

ODELL

Odell orchestra announces the first concert for the season next Monday evening at the grand hall. The program will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, to be followed by a dance. Under present organization Chas. Savo is director and Mrs. Bertha Young pianist.

Mrs. W. Y. Hawes, of Portland, arrived Tuesday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. G. W. Lafferty, and daughter, Mrs. W. F. Young. She will also visit three brothers, who reside in Hood River. They are I. U. E. R. and S. J. Lafferty.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will be entertained in the home of Mrs. W. N. Byars Wednesday afternoon of next week.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church will be entertained in the home of Mrs. Dave Kemp Thursday afternoon of next week. A full attendance is requested as an election of officers will be held.

Lloyd Cameron, familiarly known as Jack Cameron, entered Monmouth Normal January 4. His plans on entering were to continue through winter and summer, completing the prescribed course at the earliest possible date. He has the best wishes of many friends in Odell, where he graduated from Union high school No. 2.

Miss Grace M. Chambers and Mrs. D. E. Clark are enjoying a winter vacation visit in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Duane Wieden and their small son, Francis, motored from Portland for a two days' visit with Mr. Wieden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wieden.

A. N. Davis was sent to Portland Friday by his physician to consult a specialist. An operation for removal of a growth in the nasal cavity was performed and improvement reported.

After having had a 30-day vacation J. H. Eggert was called back to Camp No. 1, Brooks-Scanlon Lumber Co., at Bend the first of the week. He motored to Bend Tuesday accompanied by wife and Martin Karstetter, who were also returning to work in the timber.

A. E. Jakku and John Plog motored to Dufray Tuesday for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hansen spent the week end in The Dalles.

The Rebekahs announce another card party at Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening. All Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their friends cordially invited.

In the games of last week the local high school teams made a fine record. At Meador Friday night Odell boys won by a heavy score. Odell girls and Meador girls tied. The game Saturday night resulted in a difference of one point in favor of Parkdale boys and a very decided score indicating victory for Odell girls.

Mrs. J. E. Ferguson spent Saturday in Portland.

The Sunday school nights which proved so popular last year are to be included in the program of the Methodist church. The first Sunday school night will be next Thursday evening, to be succeeded by a night each month.

Mrs. J. E. Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hansen went to motor to Portland today for a short visit with Mr. McKewen's parents.

The new county road south from Summit will provide a very much easier grade to those properties formerly reached by the steep grade of the old road. Grading crews have been at work there this week.

UNDERWOOD SHOWS BIG IMPROVEMENT

(By W. E. Taylor in the Stainanias County Pioneer.)

A few of the things that have happened around Underwood in the past few years:

A saw mill has been built at the Highlands, many improvements have been made at the Hicks and Fagaly mill; a steam feed was installed last summer and increased their output several thousand a day. Dr. Auspitt and son have planted a large acreage of new orchard. R. H. Haselton has added a new truck to assist in hauling lumber from both the Hicks and Fagaly mills, also a steam loading device for loading the lumber on the cars. The old Climax mill that had been idle for a number of years was rebuilt last summer by Mr. Price and a good business was doing last season. The school has been replaced with a new one much better than the one destroyed. The most trustworthy logs to the river last summer and is now engaged in shipping wood. Lewis and Edwards were also heavy loggers from this district last summer.

Extensive improvements have been made in School District No. 17. A new cottage has been built at a cost of nearly $2,000, in which to house the teachers. This cottage is lighted by electricity and is entirely up to date. The increased number of the grade children necessitated enlarging the rooms and sending the high school to the new town. The school bus has been changed from a touring car and a team to a bus with a capacity of 25, and is now often loaded with 35. Several hundred dollars were also expended last season in improving and beautifying the building.

An irrigation district was formed and a flume built to Buck Creek. This was completed a little too late in the season to benefit the crops from that year, and the following spring the falling of timber damaged the flume to a large extent and the fire a little later in the season completed the destruction. It is expected this will be rebuilt in the near future as water is a necessity in the district covered by this flume.

H. Kapp and Bona have added more trucks to handle their freight business.

The Underwood Mercantile company installed a soda fountain in their store to please the taste of their customers and has been increased by the installation of Ray Meggs' service station. This service has grown from one pump to four and now demands all the time of the owner so he has had to sell the repair shop he formerly operated.

Materials are being placed on the ground for a new depot to be constructed by the Oregon state game department. This new depot will be a fine structure and will be a great help to the deer and rabbit industry.

The Underwood Fruit and Warehouse company lost their warehouse by fire but replaced it again with one much larger and more complete than the one destroyed. The new warehouse has been adding on each year until every inch of available track room is now in use. Several hundred carloads of fruit and lumber are sent from this depot yearly, and it is one of the heaviest shipping points on the S. P. & S. railway.

Hood has been constantly enlarging its output of finished lumber, until it has become a great lumber center. A propelled planer handling the lumber from one mill to an electric power planer, now handling the lumber from two mills and running a double shift, has been installed. The planer are building permanent homes near their work. This is what the company likes and the men who remain on their job permanently are the ones who receive the benefit.

The mail service has been changed from a tri-weekly to a daily mail, to take care of the increased population and business.

The growth of religious societies has been by leaps and bounds. The community gatherings have also increased until the rooms used for them are entirely inadequate to hold the crowds who attend. Therefore the need of a new chapel and community house is beginning to be felt, and it is expected that both will be built in the near future.

Many children have been born in this neighborhood, some of whom may become presidents for aught we know.

The faint sound of the knocker's hammer is given to clean but it is a feeble sound to one who has faith in his own country.

Several new homes have been built and extensive improvements made on others. The prospects for 1926 are very bright, and our climate is superior to that of California.

In conclusion we wish to say that our knowledge only four persons have been buried in our cemetery in the past two years and these have been brought from outside districts.

Guide Ski Club News

Saturday night a warm chinook wind seemed to threaten the chances for a successful ski party for those who had intended making the trip Sunday morning. However, Sunday morning a light cool wind blew giving the snow a crystal crust, just hard enough to make pleasant skiing and sleighing. Among the 53 people who registered were many new people.

There were 38 people from Hood River who went to Mount Hood Sunday. They were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McWilliams, J. O. Flak, Erskine J. Sanders, Mrs. Leona Van Allen, Victor Miller, Freda Vogel, Navona Shurtliff, Dale Fike, George Castner, Irma Annala, Dorothy House, Clayton Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Anderson, Dorothy Anderson, Mabel Fagaly, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Bucklin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Eric E. Hamilton, Olga Olsen, Linda Anderson, Dr. Phoebe Colman, Carl Calandra, Geo. Iana, D. K. Lamson, Harry Coderwall, C. P. Applegate, Walter Gould, Billy Watson, Bill Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. Kent Shoenow.

Only six people went to Cloud Cap Inn. J. R. Annala, Sula Annala, Arne Hukari, Aotta Z. Annala and Arne Annala. They reported even better conditions for our country in the past than at Homestead Inn, where the remainder of the crowd spent the day.

Others from out of town who enjoyed the sport were Clifford Corson and Eric E. Hamilton, of The Dalles; J. B. Duggett and Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Davis; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mauk, of Stevenson, and Charlotte Hackler, of Muskogee, Okla.

Joe Erwin, caretaker of Homestead Inn, says many people called him by long distance Saturday evening inquiring about the advisability of making the trip, and weather conditions for skiing.

OLD DOCTOR'S BOOK FAMILY HEIRLOOM

At the death of his sister, Mrs. Amos Billings, of the Dee district, recently, Judd S. Fish, of The Dalles, came into the possession of an old-fashioned "doctor book," which has been in his family for more than 78 years, says The Dalles Chronicle.

The book in itself has an interesting history. It was the prized possession of the Gribbles of "Gribbles Prairie" in the Mollala district south of Canby, or Oregon City, in the early days when physicians were few, the nearest being Dr. Gedy at Aurora, and another, Dr. Barclay of Hudson Bay fame, who practiced at Oregon City during the days of Dr. John McLaughlin.

On dark and stormy nights through rain and snow settlers would often ride miles upon miles to the Gribble home to borrow the precious medical book, over which they would pour for hours in an attempt to analyze the symptoms of some member of their family who had been suddenly stricken ill.

"The book was the only one of its kind in all that great unsettled country and it was considered almost sacred," said Mr. Fish. "My father purchased it April 25, 1847, at St. Joseph, Missouri, for the sum of $3.50. It was published in 1838, or 37 years ago, by the Reynold Coates company, with the hope that it may prove useful in families where regular physicians cannot be secured." The first years, but only six of the original copies remain in the country, so far as is known. The authenticity of Mrs. Scobee's paper as an original has been established, and it is held as one of the most valuable relics in Oregon.

Thirty years ago when Mrs. Scobee and her husband were living in Colorado, the state government offered her $800 for the old paper, which they wished to place in the state museum.

The writer, accompanying T. C. Queen, local agent for the Oregon Fire Relief association, visited the Scobee home, near Van Horn, Tuesday. Unfortunately they were unable to see the old paper, now a century and a quarter old, as Mrs. Scobee had just packed it, preparatory to moving. When she and Mr. Scobee go into a new home a photograph will be made of it.

The old paper was the property of Mrs. Scobee's grandfather, David Ball, who moved in the early 19th century from Virginia to Ohio. It passed to Mrs. Scobee's mother, Mrs. T. H. Lightfoot.

Mrs. Scobee prizes very highly old letters which her grandfather wrote home while a member of the Ohio legislature at Columbus. In one of them he tells of going with fellow legislators on the first journey the steam cars made on the state's first railway from Columbus to Cincinnati.

She has an old geography studied by her grandfather when a boy. The book was copyrighted in 1825. It was published by Deming & Francis. At the time of its issue only two states, Missouri and Louisiana, had been established west of the Mississippi. That land lying off to the west was known as the Great American Desert.

The most of Canada was known as Prince Rupert land. Bordering on the New England State was a narrow strip called Lower Canada. An equally narrow strip in the "great Lakes" section was called Upper Canada. Russian possessions were shown coming down from Alaska and joining United States territory, cutting off Canada from the Pacific Coast. California, a part of Mexican possessions as were most of the territory west of the Mississippi, was called New Albin.

Mrs. Scobee has an old cherry dresser or bureau that is more than 100 years old, having come down from her grandmother. Not a nail was used in its construction, the parts having been joined by neat mortises and dovetailing.

MRS. SCOBEE HAS AN ULSTER GAZETTE

Mrs. W. P. Scobee, of the Pine Grove district, has one of the few original Ulster County Gazettes published early in 1800 and carrying the story of the death of George Washington. Hundreds of reprinted Gazettes have been making their appearance the last 50 years, but only six of the originals copies remain in the country, so far as is known. The authenticity of Mrs. Scobee's paper as an original has been established, and it is held as one of the most valuable relics in Oregon.

VINING COMING TO ADDRESS CHAMBER

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Hood River Guides will be held at a banquet session at the Mt. Hood Hotel Monday evening, February 8. Irving Vining, of Ashland, president of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce, will be chief speaker of the banquet. "Enthusiasm and Community Building" has been announced as his subject.

PINS, FURS AND FEATHERS

Streams involved in the recent ruling of the state game department in Hood River county are as follows: West Lake creek above the northeast quarter of Section 10, Township 1, Range 8 east, Willamette meridian, and North Fork of Lost Lake creek above East Fork, closed for 10 years; East Fork of Hood river above its junction with West Fork, Middle Fork of Hood river above its junction with the East Fork, West Fork of Hood river above its junction with the East Fork. It is expected that this will be rebuilt in the near future as water is a necessity in the district covered by this flume.

Suggestion for Helping Hospital

The following communication, suggesting methods of aiding the Hood River hospital, has been submitted to The Glacier:

Would you like to aid in the work being done by the Hood River hospital? Here are a few suggestions:

The hospital makes the community a safer place in which to live. It performs a necessary service. It deserves the support of all, no matter whether or not one has occasion to make use of the hospital. The hospital is working for the interest of all and needs the help of all.

You can aid by adding to the books in the hospital library. By visiting the hospital and becoming acquainted with its methods and needs.

By recommending the Hood River hospital to those in need of hospital care.

By seeking to interest your friends in the work of the Hood River hospital.

By remembering the Hood River hospital in your will.

By aiding in the establishment in some scientific research department not already in the hospital.

By becoming a regular subscriber to a part pay fund.

The character of the trustees and officers are sufficient warrant for the wise use of all funds that may be subscribed.

Special Music for St. Mark's

There will be a beautiful and impressive service at St. Mark's Episcopal church next Sunday evening at 8 o'clock when L. W. Ballard's setting of the 10th Psalm will be rendered by the vested choir of St. Mark's church, assisted by Mesdames Smithson, French, Gilbert, Wilson and Cole and Miss Ferrin, and Messrs. Smith, Holmes and Quande. As an offertory, Mr. Nuremberg will give two violin selections.

The offering will be for the local hospital building fund.

The music is under the direction of Mrs. S. F. Aitken, assisted by Mrs. S. G. Oxborrow at the organ.
