

All GENERAL dealers are "Home Folks"!

To make GENERAL Gasoline the most efficient fuel that a distinctive, modern refining process can produce, and then to market it to the public as economically as possible—that is an important feature of the policy of General Petroleum Corporation.

And so, GENERAL does not and will not compete with its authorized dealers. Every GENERAL dealer is an independent, self-operating business man, selected carefully for fitness to serve the public well and authorized to sell GENERAL products.

Consequently, all GENERAL Dealers are "home folks." Each is interested vitally in the welfare of his community; each is dependent on the success of his neighbors and the patronage of his neighbors for his own success. Each sells GENERAL because he wants to.

CHARLES LOZIER DIES AT HOSPITAL

The body of Charles Lozier, who had been a patient at the institution, where he died Thursday, was brought here Friday from the Walla Walla, Wash., Veterans' hospital. Mr. Lozier, great war veteran, had been in Walla Walla since early summer. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lozier.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Anderson parlors, Rev. W. O. Livingstone officiating. Interment followed at Idlewild cemetery.

Mr. Lozier's health had been in a precarious condition since the great

WHITE SALMON

Cooperative weather report for 24-hour period ending at 5 p. m. Saturday: Maximum temperature 47, minimum 32, cloudy, high west wind.

Word was received Saturday that Richard, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bates, former Burdoin Heights residents now living in Portland, was in the ill-fated Rose City street car which left the rails and tumbled over, injuring four people Friday. The lad was slightly injured about the head and climbed out of a window unassisted.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Clark, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bates and two sons of Portland, were Sunday visitors at Bates Bros., Burdoin Heights. The party returned to Portland via the Columbia River highway Sunday evening.

Dewey Bevier and mother left for Portland Saturday, where the latter will spend the winter.

Bill Brown, mayor of North White Salmon, who runs Burdoin Heights affairs, delivered to Trout Lake Friday to attend the Jensen auction sale, returning Saturday. His car was loaded with linens and a tired old ice cream freezer, but not the Ford truck he coveted. He reports the sale a big one and the crowd immense. Several White Salmon, Pleasant View, Husum and Underwood people were in attendance. John Wyers, the popular and witty auctioneer, acquitted himself in the usual manner, although he was suffering from a bad cold.

The Snowden Commercial club is fathering a movement to extend the Snowden road from Dorr's corner at Mountain Brook to the Locke road, where the Jarvis saw mill is under construction. A big meeting was held at Snowden recently to talk the matter over. Several White Salmon business men were in attendance and favored the project. At the close of the meeting a big feast was served, otherwise duty retirement, the lady co-respondents put it. On this occasion the tables fairly groaned with good things to eat and everyone was delighted.

Miss Betty Pearce, of Mountain Brook, who has been ill with pneumonia, is reported as being much improved.

Miss Eleanor Burlingame is assisting Mrs. Alec Miller in caring for Mr. Miller, who has been very ill.

Dr. and Mrs. Miller, of Hood River, were callers at the Alec Miller home Sunday. Dr. Miller has several regular patients on this side of the Columbia river.

Chas. McEwen, county game warden, and J. H. Sorter, member of the Klickitat county game commission, attended a meeting of the game commissioners of six eastern counties of Washington at Walla Walla recently relative to the protection of migratory birds and patrolling of the river. State and federal officers will aid Klickitat county in enforcing the laws.

Lieut. Louis Clatterbos, former resident here, graduate of West Point Military Academy, is now serving as military instructor at the California Military school in Pasadena, and is also athletic instructor there. He had been stationed in Virginia previous to going to Pasadena September 1. Mrs. Clatterbos and baby will join him later.

Irving H. Evans, old time rancher who has resided in the Major Creek canyon district for many years, has discarded the use of old Dobbin and is now negotiating the mountain roads with a Buick touring car purchased from Sorter & Irwin, Buick-Chevrolet dealers here. Mr. Evans came originally from Chicago, where he was employed by a big ice concern before the advent of the automobile. He is a successful grower of Spitz and Newtown apples and he and Mrs. Evans have tried out silver fox farming on a small scale, but the scales failed to balance owing to the foxy principles of unscrupulous fox farm promoters.

Tuesday night's style show and reception sponsored by the White Salmon Woman's club was a huge success in every sense of the word. The show was directed by Mrs. Bert Heaman and was given in honor of the visiting teachers who attended teachers' institute last week.

Mrs. A. C. Keefaver and daughter, Ruth, of Goldendale, are visiting at the home of Mrs. E. S. Pinn, mother of Mrs. Keefaver.

A large delegation from this side of the river is expected to attend the meeting at the Mount Hood hotel in Hood River Wednesday evening to discuss the Glenwood-Yakima road.

M. D. Armstrong, horticultural specialist, and head of that department at Washington State College at Pullman, is scheduled for an interesting address to orchardists here Friday.

Edward H. Cornett, who had served this district as deputy county assessor for many years, died of heart failure at his home here Thursday morning. Mr. Cornett was born in 1868 at Bethel, Ore. He was married to Miss Mussetta Montgomery at Hillsboro, Ore., in 1891 and moved to White Salmon in 1905. He was a member of the Christian church, and an Odd Fellow, having served as secretary of the lodge here for many years. Besides his widow, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Bernice Smith, Mrs. Jessie Peeler, Miss Edith Cornett, of White Salmon, and one son, Frank Cornett, with the U. S. Navy at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; also four brothers and two sisters. Services in charge of the local Odd Fellows were held Saturday with interment at Odd Fellows cemetery.

Miss Marie Wyers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wyers, Jr., and R. B. Kreps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kreps, of Laurel, were married at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday noon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. C. Lowden. The newlyweds, both popular in younger society here, will reside on the Kreps ranch near Laurel.

Everett Bartholomew, popular Standard Oil Co. employee here, has been transferred to the company's station at Gresham, Ore., a promotion which the young man deserves. Now Bill, it's your turn next.

Editor A. Meresse motored to Cottage Grove, Ore., for a short visit last week.

Judge Groshong, local justice of the peace, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Aldridge, of Husum, motored to Trout Lake Friday to attend the Jensen auction sale. Deputy Game Wardens Walter White and Bill Bates were also on hand to protect the deer, many being present on this occasion. They also accorded protection to some of the poor fish.
