HOOD RIVER, OREGON, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1925

No. 26

Catching up with your Blessing is a real cause for Thanksgiving. Our job is to help you. Let us tell you how we can.

This Institution Will Not Be Open On THANKSGIVING DAY, Thurs., Nov. 26

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

HOOD RIVER, ORE.

BY WILL

There are a number of ways in which our Trust Department serves our customers. The most common trust is that created by will. By this means, a testator leaves all or part of his estate in trust to be handled for the benefit of his widow and children, or other beneficiaries, under directions set forth in his last will and testament.

Next week we will explain the working of a Living Trust or Voluntary Trust.

YOU OWE IT TO YOURSELF TO RIDE IN A FLINT

Did you ever ride in a car that was so full of pep and had such a wonderful smooth pick up that you felt like you were flying? Boy that is a wonderful sensation, and one that can only be gained by riding in a FLINT, or better yet by driving it yourself.

Come in some day with the whole family, take the wheel of a FLINT yourself and drive down to Ninth and Cascade, then start in high gear and drive it up to the Heights—straight up Ninth Street without shifting gears—and see how easy it does it, then you will get a thrill out of a Motor Car that you never before had.

Make all the tests you want; take it out on a nice straightaway and step it up as fast as you like, then slow down to one mile an hour on high; then step on it again and watch it pick up and see if you ever saw anything like it before.

WE WILL GLADLY FURNISH THE CAR IF YOU WILL GIVE US YOUR TIME. DON'T PUT IT OFF, COME IN NOW. NO MATTER IF YOU ARE IN THE MARKET OR NOT—COME ANYWAY, WE WANT TO SHOW YOU.

HOSPITAL CONCERT COMING

MISS TURNER SINGS NEXT TUESDAY

Officials of Community Institute and Physicians Discuss Needs of the Hospital

Miss Jeanice Turner, accredited and talented dramatic soprano, will be presented in a concert December 1, for the benefit of the Hood River hospital. The proceeds from the concert, which will be held at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Boy Scouts, will be turned over to the hospital fund for the payment of the sterilizer recently installed.

Miss Turner sang in Italy, where she had great success, winning notable mention from music critics there. "In 'Amico Fritz,' Miss Turner, a young American soprano captivated Rome," comments Le Studio (San Remo, Italy). "It is not often an American singer so young sings with such feeling and finesse."

Miss Sara Howes, a Hood River girl, formerly organist at Riverside church, will accompany Miss Turner, having already played for her in two concerts at Portland.

Any community the size of Hood River, local doctors say, in their view of the hospital situation, should have modern equipped buildings, and it is just as necessary for a patient to have a modern hospital as it is for a pupil to be provided with a modern school building, and it isn't any more the doctor's responsibility to build a hospital than it is for a teacher to build her own school.

Statistics show that hospitals are founded and maintained chiefly by charitable institutions, churches and private donations, such as wills. An example of the latter is found in the American Journal. Victor F. Lawson, well known financier and newspaper man, gave $100,000 to the Children's Memorial hospital of Chicago. John S. Craven and Dr. Landcaster, of Pasadena, Calif., each donated $500 to the Torrance Hospital association at Torrance, Calif.

It is marvelous that patients receive the proper care that they do, considering the lack of conveniences and short-ages of room space at the local hospital. Since there are only 19 beds, five private rooms and three wards, the patients are necessarily crowded at times. However, the surgical equipment is adequately modern, and it is possible because of this fact for the doctors to perform efficient surgical work.

The hospital officials declare, is a only graduate nurse, says the superintendent of the hospital, "and can therefore give as satisfactory service as a city hospital which employs student as well as graduate nurses. Often the delay in sending a patient to a larger hospital proves fatal."

A local doctor, who favors the cottage plan for a new hospital, says, "You can't judge by the minimum but the maximum number of patients the hospital has to take care. Probably no hospital can be said to have its last unit as new units may be added on according to necessity."

"The hospital," officials say, "is a purely humanitarian institution, and when people realize the means the association has to take care of approximately 227 patients yearly they will realize the necessity for a new hospital. "Equipment put into the hospital since August 15, 1924, the date of the new management," says Mrs. J. E. Ferguson, "can be transferred to the new building, the money spent not being a lost investment."

The original purchase price of the hospital was $200,000, and improvements, including fire escapes, etc., not including the equipment used, was $15,568.90. The surplus, over operating expenses, also not including the equipment used was $1,429.21.

Donor members, or those who gave $100 or more were: J. H. Koberg, Dr. M. Thrane, C. C. Anderson, Dr. R. S. Rogers, Drs. Abraham and Sifton, Dr. H. L. Dumble and Dr. J. L. Black. The total amount received from their memberships was $1800, while the fees received from members, or those paying at least $10, was $2142.88. The total, including memberships, gifts and fees, was $5,942.22. The Japanese alone donated $471 of this amount, and the nurses at the Hood River hospital gave a substantial sum. Towards the original cost of the hospital, the hospital has paid $2500 and cost of improvements amounted to $1000. At the present time, says L. M. Baldwin, the hospital owes only $8000 on the original purchase price, and this amount should either be contributed or obtained by sale of memberships.

Since the hospital was taken over by the county, churches and other organizations have made vast changes and improvements in the building. The Masonic lodge returned the dining room; the Woman's club added comforts in the way of new bed screens, linoleum, bed stands, etc., for the women's ward; the Riverside church women had charge of the mending and repairing; the Epworth League gave canned fruit, and the Pythian Sisters and W. C. T. U. helped in various ways. Many others interested in the hospital situation did their bit by donating canned fruit and apples. The deputy game warden, C. W. Loughery, gave a big turkey and ham to the hospital.

High Officers of Corps Visit Here

Canby Corps, Woman's Relief Corps, entertained a delegation of officers of the department of Oregon and past national officers at a luncheon at the Mt. Hood hotel recently. The following honor guests were present: Mrs. Minnie T. Horvath, of Portland, past national junior vice president; Mrs. Beatrice Smith, of Portland, past department president; Mrs. Iva Scobee and Mrs. Jennie C. Bentley, of this city, respectively department president and secretary; Mrs. Sarah Eastman, of Portland, department chaplain; Mrs. Ellenore Zeller, of Portland, de-

ANNUAL FIRE BALL TONIGHT

OVERFLOW IS GOING TO PYTHIAN TEMPLE WILL BE TOP OF THE PARTY OF FIRE DEPARTMENT GRANGERS HELP OUT

The annual fireman's ball, event of Thanksgiving night here, 25 years and years, has grown to be a most interesting social feature. Indeed, so heavy has been the sale of tickets that it became a foregone conclusion that the Pythian hall could not accommodate the merry-makers, and the folk of Pine Grove grange came to the rescue and offered their hall for entertainment of a large part of the crowd. Fireman's dances this year will be going in full swing in two places tonight. The firemen will receive the proceeds of both dances.

EDUCATOR TALKS TO LUNCH CLUB

With J. W. Orites as chairman, the Lunch club meeting at the Waukonan hotel Tuesday was devoted chiefly to an interesting address by Charles A. Howard, superintendent of schools at Marshfield. Mr. Howard told how city superintendents should earn their salaries. FIFTY per cent of it, he declared, will be earned when the official secures for his faculty the best available teachers. Another 25 per cent will be earned, he declared, the speaker, when by his efforts the superintendent has his teaching force organized cooperatively. He gave other percentages as follows: Ten per cent for developing best conditions for health and sanitation; ten per cent by aiding in an economic financial administration; four per cent by securing a close relationship with parents; and one per cent given to the thousand and one minute details. The public too often overburden the superintendent, said Mr. Howard, with a demand that he spend too much of his time on the details of relatively small importance.

Mr. Howard is a candidate for the Republican nomination for state superintendent of public instruction. He has an excellent record as a teacher and as an educational administrator. His record as a student and educator follows: Training—Public schools of Kansas; graduate Baker University, Baldwin, Kas., 1907; Master of Arts in Education, University of Oregon; studied modern educational administration at Oregon Agricultural College, University of California and Stanford. He has spent 18 years in Oregon schools, teaching in Klamath County high school, 1907-1911; superintendent city schools, Coquille, 1911-1917; principal high school, Eugene, 1917-1920; superintendent city schools, Marshfield, since 1920.

Miss Bruzen, here representing the Children's Farm Home of the W. C. T. U. in Benton county, stated that an effort will be made to secure a $4000 quota from the county on the school's debt. The sum of $63, she said, had already been raised.

MRS. ISENBERG'S FUNERALS YESTERDAY

Mrs. Lillie Ann Isenberg, widow of the late M. P. Isenberg, well known figure in Oregon Republican political circles 20 years ago, died at her West Side home Tuesday afternoon.

"Grandma" Isenberg, as everyone of the big family and scores of friends knew her, was 79 years old. She was a native of Marietta, Pa. She had resided here for 35 years. For the past decade and more the great annual event in the life of "Grandma" Isenberg was the family reunion and dinner at her home Christmas day. Children and grandchildren came from far and near to be at "Grandma's" that day. The following children survive: Mrs. J. L. Hovey, W. A. Isenberg, Miss Isenberg, M. H. Isenberg, Elmer Isenberg, all of Hood River; Mrs. Herman Saling and W. H. Isenberg, of Portland; Mrs. Guy Harvey, of Wainia; and Mrs. James Woodcock, of Maupin.

MORTENSEN WILL MEET THY AGAIN

Fred Mortensen, the Durable Dane carpenter of Hood River, will wrestle Ted Thy again here Saturday evening, December 5. Mortensen telephoned from Portland yesterday to announce that definite arrangements had been made for the event. The match will be held at the K. P. hall, and another main event will also be staged then. George Barnes, the light heavyweight champion of Washington, meeting the former champion of Greece, Jim Kolias. The match will not begin until 9 o'clock, in order that the business folk of the city may have an opportunity to see the match. Both bouts will be to the finish, two falls out of three. Mortensen will meet Thy for the championship light heavyweight belt.

ASSOCIATION WILL MAKE DISTRIBUTION

The clerical force of the Apple Growers Association is clearing the decks for the season's first cash distribution on pears and apples. While a definite decision has not been arrived at yet as to the amount of the checks that will be mailed, estimates place them at an approximate $300,000. The distribution will be made, it is said, about the middle of the month. Apple shipments are slowing down. Practically all early varieties have been shipped and the fruit left in the valley is of Newtown variety, which will be held in storage for late delivery. Shipping activity will show a falling off until after the holidays.

BLUE BLOODED HENS DISPLAYED AT SHOW

HOOD RIVER ORCHARDISTS ALLOWED THE HEN TO ECLIPSE THE APPLE HERE SATURDAY

When the annual county poultry show came to a close with the season's award going to Alva Sherrill for a barred Plymouth Rock cockerel. The show drew the attendance of ranchers from all parts of the valley, and many were here from Mosier, J. N. Bradford, custodian of the blue blooded fowls, while they were on exhibition, received an even gross amount of eggs, laid by the royal hens and pullets during the day.

The full list of prizes awarded was as follows: Blue Island Rocks—E. P. Batten, first and third cock, second cockerel and second pullet; Ralph Lewis, first young pen, first cock and second and third hen; Alva Sherrill, champion cockerel, first young pen, first pullet, third pullet; Mrs. Geo. Chamberlin, third cockerel.

Ducks—All awards to Kettan Black, grade school student. Anoums—Mrs. Geo. Chamberlin, all awards for young fowls. R. L. Cummings, all awards for old birds in this class.

White Rocks—Bert Senter, first cock, first young pen, third cockerel, first cockerel and championship pen at show; Newell & Warner, first and second cockerel, third hen and second pullet; Mary Lewis, second cockerel, first pullet, second young pen, and H. A. Jewell, third pen.

Buff Plymouth Rocks—All awards won by C. K. Fetter. White Wyandottes—All awards won by Mrs. Edward Thornton. White Leghorns—Mrs. Jesse Thomas, second pullet, second young pen and third young pen; C. D. Nickelson, first cockerel, first and second hen, first pullet, third pullet, second cockerel.

C. S. Brewster, of Portland, was judge at the show. Premium awards were donated by merchants of the city.

RADIO SHOP MOVED TO THE APPLE CITY

J. G. Bradford has moved his radio shop from the McDonald building on Cascade avenue to the quarters occupied by the Apple City Electric Co. corner of Oak and Third. Hal Nesbit is moving his first shop equipment to his new building at the corner of Oak and Fourth streets, and the Apple City plant is being entirely remodeled.

Mr. Bradford will have a demonstration room and a side of the front room of the store and a show window will be equipped for him. The new location will be conveniently located, and Mr. Bradford declares that he will equip it as one of the best radio stores in rural Oregon.

Ernest and Walter Colby are keenly interested in remodeling their store. A lowered ceiling has been arranged for the display of electric fixtures. More space, too, has been provided for the showing of washing machines and other electrical appliances for the convenience of the housewife.

The electric shop and radio store are now being made ready for the holidays. Both will show the latest and most up to date articles in their respective lines.

Miss Lewis' Brother Passes Suddenly
Miss Jennie Lewis was called to Portland Tuesday by news that her brother, J. Lewis, had passed away suddenly. Miss Lewis' bookkeeper for the E. A. Frana Co., was called to Pontiac, Mich., recently by the death of her father. Her brother accompanied her on the return, stopping in Portland with Miss Lewis arrived here Monday. He was stricken suddenly Tuesday.
