everson and daughter, Miss Bernice, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Kerr, of Hood River, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hannum at Homestead Inn Sunday, the occasion being Mrs. Everson's 63rd birthday.

A reception was held for the teachers Friday night. Mrs. E. R. Moller, of Barrett, chairman of the education committee of the county health association, was chief speaker.

R. W. Arens and family, Mrs. Stanley Walters and Miss Orr, of the Middle Valley district, attended the reception for our teachers Friday evening.

Saturday electors voted to make this an irrigation district. There was no opposing vote.

September 24.
Engene and Gerald Vauhters of Yale, Wash., spent Sunday here with friends.

Several from here attended church at Parkdale Sunday evening.

Mount Hood was well represented at the school fair. Jeannette Shaw carried off second prize with her sewing exhibit.

There was no school Friday. The paratus and the formation of the chest are of the utmost seriousness, if allowed to develop. Chest constriction reduces the space for the lungs and prevents them from developing. This makes the child susceptible to tuberculosis, as well as to other diseases. It may bring about trouble during childhood or it may be the cause of adult illness.

Do not delay the proper care of the nose and throat.

Sinnott Leaves Portland

Congressman N. J. Sinnott left the Dulles' laundry for Washington, D. C., to be present at the opening of the hearings of the Northern Pacific land grant investigation in the capital city.

As chairman of the land grant committee, Mr. Sinnott has been engaged during the summer in inspecting local conditions regarding the land grant situation.

Representative Sinnott is making the trip by automobile over the Lincoln highway as far as Chicago, where he will leave his car and proceed by train.

In addition to his work on the land grant committee, and on the sub-committee on appropriations, Representative Sinnott has visited all of the 15 counties in the Northern Pacific land grant investigation in the capital city.

Since his arrival in June, he has been in almost every town in his 60,000 square miles of district. It is said.

To Our Friends and Customers:
We are now moving into our new store in the new Moore Electric Co.'s building on Oak street near the Fashion Service Station. We wish at this time to especially thank our many friends and customers for their loyalty in bearing with us the inconvenience of being without a business location while the old building in which we were housed was being wrecked and a new one being built. Although we have been 100% active in radio all summer and have done a volume business this has only been a volume business through loyal cooperation of past customers.
