Little Bill, who is only half past four, is an ardent admirer of Pattle Cook, of the Portland Telegram. NEW ENGLAND WINTER WEATHER COLD

Brooks, Me., March 22, 1926.

Editor Glacier: I guess it is about time I was writing a few lines to my old friends in good old Hood River. This evening we are having a chinook, only the people here don't call it that. It has been quite warm now for two days and feels something like spring. The snow came to stay about the first of January and it kept coming regularly about two days out of every two weeks and kept piling up. There have been about 70 inches fall all told. We had a January thaw which settled the snow a lot, then a rain in February that also settled it and formed a crust, which made it very hard to get through with a team. It was about 40 inches deep on a level where the wind couldn't strike. There has been lots of heavy wind which has piled the snow in huge drifts along the roads. It has been a very bad winter for team work on account of the cold and soft snow which would not pack. It is very difficult in some places to pass another team, especially with a load. It hasn't been extremely cold, but a steady cold—35 degrees below zero about the coldest. There has been ice in the watering tub in the stable nearly every day. Sometimes during the night, it freezes 1/4 inches thick. It has frozen every day the last three months except the last three days.

I was glad to note the Apple Growers Association had made such a good record in their apple sales. My niece's husband shipped 74 barrels of Northern Spies and Baldwins to Boston and got $2 per barrel, his net returns being $32.21. The barrels cost 60 cents each. When I came through last April they were selling Yakima Winesaps about 150 size, for 10 cents apiece on the trains. Somebody made a profit if the farmer didn't. I am sending a part of a letter written the 19th. It is from my nephew, and will give you a better idea of the state of things up at Orono on the Penobscot river than I could.

J. R. Crosby.

The letter from the nephew follows: "They have been making a survey of the Penobscot river between High Head and the waterworks, to find out the condition of the river in regard to anchor ice. In many places the anchor ice is 20 to 30 feet thick and frozen solid to the bottom. There is one place near the waterworks where the water pouring over the dam has pushed the ice up above the water level, 10 feet or more nearly the whole width of the river and an eighth of a mile in length. If we should get a heavy rain there would be a flood worse than in 1922.

"The insurance companies have given notices that they will pay no damages on goods stored in basements on Exchange, Center or Main streets. So everybody is moving out as fast as he can."

Credit for C. M. T. C. Work

The high schools of the state of Oregon allow a credit of one-fourth unit for each C. M. T. camp attended. An attendance at each of the four camps would give a boy one of the 15 units of credit required for graduation from a high school.

This is one of the benefits to be derived from attendance at one of these camps. The actual contact with high class boys from all sections of this area under the democratic circumstances that govern camp life, develops and broadens as no other influence can. The fact that every boy stands squarely on his own feet in a place where family position or money will not help him the least, puts him on his mettle, and as every move is made in competition, it brings out a desire to succeed. Educators say that the month in one of these camps develops a boy more than any year in school.

The camps last for one month and begin about the middle of June. The United States pays all necessary expenses. Detailed information and application blanks can be obtained from The Commanding General, Vancouver Barracks, Wash.

Nerves all Unstrung?

Hood River Folks Should Find the Cause and Correct It

Are you all worn out? Feel tired, nervous, half-sick? Do you have a constant headache; sharp twinges of pain, too, with dizzy spells and annoying urinary disorders? Then there's cause for worry and more cause to give your weakened kidneys prompt help. Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Hood River folks recommend Doan's for just such troubles.

Mrs. D. V. Dickson, 312 Cascade Ave., says: "My kidneys were weak and I became run down and had no energy. Frequent headaches made me miserable, and I had dizzy, nervous headaches. My kidneys acted irregularly and annoyed me considerably until I used Doan's Pills which I got at the Kroese Drug Co. Doan's were just what I needed as they helped me right away and I was soon free from back-aches."
