STABILIZING THE FARM INCOME

Although but one of several important ways of stabilizing the farm income, diversification of crops, combined with the addition of a well-balanced dairy herd, is of no doubt the most important. The workability and soundness of this method is the same as that exemplified by the business man who scatters his investments so that a single failure cannot exhaust his resources.

In our cooperation with the farmers of this section, we have seen the benefits of diversified farming indelibly impressed upon the progress of this community. We believe that more general practice along this line will do much to permanently better local agricultural conditions and are therefore unsparing in our encouragement in this regard.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION OVER

MEETING NEXT YEAR AT GRESHAM

More Than 125 Delegates Entertained at Successful Gathering With Hood River Union

After four days of busy sessions at the Asbury Methodist church, the delegates to the 42nd Oregon W. C. T. U. convention hurried away to their homes last night, after a most enjoyable and profitable gathering, all praising the members of the Hood River union and folk of Hood River in general for their hospitality.

The women's organizations of various churches took turns in serving meals in the parlors of the church, thus making it convenient for delegates. Gresham was chosen for the annual convention next year.

Closing the 42nd convention the following officers were re-elected: Mrs. Mary L. Mallett, Portland, president; Mrs. Rachel Ellis, Madras, vice president; Mrs. Jane M. Donaldson, Portland, treasurer; secretary, Y. B. Mrs. E. B. Andrews, Oregon City, and secretary L. T. L. Mrs. Maud Millie, S. Helena. The only new officer named was Mrs. Linda Bell Schmidt, Hood River, recording secretary.

State superintendents named were: Anti-narcotics, Mrs. Jeanie R. Preenell; Americanization, Mrs. Helen Ayer Davenport; Christian citizenship, Mrs. Margaret Kimmel; child welfare, Mrs. Minnie E. Huddleston; circulation of official papers, Mrs. Marion Gilbert; fair and exhibits, Mrs. Mabel Korstad; flower mission and relief, Mrs. Rosemary E. Green; grants to children's farm home league, Mrs. Mable Wolf; health, Dr. Cora Ingham; institutes, Mrs. Madge J. Meares; legislation, Mrs. G. D. Buland; farm home, Mrs. Ida M. Colson; medical content, Mrs. E. M. Ford; medical temperance, Mrs. E. S. Collins; parliamentary usage, Mrs. Ella Beecher Gittings; peace and arbitration, Mrs. Florence Bentley; prison reform, Mrs. Sarah Oliver; publicity, Mrs. Eva Pillsbury; social morality, Mrs. Margaret R. Martin; Sabbath observance, Mrs. Lillie Wallis; scientific temperance instruction, Mrs. Leta E. Boyer; and sailors, Mrs. Miss Booth; temperance and missions, Mrs. M. Frances Swape; work among colored people, Mrs. M. E. Fullilove; motion pictures, Mrs. A. H. Cuddeback, secretary.

The convention adopted the following resolution:

"Inasmuch as the W. C. T. U. has had long experience in working for prohibition, we recognize and condemn as well as oppose the manufacturing of, and the sale of, intoxicating liquors. We urge the enforcement of the law, and we urge our full support to those officers and agents who are sincerely trying to enforce our law."

All the retiring members of the directors of the Children's Farm Home were re-elected. They were: Judge Walter Evans, Mrs. Mary P. Riley, Mrs. Mary L. Mallett, Mrs. Ida Callahan, Mrs. D. H. Bodine, and Charles Hall.

In an address Thursday night Governor Walter M. Pierce, after dipping into history to cite crime waves that he overtook in his gubernatorial office, reached the climax of his talk when he ascribed among reasons for the crime wave of today the publication of crime news in newspapers.

Other reasons given for America's crime wave by Governor Pierce were: The influx of criminal classes from eastern Europe in waves of immigration; modern inventions, the breakdown of home life, motion pictures and salacious literature in modern magazines as found on the news stands.

Governor Pierce appealed to the members of the W. C. T. U. to see the newspapers of their respective counties and demand the closing of their columns of crime news. Then, he declared, it will be time to try the same process on the Portland dailies. He cited the recent penitentiary outbreak as an example of the daily press to give space to details of crime to increase circulation and thus be able to charge more for their advertising.

"Why," said Governor Pierce, "our Portland newspapers printed and sold 50,000 extras on the capture of Tom Murray. The Portland newspapers detailed 15 men to dig up every detail of this case. One special writer came to my office. He told me he had a wife and family to support. 'Give me something, any bit of silt on which to write a special story.'"

And before he had finished Governor Pierce declared that the delay of justice by the red tape of the judiciary was another reason for the crime wave.

"It has taken three weeks to secure a conviction of Tom Murray, who shot a guard at the state penitentiary. That trial has been an indictment on the judiciary of Oregon. I wonder how long it would have taken to convict him and mete out punishment under the Cassin law."

Address Thursday night were delivered by State Prohibition Director William S. Levens and Roy C. Lyle, federal prohibition administrator for the Tenth Judicial District. District Mr. Lyle cited the special problems confronting his district, the largest in area by far in the United States. The interposition of wet British Columbia between Alaska and Washington, parts of the district along with Oregon, he declared, presented trying difficulties.

Mr. Lyle said that the use of the airplane in delivery of contraband was now making new difficulties for his department.

Mr. Lyle touched on the quality of illicit liquor. He said that an analysis of samples taken by his men showed that not one per cent of it was free from poison. The bulk of the product, Mr. Lyle said, is rank poison and a menace to life.

Mr. Levens urged the citizens of all communities to repress confidence in their sheriffs and officers and to cooperate with them. He urged that they be commended for activities in law enforcement. He appealed to the better element of the people to attend court trials and to encourage judges and officers by their presence. He declared that the membership of fraternal bodies, the oaths of which obligate their members to upholding the Constitution, can wield a mighty influence toward bringing about an obedience to laws of the land.

BOUT IS SET FOR MONDAY

MORTENSEN WILL FIGHT FOR BEST LOCAL WRESTLER WILL ATTEND CHAMPIONSHIP FROM TOLVON

Mid-Columbia athletic fans have never displayed as keen an interest in an approaching bout as in the clash between Mortensen and Tully. Light heavyweight champion of Portland, and Fred Mortensen, local carpenter and challenger, scheduled for this city at the Rialto theatre next Monday night. They for the past two years have been the holder of a championship belt, which he took from Pete Sauer, of Phoenix, Ariz. Sauer won the belt in 1922, when it was purchased by the wrestling fans of Santa Paula, Calif.

Mortensen, who has been in the valley the past three months, working as a carpenter, has won friends among all classes of people. His popularity is attested by the fact that an approximate 100 citizens, lawyers, doctors, business men, clerks and working men have signed the guaranty fund necessary to bring the champion here. They will receive $500 for the fight. Entries are being closed at Parkside and other upper valley points and in other mid-Columbia towns of Oregon and Washington. The keen interest being shown by the fans indicates that the crowd present for the bout will set a new record for this section of the country.

Since the date for the bout was definitely announced, it has created a primary topic of conversation in store and office of professional men. An element of local fans is certain that they will not permit Mortensen to have the belt, that the champion will use all possible defenses to stay back to the mat twice during a match. Arguments wax warm over the event.

The preliminary event of Monday evening will be a one-half hour bout between Bob Kruse, 19-year-old phenomenal wrestler, of Oregon City, and Young George, of Spokane. Kruse will receive the main event.

As a result of a popular request, Leo, aged 10, and Clara Marie, aged 8, Mortensen's children, famed for their physical perfection, will stage an exhibition of gymnastics.

The world's light heavyweight championship belt has been brought from Portland and is now on exhibition at the store of J. C. Penny Co. It is attracting a great deal of attention.

COHEN BROS. BUY THE M.-E.-S. STORE

R. L. Cohen, who operates a large department store at Washington and Second streets in Portland, yesterday closed a deal for the purchase of the Melden - Huelst - Bethur department store here. They have started talking inventory for a clearance and retiring sale, which will begin tomorrow. S. Bernstein and E. Friedman, who have been connected with the Portland business, are here associated with the purchasers of the store in getting ready for opening under the new management.

The new owners state that the stock now on the shelves at the store will be closed out at sensational prices.

"We are going to restock the store," said Mr. Cohen, "and we are going to stock the people of Hood River want to attend this coming sale, for they will find the prices will be slaughtered."

LEGION NOTES

Another year durs near gone, and we don't know where to. Next Monday night, November 2, we will have our annual officers for 1926. Let's make the November and December meetings the biggest of the year. Some of you fellows haven't been to a Legion meeting this year. Drag yourself out next Monday evening and have to talk the boys up, have to encourage for commander, vice-commander, adjutant, finance officer, chaplain, high-organizer and two members of the executive committee. These officers have to run your post during the next year, and if they aren't the right ones, it will be your fault. If you have any ideas, come up and spring them Monday night. Let's have a real contest for every office.

The executive committee has picked three sheets of the "B" to furnish entertainment for the next meeting. They are Leon Bentley, chairman; Percy Bucklin and Bill Baker. They are to furnish a 15-minute program. We don't know what it is, but it's sure to be good.

Your 1926 card is here, and quite a number of legionnaires have already paid their dues. They are due and payable to Harold Hershner or Don Colebrook. This year we want to have every member paid up by November 30, so come across early with $2.50. You can spare it now as well as next spring. If you know any eligible non-legionnaires bring them up Monday night, and we'll get them up. If you can't get him, turn his name over to someone who can. There are still a few ex-service men in Hood River who don't belong to the Legion. Let's get them now.

We all remember the Armistice Day seven years ago, when we stopped fighting. We can't get out of the habit. First thing Armistice Day morning we are going to have some fights. Hood River high plays Camas in the afternoon, and we have our annual stag banquet in the evening preceding the big dance. Mortimer and his gang are hard at work, getting things lined up for the big day. We don't know all of his plans, but when he mentions "banquet" he has a kind of "wiser than thou" attitude. Let it be good. This year Armistice Day will be a homecoming for some of the old boys who are not in our midst now. Let's make every Armistice Day a homecoming day in the Legion.

Have you seen Ray Lee and Bill Baker lately? They are sure chuck full of convention, having recently made a pilgrimage to Omaha. More Monday night.

Leroy Burnsworth, who has been in Forest Grove, has now moved to Kennewick, Wash., and has asked for a transfer to the Kennewick post. We are sorry to lose him.

The quartet has been reorganized and is working to get some stuff for the Armistice Day banquet. Tolvo Annala has taken Jimmy Collier's place.

A real drum corps is what we will have in the near future. Hood River has been exceptionally lucky in getting an honest-to-goodness instructor for the corps. Comrade Luther, late of the U.S.M.O., and for years a drum corps instructor, has taken the boys in hand, and we will guarantee results. State champs next year, and no fooling.

Legion luncheon will be held Friday in the Mt. Hood Hotel dining room, instead of the Hood River Drug Co. If you are in town at noon, come down and eat with the gang.

Make your plans to be in town all day November 11. Here's the line-up: 10 a. m. parade of drum corps, preceding the boxing card at the Rialto theatre at 10:30; 2 p. m. band concert, Hood River K. of P. band and exhibition drill by Legion drum and bugle corps; 2:30 p. m. football, Hood River vs. Camas, Wash., at 3:30 p. m. second annual Legion stag banquet, L. O. O. F. hall; 9 p. m. ball, K. P. hall.

TWIN PEAKS MOTOR CO. IS NEW NAME

The Twin Peaks Motor Co. is the name of a new automobile concern just incorporated for business here. The incorporators are E. E. Elliott, P. B. Rife and S. B. Faxon. Mr. Faxon was formerly supervisor for the Durant Motor Co., of California, and for the past year has been northwestern division manager for the Flint Motor Co. He will come here to make his home and will be actively associated with Messrs. Rife and Elliott in the business.

Rife & Elliott, both long known in Portland motor trade circles, came here recently and purchased the Highway Auto Co. from Herbert B. Field. They have been very successful in the distribution of Star and Durant cars since their arrival here.

The new automobile concern is celebrating its inauguration with the display of the 1926 Flint. This new car, because of its beauty, action and mechanical perfection, has won many friends and admirers among those who have viewed it at the show rooms of the Twin Peaks company.

MRS. JOHN DETHMAN PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Funeral services for Mrs. John Dethman, whose death occurred at 1:15 a. m. Monday at her home at Long Beach, Wash., were held there Tuesday. The body was brought to Portland, where cremation occurred at the Portland Crematorium yesterday.

Mrs. Dethman's death was very sudden. Last week Mr. and Mrs. G. Dethman, accompanied by their daughters and son-in-law, Mrs. Fred Donnerberg, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Abraham, of Albany, and son, Fred Dethman, of this city, motored to Long Beach for a visit.

The latter part of last week Mrs. Dethman was stricken with what appeared a severe cold. Her sister-in-law and Mrs. Donnerberg remained at Long Beach while all the other members of the party left for home early Sunday morning. They were shocked to receive a telephone message Monday telling of her death.

Members of the Dethman family motored to Portland yesterday to attend services at the crematorium.
