For Business Optimism

When building is good, business is bound to be good.

(It is now estimated that new construction this year will exceed that of last year by $250,000,000.)

This means a clear track ahead for business men.

This Bank invites business accounts on a basis of mutual profitability.

The Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland, October 31st to November 1st, will show you why better breeding is most profitable. Featured in this Great Exposition are Dairy and Beef Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, Goats, Hens, a Poultry Show, Industrial and Land Products Shows and the celebrated Horse Show.

WHY THE TRUST DEPARTMENT?

There has developed a steadily increasing tendency to name Banks and Trust Companies to render fiduciary services.

In naming our Trust Department to be executor of your will or to handle any other money matters, you thereby give yourself and those depending upon you the benefit of a desirable combination of conditions, one or more of which might be missing when business of this nature is left to any one individual:

Financial Responsibility, Continued Existence, Accumulated Experience, Financial Judgment, Economy and Impartial Viewpoint.

These things are combined in our Trust Department to insure just the attention you would desire in financial business of any kind.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION ON BANQUET TUESDAY WAS SUCCESSFUL

Many Local Folk Participate in Program Disposition is Indicated Over Child Home Board

Although official board and executive meetings had been held during the afternoon, the first session of the 42nd annual program of the W. C. T. U. that brought all of the delegates and scores of local townpeople together Tuesday night at the annual banquet held in the basement parlors of the Astory Methodist church. The delegates in attendance exceeded estimates placed Monday, and Tuesday night it was stated that 200 were here. Indications pointed to one of the most successful conventions ever held.

The banquet was a success from the standpoint of culinary accomplishment, despite the crowded tables, and the program following was said to have been one of the most interesting in the history of the organization. Proceeds from the banquet will be appropriated for the Children's Farm Home at Corvallis. The banquet program was as follows:

Vocal solo, Mrs. A. T. Holmes; reading, Miss Lucille Atkinson; asking of the blessing, Rev. Simpson Hamrick; presentation of the Children's Farm Home; devotionals, Rev. R. A. Hutchinson, pastor of Parkdale Community church; music, women's chorus; welcoming addresses—For the city, Mayor A. B. Deussen; Apple Growers Association and chamber of commerce, A. F. Steele; schools, City Supt. A. M. Cannon; club women, Mrs. Chas. Castner; W. C. T. U., Mrs. J. E. Ferguson; response, Mrs. G. L. Buland; address of appreciation, Mrs. Helen Ayres Davenport; demonstration of Children's Farm Home, Mrs. Mamie Wolfe.

Indications of heated disagreement over the return of Mrs. Ida B. Callahan, a retiring director of the Children's Farm Home, were reported by delegates who attended preliminary sessions Tuesday afternoon. While the directors will not be named until Friday morning, Mrs. Callahan's name was broached Tuesday, and immediately the evidence of strong opposition cropped out. Those who expressed themselves declared that Mrs. Callahan was not a good W. C. T. U. member and that she had not paid her dues. Mrs. Callahan, whose home is in Corvallis, has long been prominent in circles of Oregon Women's clubs. She is an ex-president of the Oregon State Federation of Women's clubs, and it was stated that she will have a long record.

The full personnel of the retiring members of the farm home board is Judge Walter Evans, Mrs. Nancy A. Riley, Mrs. Mary L. Mallet, Mrs. Callahan, Mrs. D. H. Bodine and Chas. Hall. Mr. Hall's name was also broached Tuesday afternoon, and it was indicated that he will be returned to the directorate. Some sentiment in opposition, however, was dropped, but the main elements of the delegation, it was stated, are strongly behind him. He being declared that he had always been a strong supporter of the farm home.

Weather conditions are ideal for the convention. A delegate from Portland said that she was confident that the weather will remain good.

"I was at one of the earlier Billy Sunday meetings in Portland," she said, "and I heard Mr. Sunday pray for good weather for the length of his meetings. I believe her prayers were answered, and that we will have a fine convention."

The chief business of yesterday was the appointment of committees and reports of officers of the organization. Mrs. Mallet, the president, delivered her annual address yesterday afternoon.

The program of this evening is creating more interest than other. At this time Governor Walter M. Evers will deliver an address on "The Crime Wave," and Federal Prohibition Director Roy C. Lyle will talk on problems facing his department.

The publicity committee of the W. C. T. U. yesterday telegraphed Portland papers expressing regret at the departure of Mrs. Callahan. They desired that she, as well as all of the other hold over members of the children's home had been renominated.

Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 21, 1925. When shown the Hood River dispatch in this morning's paper in reference to her candidacy for the Children's Farm Home Mrs. Ida B. Callahan said that she was not a candidate and if elected would not serve under any circumstances.

The institute being sponsored by the Hood River Women's club, which bids fair to be one of the most important events of women's clubs this winter, will be held next Wednesday. Reservations have been received from the More club—the number of 40; 14 will come from Lyle, five from Rowena, and at least 25 from The Dalles and White Salmon, with equal representation from the other 15 clubs to whom the invitation has been extended.

An invitation is hereby extended to all women of the county whether members of a club or not to attend, and any who wish to make reservations for the luncheon may phone Mrs. E. A. Spauld, chairman of the social committee of the Women's club.

The fact that Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, the state president of the Oregon Federation, is to be the general leader, is of particular interest. The executive board of the Hood River club will serve as the reception committee, and the committee for the day consists of Mrs. L. E. Taft, Mrs. Irvin Parkins, Mrs. Georgiana Rand and Mrs. Chas. H. Castner.

The institute program, which will be held at Riverside Community church, is as follows:

10 a. m.—Call to order; welcome; Mrs. E. G. Blanchard, president of Hood River Women's club; community singing, led by Miss Lois J. Epper, Lyle, Wash.; Women's club organization, Mrs. W. W. PRO-AMATEUR GOLF TOURNAMENT SUNDAY

Birdie and pars will be playing thick and fast Sunday at the Hood River Country club when the professionals and amateurs of every golf club in Oregon meet in the first pro-amateur tournament of Oregon.

The tournament will be a best ball match of 18 holes and the first four men will start at 12:30. Practically every professional in the state will be taking part in the match.

Such stars as Mel Smith, of Waverly; Harold Beer, of Columbia; Frank Rhoads, of Astoria; Johnny Junior, of Portland; Gary Brown, of Clatskanie; and W. H. Jones, of Hood River, are expected to take part.

Other stars are Dick Longstaff, of Tunstall, Oregon state professional champion; Mike Sherry, of West Hills; Tom Stack, of Marshfield, and Graham Murray, of Salem, all will bring their clubs with the intention of breaking the local course record.

Frank Holt, Oregon state amateur champion, will lead the amateurs who will dig divots are Russell Smith, Don Rice, Fortlage Champion, Rusty Helm, Clayton Sharpe, Dr. Nureby, Roy Moe and Johnny Hebetock.

Caddies Wanted. A special call for boys to serve as caddies during the Oregon state professional tournament is being issued today afternoon at the Hood River Country club. Visitors from all parts of the state are expected and the club wishes to live up to its reputation for courtesy by having plenty of caddies for the players. Mr. Routledge asks all boys interested to report at the caddie house as early Sunday as possible.

Merchants to Make Exhibits of Apples. The following committee of local apple shippers has been appointed by Secretary Phillips of the International Apple Shippers at Rochester, N. Y., to take charge of the local celebration of National Apple Week which begins October 31. G. H. Castner, A. W. Peters and P. L. Tompkins. The apple shippers of the mid-Columbia will contribute, through the Hood River Traffic association, composed of all local shippers, toward staging the celebration in Portland.

Activities locally will include exhibits of apples at stores. All merchants will be asked to make displays of the higher grade fruits of leading varieties. Judges will be appointed to select the best exhibits and make awards of merit.

The local shippers will cooperate with the Portland Chamber of Commerce in making Apple Week something of note in the metropolis.

Traffic Remains Heavy. The consistently good fall weather has resulted in an unusually heavy late traffic of automobiles from other states over the Columbia River highway. A traffic count taken Tuesday by Maintenance Supervisor Nickelsen showed the following: Between Mosier and intersection of Columbia River highway and Mount Hood Loop, 993 Oregon cars and 255 foreign cars; between Hood River and Lees Ferry intersection, 1,729 Oregon cars and 236 foreign.

At Cascade Locks the following traffic was shown: Oregon cars, 1,144; and foreign, 312.

The Hotel Waukena has made its tables much more comfortable and attractive by installing new leather overstuffed chairs. The place has been beautified by placing palms, ferns and a banana palm in there.

Mr. and Mrs. Oran C. Woolpert, of Wenatchee, where Mr. Woolpert has charge of the office of Dan Wolfe & Co., have been assisting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Woolpert and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Knight.

MAT BOUT IS PLANNED

MORTENSEN WILL MATCH FOR BOUT Local Man Set to Take Championship From Fred Mortensen

It is in order that Fred Mortensen may meet Ted Thys here the evening of Friday, October 23, in a final wrestling match for the championship light heavyweight belt, a move has been started to sign up 100 business men and orchardists to raise a guarantee for the champion. In a handicap match last Friday evening Thys was unable to throw Mortensen in 60 minutes of hard wrestling. The local man was able to escape from all the holds secured by Thys. Toward the end of the evening contest, Mortensen seemed to have an edge on his opponent, and local fans expressed the belief that Mortensen can take the belt from Thys.

No athletic event has ever created more interest among local folk. Since last Friday's match the Thys-Mortensen finish match has been the chief talk of the town, and it is predicted that the theatre building will be crowded. It will be the first time a championship event has ever been staged in Hood River.

White Salmon and The Dalles fans are displaying a keen interest in the coming event and indications point to a big crowd from both places.

Mrs. Hershner is Back from Omaha. Mrs. Harold Hershner, just back from Omaha, where she attended the annual convention of the American Legion and Women's Auxiliary, declares that the experience leaves its inspiring impress. Commenting on the convention she said:

"One has only to attend a national convention of the American Legion or its Auxiliary to realize the power, responsibilities and achievements of these groups associated for food and country."

The outstanding feature of the American Legion national convention held at Omaha, outside the business sessions, was the visit and address of President Coolidge at the Legion parade. Over 10,000 legionnaires were reviewed in this parade by President and Mrs. Coolidge. Omaha hosts of the largest get, which took 20 minutes to give. The Auxiliary of Omaha is also the largest, having 1,000 members. The Oregon boys marched behind the head of the parade, being fifth in membership. Hood River was represented by Ray and Sam Baker.

All States dinner was the big social event. Twelve hundred guests were seated, each state's table being decorated with something appropriate to that state. Oregon's table with its Mt. Hood, Crater Lake, and evergreen trees had 21 seated around it. The appetizer during the dinner were great success and much enjoyed by those who don't know real good apples. Speak of Hood River and an asterisk will say, "Yes, that is where they grow sweetest."

The Legion has for its new commander, General John R. McQuigg, 60 years old and a banker of Cleveland, O. Commander McQuigg is national vice president of the undermountain fund. The Auxiliary national president is Mrs. Miss Shepherd, sister of Jack London and from the Valley of the Moon, Calif. Mrs. Shepherd is a big business woman, having managed a 16,000-acre ranch during the war, and is now manager of Jack London's estate.

"The Oregon delegates were accused of bringing Oregon rain with them, but we didn't take the cold weather they treated us to. Iowa, and that part of the country may be where the fall corn grows but, as for me, give me Oregon."

Site of Experiment Farm is Selected. After a day spent in inspecting orchard property offered to the county as a site for a permanent experimental farm for the Hood River branch of the Oregon Experiment Station, Governor Pierce and Director Jardine, of the state station, decided on selecting a tract south of the city on the West Side. They were accompanied by Leroy Childs and Gordon G. Brown, of the local station, and a party of bankers, orchardists and business men.

The visitors motored as far as Homestead Inn, where they ate a picnic lunch. A bill was passed at the station of the legislature last winter authorizing state maintenance of a permanent experimental farm, provided the county purchased such a tract.

Goldendale High Plays Here Friday. The Hood River high school will meet the Goldendale high at Gilson field here tomorrow afternoon at 3 p. m. The Goldendale team is reported to be characterized by strong play, and a hard fought tussle is in anticipation. Coach Garber's lads, however, are in excellent trim and they have promised the fans here a real victory.

Last Friday afternoon the high school team played an aggregation of all stars, including the two coaches, old grads and members of institutions of higher education in former days. The school team won by a score of 10 to 0.

Diphtheria Clinch Victim. Although a case of diphtheria resulted fatally for the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, of the Middle Valley, County Health Officer Edgington says no other active cases of the disease exist, and it is anticipated that a spread of the contagion will be blocked. Several families, the health officer stated, are quarantined.
