

The Key to Beautiful Homes

COLOR harmony in the home

Home lovers who seek new and more pleasing color schemes for their homes will accept with delight the new "mottletone" finish for walls. No other wall treatment offers such possibilities in color harmony. By the soft blending or "mottletoning" of two colors, the walls are made to harmonize with the hangings, rugs or furniture, as desired.

With FLAT COAT WALL PAINT, the two-tone effect now being used by the best decorators may be obtained at small cost. This finish has the added advantage of being washable. Ask for a color card which shows a number of color combinations obtainable through mottletoning, and explains fully how the work is done.

You can now paint your property and pay on the Bass-Hueter Monthly Payment Plan. Call and let us explain this plan to you.

MOSIER

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Young and Y. C. Young, of Portland, were in Hood Sunday.

Let us not forget the Sunday school rally to be held in Hood, November 5. This is a district rally and will offer a very interesting program both afternoon and evening. Following is the program for the afternoon session: Devotional; address of welcome; response, Mrs. Tindall of Rowena; "Needs of Religious Education," Mrs. Robinson of Rowena; round table talk, led by Mrs. Ross; song by congregation; "Old-time Religious Education," Mr. Ross; song by Rowena Sunday school; address, Mrs. Johnson, of Portland. The evening program follows: Devotional; piano solo, Nedra Evans; "Importance of Women's Day Bible Study," Miss McClure; song, quartet; round table by the intermediates, led by Mrs. Gilhousen, of The Dalles; duet, Marcella Race and Myrtle Hads; address, Prof. Blanchard; song, congregation; address, Mrs. Johnson, of Portland. Everyone is invited to attend both afternoon and evening sessions. Come and bring a friend.

Mrs. W. E. Clark was a visitor in The Dalles Friday.

Several pupils of the Mosier public school, also one of the high school teachers took advantage of a commercial airplane which was taking up passengers recently in Hood River.

Mrs. Eugenia Davidson left Thursday for a visit in St. Helens.

Mrs. Geo. Carroll was in The Dalles Monday.

The many friends of Mrs. Ray Bailey are pleased to see her able to be out again.

Mrs. Parley and Mrs. Scarce accompanied Robt. Scarce to Portland in his new sedan Saturday.

Leslie Ross, who has been attending an electric school in Portland, was here for a few days recently.

Alvon Craft was a guest at the Carroll home last Wednesday.

W. E. Chown was in Hood Monday.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Peterson, both of the American Sunday School union, held an interesting service in the Christian church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Mosier motored to The Dalles Wednesday.

Misses Alice Shogren and Jean Shogren were in Hood River Friday.

A. Taggezell went to Portland Thursday.

Last week was "Old Troubles" week throughout the nation. Entertainment was given at the school auditorium Friday evening at which money collected by the Mosier school children was presented to Mr. Baker, a representative of the Elks lodge, which is promoting the drive to preserve the U.S.S. Constitution. Several creditable essays were read, which will be sent in to compete for a county, state or national prize. The money collected by the Mosier school was presented by a pupil from each room to Mr. Baker. The latter, representing the Elks lodge of Hood River, was the main speaker of the evening.

J. R. Wilcox and Joe Weller motored to Portland Saturday to see the football game, following which they went to Independence for a short hunting trip.

Mrs. George Chamberlain, who has recently undergone an operation in Hood River hospital, was brought home Wednesday and is improving rapidly.

Uncas Marsh underwent an operation for appendicitis Wednesday. He is reported to be getting along well.

Wm. Marsh was under the doctor's care last week with a severe attack of lung trouble.

The High School club of the Y. W. C. A. gave a farewell to Miss Liebetrau, retiring secretary of The Dalles Y. W. C. A., recently. The younger club was invited and a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

The Boy Scouts held a meeting in the school house last week.

J. O. Beldin motored to Bend Monday.

Mrs. Bailey was in The Dalles Monday.

Mrs. Ed Duvall, of Astoria, arrived Thursday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Root.

Not many hunters have a deer present at their back door or run along in front of their car for a quarter of a mile but such was the experience of Geo. Chamberlain and Chas. T. Bennett one day last week. Ask them about it.

Mosier hills are still aglow with the autumn colors with here and there a belated blossom still in evidence. Many children are seen coming in with their arms full of highly colored foliage from the woods.

Praise! Praise! Star Praise

—on Everyone's Lips

BIG, honest value for the money is winning coast-wide and coast-long praise for the Star Car. Fighting its way towards leadership on the sole issue of value, Star is the talk and the sensation of a thousand "Auto Rows."

—now, those people know the truth, for every startling claim has been backed up in such practical fashion as never before witnessed in the annals of the Pacific Coast automobile industry.

Star praise is earned, deserved praise! Star praise is the natural, enthusiastic applause that good, red-blooded Americans always give to an unusually superior product.

Opportunity!—you pay only as much as you desire under the generous, history-making terms of the Star Gold Certificate Save and Earn Plan. Investigate today!

By its epoch-making high gear power achievements, the famous Million Dollar Motor proves for all time that Star values are practical values—proves that there is an immense opportunity for thousands to get hitherto-unknown motoring satisfaction at the lowest prices.

STAGE AND SCREEN

Milton Ross, who plays the part of Dr. Carter in the White Desert, which will show at the Rialto Theatre Friday and Saturday, entered motion pictures quite by accident.

Ross was born at Modesto, Calif., and played on the legitimate stage for years. While playing on the stage in Los Angeles he visited Thomas H. Ince at his studio and Ince insisted on making a test of him. The test turned out so favorable that Ince has been in pictures ever since.

Claire Windsor and Pat O'Malley head the cast of "The White Desert," supported by Robert Fraser, Frank Currier, Mathew Betz, Trizie Ferguson, Berta Edwards, Willie Brown, Sidney Bracey, Eriellia Bonner, May Laidlaw, David Dasher, John, Bert Spotter and Milton Ross.

Richard Washburn Child, former minister to Italy, and an author of prominence, caused a furor in this country when he wrote, "Here's How." Whenever the purpose of the author, the public is afforded opportunity of forming his own opinion through the medium of the screen for Universal Pictures corporation bought the film rights to "Here's How," and under the title, "The White Desert," it will be shown at the Rialto Theatre Sunday.

The general impression is that Mr. Child was actuated upon his return from Italy to find that certain elements of the body politic of this country had gone mad with wild and that the prohibition laws had resulted in unusual indulgence in the forbidden stimulants.

Furthermore, the stage is taken so, indeed, that not only is the author against the very and liberal conventions that govern the conduct of the youth of the land, especially those of wealthy families, but also the attitude of some parents is a subject demanding general consideration.

"The Mad Whirl" was made with a cast of unusual prominence so far as the principals are concerned. It is said to have been produced on a lavish scale so far as settings and general atmosphere are concerned. May McAvoy has the feature role, and others of the all-star aggregation are Jack McHall, Myrtle Stedman, Barbara Bedford, Alec B. Francis, Ward Crane, George Fawcett, Marie Astaire and Joseph Singleton. It was directed by Wm. A. Seltzer, who made "The Family Secret" and "The Fast Worker."

Al St. John has selected a new leading lady to play the leading role with him in "Dynamite Doggie," the Educational-Tuzedo comedy which will be shown at the Rialto Theatre next Thursday. She is Miss Christine Francis, a stunning brunette, who has appeared in many of the other Tuzedo comedies with this well-known and acrobatic star.

In addition to St. John and Miss Francis, George Davis and John Sinclair will also have prominent parts. Mr. Davis, now a well known comedy character man, was formerly a noted circus clown and acrobat. Mr. Sinclair has appeared in many Tuzedo comedies also.

The main support of St. John, however, will be "Pete," the canine star. He will be remembered as the funny bulldog with the ring about his right eye. The comedy was made under the direction of Grover Jones.

William Worthington, who was responsible for a number of the most successful of the Essene Hayakawa productions when that star was at the zenith of his career, directed "The Girl on the Stairs," the Elmer Harris production starring Patsy Ruth Miller, which comes to the Rialto theatre next Thursday. This picture marks Worthington's return to the directorial fold from which he attempted to retire a year ago and, from advance reports, the success of the production is going to make his retirement all the more difficult. "The Girl on the Stairs" is an original adaptation by Harris of Winston Bouve's magazine story of the same name and was produced through out under his personal supervision.

Oregon Apples Go to Honolulu

Oregon apples for Hawaiians were shipped from Portland Saturday on the Oceanic motorship Carriso, which departed that date for Honolulu and Hilo. The vessel had more than two 10,000 cases of pineapple to Portland on the inbound voyage.

The apples taken by the Carriso were of high quality, it was stated, and of different size than is ordinarily bought by Europeans for shipment there. The Carriso took a large assortment of other cargo, including flour, lumber and manufactured goods. She brought 10,000 cases of pineapple to Portland on the inbound voyage.

The largest apple shipment thus far this season was taken this week by the fully refrigerated steamer Narentia of the Royal Mail line. The Narentia loaded approximately 85,000 boxes in Portland.

The refrigerated steamer Royalstar of the Blue Star line loaded several thousand boxes at the Portland port.

Mrs. Howe Again Owns Cottage Farm

Mrs. Alma L. Howe, who founded the Cottage Farm, the valley's first summer resort, and who traded the place two years ago to Mrs. Claudia Kimmel and Mrs. Blanche Eggleston for a Portland apartment house, has retraced the Portland property to the women and is again owner of the resort.

Mrs. Howe has made no announcement as to the future operation of Cottage Farm, a place of pastoral quiet just southwest of the city, where scores of Portland families had been accustomed to come for vacations. The farm was especially attractive to families with small children.
