WHITE SALMON

Cooperative weather report for 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Saturday: Maximum temperature 60; minimum 37; clear; light west wind.

Misses Krueger, who have been packing apples in the Burdoin Heights district, have returned to White Salmon.

Mrs. Richard J. Bates and son, Bill Hall, returned to their home in Portland Sunday.

Mr. Greene, field man for the American Fruit Growers, visited the Burdoin mountains during the early part of the week. His headquarters are in Hood River.

Petty thieves are again at work in the mountain district. Bates Bros. have installed a burglar alarm which is expected to give exceptionally good results. A new idea.

Dewey Beviere and mother returned to Portland during the week. The former will be back shortly to wind up apple harvest affairs.

A light epidemic of grip has been prevalent here during the past two weeks.

Glyde Nichols, who was in town Friday, reports that one of his daughters is very ill with pneumonia. Mr. Nichols formerly resided on Burdoin mountain.

Reports are persistent that mountain dew is again being manufactured commercially in the higher altitudes here.

Quite a number of the mountain people greatly enjoyed the shows presented at the Dewey movies last week. Bill Brown states that "Never Shall the Twain Meet" and "Excuse Me" were the real thing. The Dewey movies are to be compared on the exceptionally good judgment in the choice of film plays.

An S. O. S. call was broadcast Saturday for a musician to fill in at the Dewey movies owing to the absence of the regular efficient piano player. Sam Earl Coe responded and his musical work was appreciated by the large crowd during the evening.

The West Klickitat Sunday school convention will be held at the Methodist church Sunday afternoon and evening. Mr. Locken, new general secretary of the Inland Empire Sunday School association, will attend both sessions.

Warren Irwin, of the firm of Sorter & Irwin, local garage men, returned from Portland Tuesday with a brand new high grade delivery truck. This firm reports the sales end of their business has been exceptionally good this fall, as has their regular work.

The White Salmon Machine Works reports heavy business, their large shop being taxed to its utmost. This firm specializes in heavy truck work.

John Bue, of the Trout Lake Light & Power Co., who was in White Salmon and Hood River last week, reports his new concrete dam progressing rapidly and that many improvements in his service are to be made before the winter weather sets in.

Teachers' Institute will convene here from Monday to Friday, inclusive, the session ending at noon. Miss Galbreath, of Walla Walla, dean of art at St. Paul's School for Girls, and Miss Tripp are scheduled for addresses. A reception will be given by the White Salmon Women's club Tuesday evening at the high school gym for the visiting teachers. A style show featuring costumes of ancient and modern times will be presented at the reception, hoop skirts and "everything". Tuesday afternoon the guests will be taken for a scenic drive.

"Plantation Days" will be presented here by the Western Klickitat community chorus late in November. This popular club is now lining up for the event.

Tuesday Mrs. Roy Heaman, Mrs. Zener, Mrs. Earl Coe and Mrs. Chester T. Dewey played golf on the Hood River links. Mr. Dewey captured a prize on this occasion.

Miss Betty Pearce is reported quite ill with pneumonia.

D. H. Sorter, county game commissioner, has planted wild rice in North-western lake to feed the "ducks" and attract sportsmen to the spot. He was assisted by Geo. A. Bead and Ollie Hensley, local sportsmen.

Duck shooting in this and Trout Lake districts is not very good as yet. Colder weather and a storm or two will start 'em.

The hard times dance pulled off at Underwood Saturday night was hard on right; at least some of the participants found it that way when revenue officers raided the joint and arrested several White Salmon "hope-fuls." A motorist driving on the highway before the raid was spotted a small crowd trying to force their way past a stricken person lying by the roadside and stopped to investigate and lend assistance, if necessary. He said: "What's wrong?" The reply: "Aw, nothing; only a lay-dee drinkin'." Decent people here extend thanks to the person, or persons, who tipped it off to the officers.

YAKIMA CUT-OFF HIGHWAY BOOSTED

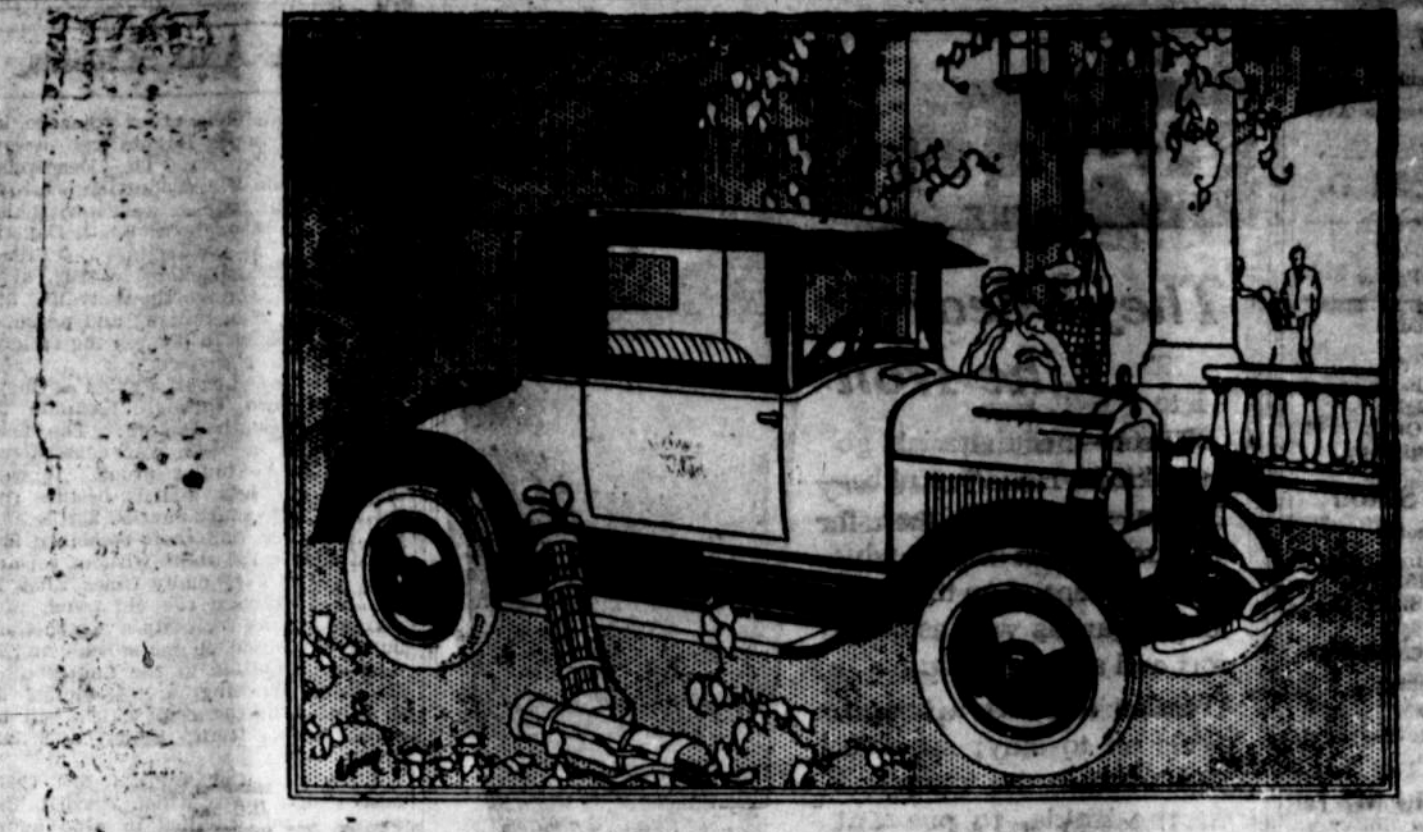

Plans of the Hood River and Yakima, Wash., chambers of commerce, call for an early conference in Portland with the chamber of commerce there for the purpose of petitioning the Indian department of the federal government for aid in constructing the Hood River-Yakima cut-off highway across the Indian reservation. The proposed new route, which passes from White Salmon to Glenwood, and thence across the Big Muddy river into the reservation, is only 106 miles long. It cuts an approximate 50 miles from the present distance.

Seventy-two miles of the proposed highway are in the Indian reservation. The Indian department already broached on the matter of aid for the highway by the Yakima chamber, appeared favorable.

Agitation for the short cut highway was started here, in Yakima and in Portland several years ago. All three cities have already made substantial private subscriptions toward construction of incomplete links. Yakima county has appropriated funds for surveys. Engineers recently completed a survey across the Indian reservation, and boosters for the highway are ready, it was stated, to present the federal authorities with detailed plans.

Hotel Case Postponed

Because of the illness of James I. Conley, attorney for Claude Starr, head of the Columbia Gorge Hotel Co., the matter of permanent appointment of a receiver for the hotel company was postponed Monday by Judge Wilson, here to preside at an equity term of circuit court. Robert E. Rankin, Portland attorney, acting for holders of $150,000 in bonds issued by the company, had instituted suit, seeking the receivership, and the Portland Trust

ELKS PLAN PARTY AT WHITE SALMON

The Hood River Elks lodge will give a dancing party this evening at the American Legion hall at White Salmon. The lodge has a large membership there. The party is a large membership party with an emergency in the matter of the hotel receivership, to get together on a circuit judge of Multnomah county and have him come here to preside over court for hearing the case.

Shipping Man Here Last Week

George Powell, of the Oregon-Pacific Co., which has charge of the Portland sailings of the Royal Mail Packet line and the Holland-America line steamers, was here last week conferring with apple shippers. The two lines, which in past years have held an important place in getting Hood River apples to United Kingdom and European ports, have offered more frequent sailings this season, and Mr. Powell stated he was expecting a large volume of apples, despite the fact that the crop estimates have been cut severely the past two weeks.

Savings bank had been appointed temporary receiver.

Judge Wilson announced that he would leave Tuesday for Pendleton for a two-week session of circuit court there. He told attorneys, in case they met with an emergency in the matter of the hotel receivership, to get together on a circuit judge of Multnomah county and have him come here to preside over court for hearing the case.

Big Orchard Deal Made

The purchase of 317 acres of orchard and farm land, the filing of articles of incorporation at $100,000, the proposed erection of a $150,000 cold storage plant with packing facilities, and erection of 25 bungalows for employees at Voorhies, a short distance south of Medford, by the Suncrest Orchards company was announced Saturday by L. A. Banks, an official of the company. The acreage purchased includes three orchards and 40 acres of cleared land suitable for orchard planting, all near the company packing plant at Voorhies.

The consideration, which was said to have been approximately $100,000, is one of the largest Medford deals in recent months.

Apples Given for Charity

F. E. A. Smith, of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective society, who spent the past week here soliciting funds and fruit for the Albertina Kerr nursery home and Louise home, of Portland, stated Saturday that orchardists had donated more than 200 boxes of apples. Housewives have given canned fruit. Mr. Smith said he was gratified at the cash contributions made by local business folk.

Bridge Revenue Good

Although opened only December 6 of last year, the interstate bridge across the Columbia here has already paid holders of seven per cent preferred stock one dividend and another is slated for early in the coming January. The traffic over the bridge has been heavy the past summer. The record revenue was reached in July, when tolls reached $8,900.

George Corwin, of Hood River, is playing a line position on the Freshman team. He has been elected to membership on the freshman athletic council and has been appointed as a reporter on the Quest, students' weekly newspaper.

Two Hood River girls entered Reed this year, Miss Lois Jean Sinclair and Miss Gladys Hull. The latter is a member of the Reed chorus.

Two Hood River region boys have made places on class football teams at Reed College. No intercollegiate football is played at Reed and placing on a class team, therefore, is a coveted honor.

W. Beaufort Doggett, who registers from Mount Hood, is playing backfield for the upperclass team. He is heavy and fast.
