Worth Billions!

These boys and girls of ours—yours and mine!
No wealth of money could equal their value to us—or to the nation.

And no billions could buy for America's com-ing generation as much in value as the educa-tion they are getting now.

Parents, teachers and all the rest of us have a grave responsibility to teach the men and women of tomorrow, to profit from tests met now, to gain by experience, to gauge the future properly.

To teach them, too, that earning money alone is not enough, but that right handling of funds, and thrift, are requisites for success.

HERE is no sport that has displayed more tolerance in its fight for recognition than has swimming. Down thru the ages swimming has been known as a sport, dating back to the stone era, when they wrote pages of swimming history on stone. Today it is considered a fundamental part of every person's education.

Swimming builds a beautiful body, long and supple muscles, strong and powerful lungs. It molds, it makes and lengthens the life of a person who has found enjoyment in the exercise of a daily or bi-weekly swim.

To both men and women the exercise given by swimming aids to keep one in the pink of condition. When one has once mastered the art, he or she may present themselves as an excellent example of manhood or womanhood.

The height of Adams is 12,307 feet; it was named after President Adams. Standing on top one can see nine distinct glaciers, the most typical and largest of which is the Kilckitat, and the most interesting is Rusk which flows down through a deep, narrow flume. There are two trails on the north and south which can be climbed without difficulty, while on the east and west it takes an expert climber to make the top. Last year 48 registered in the book on top while this year 227 have made the climb.

Apple prospects for Europe during the first part of August deteriorated slightly from July expectations, accord-"We had good luck, and I was able to be the guest at grivate to get most of my bills out of the way."

We were getting in good shape for the heavy. "Some of the leaders in congress showed worry over the Knutson bill. Shell, Madden and others warned that it could not pass. I sent word to Knutson and he asked me not to call up his bill unless I could got it through. There would have been a fillibuser that would have killed both. I suggested that he got to the department of the interior and get further data. This cleared the way for the whole. I then moved the previous question, and this gave it the previous question is the previous question of the way. The previous question is the previous question in th
