Typhoid Fever
(By Frederick D. Stricker, M. D., collaborating epidemiologist of Oregon State Board of Health, in cooperation with the United States Public Health Service.)
What is the cause of typhoid fever? It is caused by a tiny germ, the bacillus typhosus, which gets into the body of the sick person. It enters by way of the mouth and is eliminated with the discharges of the body.
How do persons contract typhoid fever? Principally by swallowing germs that have come from some case of typhoid fever.
What are the main agencies by which the bacillus is spread? By contaminated food, water and milk; by flies and carriers.
How long does it take typhoid fever to develop? It varies from 7 to 14 days.
What are the symptoms? Headache, nausea, bronchitis, relatively low pulse, deafness, eruption and continued fever.
What is a typhoid carrier? A well person harboring the germ of typhoid fever. He is a menace to the community, especially if he comes in contact with food or milk supplies.
How can we detect carriers? By laboratory examination of feces and urine.
What should be done with the carrier? He should be isolated until he is no longer a danger.
Is typhoid fever preventable? Entirely so. Proper sanitary measures will protect the community and immunization will protect the individual.
What is the most important preventive measure? Disinfection of the discharges of the infected person, thus stopping the infection at its source.
Is there any method of protection against typhoid fever as for smallpox and diphtheria? Yes, anti-typhoid immunization.
How often should one be immunized? Every three years.
What are the restrictions placed on typhoid fever cases in Oregon? They must be reported to the health department. Patients must be isolated until the discharges are free from typhoid germs. Food products cannot be sold by a typhoid convalescent or by a healthy carrier. 161st

K. P. BAND IS A HOOD RIVER ASSET
The Hood River K. P. Band was organized six years ago for the benefit of Hood River community. It was with this thought in mind that 20 men got together and formed what is known as the Knights of Pythias band. In order to make a musical organization that was a credit to Hood River, it took a great amount of money, time and practice. After six years of persistent effort Hood River now has one of the best small town bands in the northwest. The initial cost of $2,000 was furnished by the Knights of Pythias lodge and at the present time it costing that organization about $300 yearly.
The band men have always gladly given their services and always with the thought in mind to make a success of patriotic and community celebrations. To give the general public some idea of what other towns and cities think of their band we need only to refer to their record and see the generous amounts appropriated.
This year the band's sixth annual dance promises to surpass previous celebrations of the birth of a new year. Promptly at 12 o'clock horns, whistles and noise makers of all kinds will send forth a hearty welcome to the infant 1926.
This dance should be attended by everyone who loves music and wants Hood River to have a band of which they can be proud.
HOOD RIVER APPLES STAND THE TEST
E. O. Blanchard is in receipt of the following letter from E. C. Sammons, vice-president of the United States National Bank, Portland:
"I recently had Hoeslein Brothers forward a half dozen boxes of gifts apples to eastern friends and I thought you might be interested in the comment of one of my friends from Saginaw, Mich. I quote you from his letter as follows:
'You may be interested in knowing that I received a barrel of Spies from New York state from a friend of mine just a day or two previous, and he is of the opinion that there are no apples like the New York state apples. It happened that the following evening we had several friends in and later in the evening we had fruit. I served both kinds of apples with no wrappers so no one could tell where they came from. I insisted on each person trying both kinds of apples and letting me know which they thought were the superior fruit and best flavor. I am glad my New York friend was not there, because they expressed a decided preference for Hood River apples.'

MRS. N. J. SINNOTT SINGS IN OPERA
A letter received by Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Vause, of The Dalles, from their son, George Vause, well known pianist, tells of the debut in grand opera of Mrs. N. J. Sinnott, wife of Congressman Sinnott of Oregon, Monday evening, November 30, as "Azuccena" in "Il Trovatore" with the Fine Arts Club Opera company in Boston.
Mrs. Vause writes enthusiastically of Mrs. Sinnott's reception, stating that there was a large house and much applause for her rendition of the difficult role. He adds that Mrs. Sinnott appeared perfectly at ease and that her voice was in splendid form.
She appeared under the name of "Dorothy Sinnott." An orchestra of 25 pieces, a chorus of 25 voices and a ballet of 12 supported the principals.
Mrs. Sinnott has devoted a number of years to the study of voice with the best teachers of New York with the aim of entering the operatic field.
Old Time Auctions
Below is a copy of an old auction bill printed in 1846. It was handed to us by an old friend, with the request that it be printed in order that the younger folks may know something of what took place in the "land of the free" 75 years ago, and of the peculiar English expressions used at that time, including one word common among the negroes of the South:
"State of Missouri, County of Pike, to whom it may concern:
The undersigned will on Tuesday, September 29th, A. D., 1846, sell at public outcry for cash, on premises where Coon creek crosses the Mission Road, the following chattels, to-wit:
6 yoke of oxen with yokes and chains, 2 wagons with beds, 3 nigger wenchens, 4 buck niggers, 3 nigger boys, 2 prairie plows, 25 steel hogheads tobacco, 1 lot nigger hoes, 1 spinning wheel, 1 loom, 13 fox hounds, a lot of coon, mink and skunk skins and a lot of other articles. Am gwine to California.
