association was a success, the leading characters taking their parts remarkably well for amateurs. The Women's Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Smallin Monday afternoon. Miss Mary Allen spent the week end with her niece, Mrs. Glen Miller, and family. Miss Stella Van Vleet returned home to Portland Friday to spend the week end with her parents. The first baby shower for all children under six years will be held May 28. The high school students are practicing on their play to be given in the near future. Rita Kelly was a Portland visitor Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Procknow are the proud parents of a little girl which arrived Sunday morning. Plans are being made for the Mother and Daughter banquet to be held here the second week in May. A more complete notice will be found in this column next week. You will enjoy the "question and answer" service in the Community church Sunday morning. The pastor has invited the public to present questions for discussion. The service will commence promptly at 11. Church school and forum at 10, young people's study and devotional hour at 7. Come and bring the family. Owing to overcrowded conditions in the church a number of tents are being erected on the church lawn to accommodate the increased attendance at the church school. W. C. Smallin has entered upon his third year as superintendent of the school and has the honor of supervising a fine group of officers and teachers. Rev. R. A. Hutchinson returned last Wednesday from the annual Christian Endeavor convention at Albany. He also participated in the program of the Pentecost Conference held at More. He was unanimously elected moderator for the year. The members of the local I. O. O. F. lodge attended church service in a body last Sunday morning. Mr. Hutchinson preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion. MOUNT HOOD Walter McGuire was called to Missouri last week by the death of his sister. A. M. Butterfield and son, Laurence, were business visitors at Hood River Thursday. Miss Anclory Emerson went to Hood River last Tuesday to visit her sister, Mrs. J. H. Sheldrake, and Mrs. A. L. Kerr. O. H. Higley has recovered from his recent sickness to return home from the hospital at Hood River. Jim Roberts was here a few days from Eugene visiting relatives. G. H. Daugherty spent Saturday afternoon at Hood River. Fred Hopper and family were here from Portland over the week end to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanel and other relatives. Mrs. Florence Meekins, of Portland, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Langille. The play, "The Little Oldhopper," was a decided success. Over $70 was raised at the performance. Those having leading parts were Leonard Gordon, E. F. Monroe, Russell Curtis, Mrs. W. T. Wyatt, Miss Una Harris, Mrs. C. H. Shaw, and Miss Helen Albert, as Judy the leading lady. George Parrish was sick several days last week. Mrs. Elizabeth Kitefel is to be one of the teachers at Dec next year. The golf club met with their leader, W. J. Paul, Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ross were up from Hood River to attend the play Friday night. DEE Rhododendron plants are showing unmistakable signs of blooming earlier than usual this year and the latter part of May will probably see them in the full beauty of their glory in the lower altitudes in this section. In the Lost Lake region early June should be the best, while last year this season of forest flowers was still in the height of its reign July 1. Already seekers for roots of this gorgeous floral beauty have been reported in the vicinity of Camp Overall and a number of cars have been noticed passing through Dee with the trophies of their hunt. It is hoped that the Forest Service Park will be able to protect the trip. It has displayed formerly in protecting the wonderful annual rhododendron floral show in the reserve near the lake. To properly handle the rapidly increasing tree fruit crop in the Upper Dee Flat section it is stated that two community packing houses may be erected in the near future. One of these, it is said, may be built by L. O. Parkwood and the other by T. S. Adams. A decided increase in the usual spring population of all things feathery, furry and finny is said to be noticeable this year by close observers of wild life in this region. This is said to be the result of water which preserved all these species. The bridge gang on the Mt. Hood railroad is now busy repairing structures that were showing signs of weakness and replacing others where this method is needed. L. F. Parker, who has been unwell for several days, is reported by his friends as contemplating a trip to Portland to consult a specialist. Miss Dorothy Doane, who is teaching at a school at Wapinitia, spent the week end here visiting with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Doane, and her sister, Mrs. Harry Whitley. Miss Mildred Jones, of Walla Walla, niece of Mrs. Edna Parcher, and Mrs. Jones' daughter spent the past week visiting at Mrs. Parcher's pleasant home on the Flat. Mrs. Jones returned to her home Saturday. Mrs. Parcher has as her guest her little granddaughter, Frances Parcher, of Portland. Mrs. J. C. McCannan, who for some time has been suffering from the after effects of an attack of the flu, is reported to be much better. Strawberry plants are now in full bloom on the Flat two weeks earlier than usual. The bloom is heavy and gives promise of a big crop. Their wild cousins are also up and coming and are peeping their faces through the already high grass in all directions. A heavy white frost Tuesday night did no particular damage here except to grape vines whose tender shoots had been forced ahead for their natural growing season by the unusually warm weather. Some of these are said to have been badly frozen. The numerous poultry raisers who recently started in this industry here are reporting good success with their baby chicks so far and only several losses. Most of them are contemplating joining the association here as the proper outlet for surplus birds. W. F. Shannon and Luhr Jensen were visitors at The Dallas-Sunday on a business trip. The Winona gas station is being put into shape for business. Motor visitors are becoming more numerous as the season advances and Sunday here are particularly noticeable moving through this section in all directions. CENTRAL VALE Madeline Smith, of Portland, spent the past week at H. L. Furrow's on her way to eastern Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Davidson and Misses Ruth and Edna Ingalls motored to Portland Sunday. Mrs. F. I. Bowman and children have gone to Montavilla, Calif., for a visit with her parents. Mrs. H. H. Farbach underwent a serious operation last Monday at the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. At present writing she is doing nicely. We are sorry to note that Mrs. J. O. Cameron has been under the doctor's care but glad she is improving. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Sheppard and Mrs. Job Sheppard motored to Portland Monday on a business trip. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Price, of The Dallas, visited with the Chevon and Chapman families Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Allen and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Creson and family motored to Celilo Sunday. Ned Hagler, Edgar and Esther and Mrs. Harry Jarvis and children were in Portland Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Mrs. Jarvis and Esther spent the time with Mrs. Lenora Masterson. A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Procknow, Sunday morning at the Hood River hospital. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jordan, of Portland, who had been spending ten days with their daughter, Mrs. W. O. Sheppard, returned to their home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard and Jane motored with them. Mrs. Wm. Gilkerson returned Friday from a two weeks' visit with her mother at Tacoma and friends in Portland. Miss Mary Copperde is entertaining a friend at her home this week. Leonard Fletcher, Miss May, Mrs. Clayton Fletcher and Misses Marie and Emily were in The Dallas on business Friday. About 60 ladies were pleasantly entertained Saturday afternoon by Mrs. O. H. Hill and Mrs. G. A. Hoffmann in honor of Mrs. C. E. Schwelzer and Miss Ruth Reynolds. The afternoon was spent in playing 500, after which delicious refreshments were served. A get-ready-for-school clinic will be held at the Odell grade school Wednesday, May 12; hours, 10 to 12 and 1 to 4. It is urged that those who have children who will attend school next fall for the first time, take advantage of this meeting. Let us remember the costume concert to be given May 7 at the Odell Grange hall by O. Laurence Woodfin, harpist-composer, assisted by Robert Fleck, pianist, for the benefit of the Central Vale community home fund at popular prices. Do not miss it. Notice elsewhere. The regular meeting of the M. D. club is this (Thursday) afternoon at the home of Mrs. Neils Hagen. Mr. and Mrs. F. Clark were in White Salmon Sunday calling on their new little granddaughter. The school track meet will be held in Hood River Saturday at 10 a. m. Those who will participate from here are Frances Downing, Vivien Lecallion, Minnie Fellman and Lois Schwelzer, and Billy Furrow, James McVie, Gordon and Lloyd Gilkerson and Bobby Hill. This is National Child Health week and the school children are busy making health posters. These are to be judged Saturday in Hood River. Go out to hear the Dufts who are at the Odell high school this evening this week. They are very good. WEST SIDE B. L. Cummings and Carl were at the Fields farm at Cascade Locks last week stearing sheep. Mrs. E. J. Nicholson was hostess to the Miss Lovens club last Friday. The study was the opera, "Faust." Miss Lorene West took third honors in violin solo work at the Forest Grove musical contest. Gordon Manser and Harold Fordie also made the trip to Forest Grove to sing in the boys' chorus. Joyce Ny entered for solo work. The Oak Grove-Barrett scouts held their regular meeting Monday with C. T. Schreiber, A. E. Case and Dr. E. E. Abraham as guests of honor. About 22 boys went through the ceremony of investiture and are now tenderfoot scouts. This troop is growing in numbers and enthusiasm. Mr. and Mrs. Woodard went to Portland Sunday to remain during the week looking after their apartment house. Mrs. Taylor is taking care of the home in their absence. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Saling, Randall and Elvora stopped in Hood River to visit relatives Saturday. They were on their way to visit their daughter, Mrs. Johnson (Avis Saling) in eastern Oregon. The Missionary society of Asbury Methodist church meets Friday afternoon, April 30, at the home of Mrs. Will Isenberg. Mrs. E. R. Moller's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oberbauer, of Portland, visited here Sunday. Social grange last Friday was a pleasant affair with several out-of-town girls, Julianne Benton, Carol Hurburt, Jean Frey, and Grace and Dorothy Palmbert on the program. BARRETT Henry Gilcher and Bob Nesbit have gone to Enterprise. The boys are making up a sailing outfit in Enterprise. Their many friends wish them success. Mrs. Fred Gilcher called on her mother and attended the Ladies' Aid at Mrs. Griffith's Thursday. Elder and Mrs. Kahaly, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crapper and little son, John Louis, motored to Maryhill, Wash., Sunday. Mrs. Bertha Gilcher and children were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Aleck McCoy, of Frankton. Mr. and Mrs. John Strahn, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ross and daughter, Rosemary, Mr. C. Chamber and daughter, John, of The Dallas, and J. D. Cotton, of Belmont, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. Griffith. Mrs. C. L. Swainmsted was called to Portland Monday night to see to the care of her mother who is undergoing an operation Tuesday morning. CHINA PHEASANT IS VICTOR OVER RATTLER April 28, 1926. Editor Glacier: As it has been some time since you have had a make story in the Glacier, shall send you one which is as follows: During the noon hour Monday, while looking after irrigation water in the orchard just home, I noticed a China Pheasant rather in the ordinary way; seemed to be having a scrap but as I could not see the other participant was at a loss to account for his strange conduct. Being curious, I advanced the pheasant which, spying me, flew away. Still not satisfied with what I had seen, went on to make a further investigation. What I found sure put me to my being for on the exact spot of battle was a large rattlesnake coiled up, his head tucked under his body as if trying to protect it. His tail was very bloody with all rattles torn away. From all indications this is what the China was doing when going through his antics. Having a shovel in my hand, I prodded Mr. Snake to see if he had any more and found him in a very hostile mood. He would strike the shovel viciously. Not having a particular liking for rattlesnakes, I soon finished the task started by the China rattle. Have often heard that snakes charm birds and hold them at their mercy, but Mr. Chink refused to be charmed and had proceeded to battle with the rattler. Why, I do not know, unless the mother pheasant had a nest or young nearby. Perry E. Wells. WEDDINGS Harms-Hayworth The wedding of William Robert Harms, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Harms, of Columbia street, and Mandie Hayworth occurred Sunday at the Asbury Methodist parsonage. Rev. S. H. Hancock officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Harms will make their home in Hood River. Goss-Williams The wedding of Lon Floyd Goss, of Dallas, and Miss Abbie C. Williams, of Cascade Locks, were married April 12 at the Asbury Methodist parsonage. Rev. S. H. Hancock officiated. Measles Epidemic Due (By Frederick D. Stricker, M. D., collaborating epidemiologist of Oregon State Board of Health, in cooperation with the United States Public Health Service). An epidemic of measles is due in Oregon this year if history is going to repeat itself, as it usually does. In 1925 we had only 131 cases and not a single death. In 1922 we had only 150 cases and no deaths. The next year there were 5,355 cases and 29 deaths, while in 1923 there were 5,255 cases and 82 deaths. This will be a measles year unless the record for the past ten years is broken. The fact that the record of 1924 was lower than that of 1923, and that of 1925 less than that of 1924, makes it almost certain that 1926 will see a considerable increase. If the number of deaths from measles is to be reduced, an intelligent effort must be made to control this disease. The following statistics on measles in Oregon are herewith given: 1918, 4,623 cases, 55 deaths; 1919, 4,777 cases, 60 deaths; 1920, 2,583 cases, 5 deaths; 1921, 3,217 cases, 44 deaths; 1922, 150 cases, 0 deaths; 1923, 5,355 cases, 29 deaths; 1924, 5,255 cases, 82 deaths; 1925, 131 cases, 0 deaths. Physicians are urged to cooperate with the State Board of Health by reporting all cases and attending to the measures to guard very young children who may have been exposed to measles. Measles still seem to be a necessary evil, though it is not necessary for it to be as great an evil as it is today. To some extent its evils can be turned to advantage in combating other diseases. More attention should be given to preventive methods and investigation. Measles is a typical epidemic disease spread by human contact. Measles epidemics occur in large cities about every two or three years and in smaller places at somewhat longer intervals. If measles appeared only every 20 or 30 years we would observe much the same disruption of social and economic life that is common to an epidemic of influenza. Under such circumstances it would not be possible to confine to childhood as it is today, but would attack adults, particularly young adults. This has been proven by the occurrence of measles epidemics in isolated communities where the disease has been introduced for the first time or where it has occurred between long intervals. The apprehension of measles is one of the most difficult problems that health authorities have to face, and its prevalence is not likely to decrease until it can be recognized before it is transmissible; and also, not until health authorities have the cooperation of a public educated to the knowledge that to expose children to measles is playing with death. Notice of Sale of Personal Property Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned, as administrator of the estate of Lottie May McLain, deceased, has been authorized by the County Court of Hood River County, Oregon, to sell certain personal property belonging to said estate, and pursuant to such Order the public is hereby notified and advised that on and after May 8, 1926, the following described personal property will be sold at private sale, for cash: Said property to be sold consists of the household furniture, furnishings and equipment, and includes table, chairs, beds and bedding, bedroom furniture, kitchen furniture and utensils, one electric portiere, electric stove, wood stove, rug and carpets, wall picture, curtains, linens, linen, iron safe, Victrola and records, one leather couch and one ornate tary couch, china and silverware, aluminum ware, canned fruit, empty glass fruit jars, garden tools, and many other articles of household equipment too numerous to mention. Said sale will be conducted and take place at the residence of the late Lottie May McLain, at the corner of Fourth and Montello Streets, in the City of Hood River, Oregon, and said sale will be open for inspection and sale on the afternoons of each day commencing May 8, 1926, between the hours of 1 o'clock and 5 o'clock. By Order of the County Court. Dated April 27, 1926. FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF HOOD RIVER, By E. O. Blackman, President. HIGH SCHOOL BOYS PLEASE CLUB MEN High school boys, members of a quartet, which won honors at the Forest Grove music tournament last week, were presented at the chamber of commerce forum Tuesday and won an ovation. Members of the quartet, who sang several songs, were: Maybaw Carson, Glen Mendenhall, Harry Weber and Howard Miller. They were accompanied by Miss Charlotte Broadus. Mr. Weber, who has an apparently rich voice, rendered two solos. He was accompanied by Mrs. Henney at the piano. Guests at the forum luncheon were: B. L. Murphy and son, Dr. Murphy, of La Grande; Dr. F. Gordon Hart and William J. White, the latter representative of the Zellbach Paper Co. CLIFTON SERVICE STATION BEAUTIFIED There are service stations and service stations along the highways of Oregon, but none has a greater appeal to the eye of the passing motorist than Clifton Park, operated at the valley gateway on the Columbia River highway by Mrs. W. L. Clark and her son, Newton. The buildings of the station are set amid native scenery, and the rocky cliffs rise immediately back of the structures. Mrs. Clark has made the most of the native greenery, and has added beautifying touches with domestic flowers. Tables, set amidst the inviting cool, maple-canopied nooks, call to the passing motorist to stop and rest a bit. The Clifton Park station handles gasoline and oil products of the General Petroleum Corporation, and the buildings are painted with the green coloring of this company which blends handsomely with the shrubbery.
