Miss Richmond is a native of the state. Following a course of musical training in Portland she went to New York where continued progress in her vocal study won her admission to the direction of Yeatman Griffith. After a successful season in New York and Brooklyn concerts she returned to the west and last year made a brilliant debut in Portland. Since then she has filled concert engagements throughout the country.

Her interest in the pageant hinges largely on the character portrayal of Sacajawea, Indian malden whose fragic history is woven into the pageant by Professor Thacher. This part will per-Cates, John Conlon, Dr. Edgington, Mr.

Father Hugh J. Marshall, Pastor. ourse, is much better than artificial.

Nature hates an idler. A man who has nothing to do is worse off physiologically than one who tolls a good eight hours a day. Idlers form that vicious class of people who find time to write long windy epistles to newspapers, taking exceptions to every progressive movement. There is a most happy medium between idleness and overwork, which every useful citizen ought to try to attain. Hard work,

Properly done, never harmed anyone. Health and efficiency always seem to together. The combination of physre together. The combination of physical and mental health is essential to ical and mental health is essential to the mind as it will not perform won-ders by itself.
