THE WEATHER

It's an interesting subject to talk about the weather! Its vagaries add spice to living. In spite of the forecasts of a highly specialized force of federal observers, the weather goes right on being uncertain. The prognostications remain to no small degree his and hers.

Our Pacific northwest weather during the early springtime this year is a little puzzling. Some of the oldtimers warned us that we might anticipate much rain and lots of squalls this April, following the warm, comparatively dry March. But we haven't. It has grown hotter than ever, setting a new high temperature record. Snows were short in the mountains this season. The Mt. Hood Loop highway, usually beset by drifts that defy attack at this season, will probably be open to traffic by night. The snow blanket of the highland forests will soon be gone, and the needle carpet will be as bare as during July. Irrigation is beginning to wonder what may happen if the water supply runs short, for already the earth is as dry as during early June.

But in the beginning we remarked that the weather is about as uncertain as anything we know of. Nobody can predict what it may be during May and June. It may start raining now and cause us to pray for a cessation. It is excessively warm now, but on Fourth of July we may be searching for our overcoats.

THE SCHOOL BONDS

Hood River taxpayers have for their solution Saturday afternoon a problem of more than passing interest. They will vote on a bond issue of $80,000, which, if carried, will provide funds for construction of a new high school at the west edge of town on the Paradise acreage.

We would urge that taxpayers give their school election matter their sincere interest and investigate it thoroughly. The members of the present school board, as well as school directors of past years, have given of their time to formulate some workable plan for bringing about increased facilities at the high school. The bond election of next Saturday will be the culmination of years of work. To those who have studied the plan from every angle, although they may have approached the matter of a bond election in antagonistic attitude, the program of the school board, of which the $80,000 bond issue is a part, seems practical and feasible.

We believe it will be conceded by everyone that a new high school is needed. Conditions were never more favorable for sale of the proposed bond. The financing plan of the school board is sound. School District No. 3, eventually, must have a new high school plant. We believe taxpayers will never have a more favorable opportunity for getting full worth of their money, appropriated for high school purposes, than by accepting the plans as outlined by the school board.

A HOME BOY MAKES GOOD

Sigurd Nilssen, a Hood River boy who has made good in his homeland and abroad, will appear in concert here next Thursday evening before his home folks. Hood River folk year before last heard Mr. Nilssen sing at the Klalto theatre. On that occasion his appearance had but little advance notice, and as a result the audience was limited. Next Thursday, with the concert under auspices of the American Legion post, indications pointed to a crowded house. Sig. Nilssen, as the folk of Hood River and more especially the Belmont district, where the now famed singer was reared, first made an impression with his rich voice, singing at the old Belmont Methodist church, a landmark that has since been razed. He later sang at the Methodist church in the city, and then the full powers of his voice became apparent when he became a student at Whitman College.

No less than an ovation awaits Sigurd Nilssen here next Thursday evening. He has gone far in the development of his talent, but it should be a moment of supreme gratification next Thursday to lift that melodious, deep, oratorical basso-baritone voice, with which he is possessed, and charm his old home folks.

Mr. Nilssen, wherever he has been, has gained the hearts of the musically untutored as well as the critics. In another column appears the praise of a critic of the Washington Post, at the nation's capital. Below is a clipping from Holmgren, Kas., where Mr. Nilssen gave a concert:

It was demonstrated last night very forcibly that Holmgren, musically, has taken a great step forward. The auditorium was filled with a fine audience, and a more appreciative one is seldom seen. The applause which was very generous, was spontaneous and sincere. Mr. Nilssen seemed to be inspired by the ready acceptance of his listeners and was both grateful and generous.

The "Invocations of Orfeo," with its stately melody and solemn harmonies, was indeed an impressive number. "Qui Sedeno non Faccendo" (My shoes) showing the unusual range of the Nilssen voice. The Russian group, all songs, were given with fine interpretation and feeling.

His last group, greatly appreciated, ended with Holmgren's "Bird of the Wilderness," an extremely brilliant and colorful song. Mr. Nilssen was very cordial and appreciated his audience.

JOBS DAUGHTERS STAGE CEREMONIAL

Thirty-three Portland Masonic and Eastern Star members, accompanying an equal number of members of Bethel chapter of the Job's Daughters motored here Saturday night to sponsor an initiatory ceremony staged by the young women's fraternal organization.

The large crowd of Masons and Eastern Star members present from all parts of the county necessitated use of the Knights of Pythias temple, larger than the Masonic hall, for the ceremony. The visitors were tendered a banquet in parlors of Ashbury Methodist church.

After a few introductory remarks by Miss Lillian Fisher, worthy matron of the local Eastern Star chapter, the girls were introduced and given the floor. With the girls, besides their partners, were four of their grand officers: Mrs. Hooford, grand guardian; Mr. Wheelock, associate grand guardian; Mrs. Crampton, grand chaplain; and J. W. Crampton, grand officer guard.

All were introduced and escorted to seats of honor, as were the local past grand officers of the Eastern Star; Mrs. Chas. H. Cantner, past worthy grand matron; Mrs. H. D. W. Pine, past grand matron; Mrs. Phoebe Moore, past grand warden; Mrs. Fisher and J. H. Fletcher, past matron.

Besides the Portland members there were guests from The Dalles Eastern Star chapter. The girls gave their work beautifully and everyone who witnessed the work was eager for Hood River to establish a chapter.

Loop Highway May Be Opened Today
The past several days of mid-winter heat have melted the snowbanks of the Mount Hood Loop highway in the vicinity of Sahale falls, and a party of chamber of commerce members plan today on removing debris from the less than a mile and a half of road remaining closed.

Armed with shovels the volunteer road workers will leave here at daybreak. They plan on having the loop open to traffic by the middle of the afternoon.

Political Announcement
To Republican electors of Hood River County—I respectfully ask your consideration at the May primaries, James H. Jeffrey, candidate for nomination for County Judge.
Paid Adv. m13

Notice
My wife having left my bed and board, I will be responsible for any bills contracted for or by her.

PHIL CARROLL GETS HIGH DOCK POSITION

Philip Henry Carroll, who during the world war was commissioned a major in field artillery and was an aide of Herbert Hoover as a representative abroad of the American relief administration, was Tuesday unanimously appointed executive secretary of public docks of Portland. The responsibilities are to be managerial and Mr. Carroll assumes his duties May 1.

The selection of Mr. Carroll was made from a number of applicants. In discussing his qualifications members of the commission said besides his record of ability as shown in the way of important work he carried out, his personality had made an impression. Because the present budget expires November 30 the position is to be designated as executive secretary until then. The salary was fixed at $500 a month for the present.

Until his resignation became effective March 1, G. B. Hegardt was secretary and chief engineer of the commission. Mr. Hegardt is now chief engineer of the Oakland harbor improvement project. Mr. Carroll will handle administrative affairs under the direction of the commission.

ORATORICAL TOUR-NAMONT ON FRIDAY

The annual county high school oratorical tournament will be held at the local high school auditorium tomorrow evening. A boy and girl will be entered from each of the four high schools of the county.

Codling Moth Spray
(Leroy Childs)
It is still too early to determine the best time to apply the first codling moth spray. With warm weather continuing it will undoubtedly be necessary to follow the codling application within ten days or two weeks as many moths are now out. Further advice will be given as conditions warrant.

Heat Record Broken Tuesday
All former heat records in the mid-Columbia during April were smashed Tuesday when the mercury soared to 91. The heat wave, according to reports from up river has started a rise in the Columbia, which was expected toward the latter part of the week. The river here today stood at the 56-foot stage, eight feet lower than at the same time a year ago.

Eastern Star Officers Coming
Mrs. Caroline Lewis, grand matron of the Eastern Star in Oregon, and Dr. D. O. Webster, grand patron, will pay an official visit to the Hood River chapter Saturday night. A banquet will be served the visitors at Masonic hall. Mrs. Webster will accompany her husband.

The visitors while here will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Cantner.

Cemeteries to be Improved
Members of Waucoma lodge, Knights of Pythias, and the men of St. Mary's Catholic church will gather at their cemeteries, which adjoin on a tract south of the city, Saturday, May 8. Plans call for removal of weeds and underbrush and a beautification of the burying grounds.

Card of Thanks
We wish to express to our neighbors and friends our sincere thanks for their kind and tender sympathy during our recent bereavement at the time of the death of our beloved husband and father. Memory of their kindly ministrations will be held in grateful remembrance.

Mrs. Florence E. Douglas and Family.
