der the auspices of the Epworth League the annual apple harvest festival will be held. To this everyone is cordially invited and it is intended especially to welcome the strangers who are here for the harvest. A special program will be provided in place of the 11 o'clock morning service.

Miss Margaret Gould, who is with the extension department of O. A. C. made a week end visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gould. Other Saturday and Sunday guests at Home-wood were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Gain, all of Portland.

Because of the late date of high school opening no P. T. A. meeting will be held this month. October 10 a reception for teachers and a fine program is planned.

This, then, falls to Billy Furrow and Lois Lescallien. Mary Lewis and Lois Lescallien were a tie for this honor, but as Mary went to the state fair last year the committee decided in favor of Lois. DEE

AND REVERSIDE PARK
"What's in a name? A rose by any other name would smell as sweet," is the oft repeated saying of a famous poet-philosopher of the long ago. But would it?

The nomenclature applied to this beautiful flower at variance with its exquisite color, delicate odor and other delightful characteristics rob this queen of the floral kingdom of much of its homage and many of its admirers. The so-called skunk cabbage or sag-weed, would not, in our opinion, be surrounded by that halo of sentiment and adulation that has caused maidens to weep over it, men to bleed and die for it, and poets of both sexes to rave about it.

As with the rose, so with other things, which brings us to the point of this tale which has its end in the beginning, which again, is so more or less than to give what is known as Dee what its rightful, sweet smelling, cognomen of ReverSide Park. We say rightful because this is the name which the district now known as Dee Flat was originally platted and entered on the county records. Furthermore, the application Dee Flat is a misnomer. By no stretch of the most inventive imagination can the area so named be called a flat, when it is necessary to ascend some 400 to 600 feet from the river near it to get on it. It might be designated a plateau, or Dee Heights or something else somewhat up in the air, but it wasn't. Its founders, developers, boosters or what not officially called it ReverSide Park—and that's sweet enough.

It has come into the minds of many who reside in this district, who have invested their all there; who have toiled early and late to make it productive, attractive and prosperous; who have spent their savings to have its highways and byways improved and to provide it with modern conveniences that they wish it to be known by a name more dignified, more in keeping with the beautiful topography of its location, more euphonious, more—in short called by a name that doesn't give the impression of something "flat, stale and unprofitable." And they have it—ready made, gilt-edged and guaranteed not to wash off in their selection of ReverSide Park.

Of course from the point of view of postal facilities, ReverSide Park like Laurelhurst, Irvington and Rose City Park in Portland, must remain a part of the Dee district, but Dee should be "stealy" named, that although her buxom and beautiful daughter has taken her right name she has not left the family.

And now, ladies and gentlemen, I thank you. Before closing the meeting, three rousing cheers for ReverSide Park.

The board of directors of the Dee Irrigation district having let the contract to repair the section of the ditch known as Dee creek which recently tumbled into the canyon, the work is now progressing rapidly. Four men who have been employed in replacing the rock work are finished this part of the work and are now engaged in putting in the bridge timbers. It is the intention if the weather permits to rush the work to an early completion.

During the past week six new employees' houses have been erected on the Smith orchard at ReverSide Park and two on the Al Stevens property to replace the buildings recently destroyed by fire.

Rain during the past week was a welcome guest to several residents at ReverSide Park whose supply of apples were fast running out. It is said to be the first time that wells in this district have failed since they were put in use.

R. S. Hamilton is now one of the inspectors employed by the county fruit inspector in detecting spray residue on apple shipments. Mr. Hamilton is located at the Association warehouse at Hood River. At present he is driving back and forth from his home at ReverSide Park to Hood River in connection with his duties, but will move to town October 1 with his family and occupy an apartment in the Brostius home. Mr. and Mrs. Crossman will also be at home after October 1 at the Brostius residence.

Riverside Park residents are enjoying the convenience of the visits of a meat purveyor twice a week at the present time. Lew Rhodes is the man in charge and reports business active. A camp of 20 Filipinos has been established in lower Riverside Park near the Graf & Childs orchards. The natives of the Far East are engaged in picking apples and a number of them are this week working at the Kuga orchard where early varieties are being harvested.

A survey has been completed for a cut off to the road going into the orchard district to the west of Trout creek where the Mohr & Bush, Allen Macrum and several other ranches are located. The new road will very materially shorten the distance from these ranches to the Dee-Parkdale highway and have a much better grade.

Poster Nader, who has been employed by Charles Rogers on the work of clearing a section of the Dalles-Wapanilla highway has returned to the Park and is residing at the home of A. E. Baker.

The first frost of the season hit ReverSide Park Saturday morning, September 18. It was heavy but apparently did very little damage. Early risers Sunday morning say it was again frosty. We didn't see it.

A goodly number of deer hunters have passed through going and coming from the Lost lake and Chindere sections during the past few days. Several of them returned with a deer carcass tied on the back above the spare tire, but we couldn't grab the butcher knife quick enough.

Several large truckloads of trout fry were distributed during the past week in the upper West Fork and Lost lake. The distribution of fry was from the Dead Point hatchery.

With the apple harvesting season on the store of the Oregon Lumber Co. at Dee is a busy place and nothing but J. H. Van Wicklen and Prentice Cutler, the main performers at thisemporium, haven't decided as yet whether to get the roller skates or a pair of wings. The traffic problem on the main boulevard is also acute, and the "Don't Shave" sign necessary during the rush hours at the P. O. The town has assumed not only a metropolitan but also a cosmopolitan air. Citizens of the Far East are almost as numerous on the Great White Way of the city of Dee as native sons and it is freely predicted that by the time that the last apple is removed from its lofty perch that the employes of the store and Miss Mabel Green the fair postmistress will have added at least a very good working knowledge of Filipino to their other linguistic accomplishments.

J. L. Woods has just put the finishing touches on his big combination barn, garage, apple packing room and potato storage house. It is all under one roof, has concrete floors throughout, is heated by means of gas electricity, it's a moose. Squire Woods doesn't intend to do any hand work in delving for potatoes in his big potato field this fall. He has just brought to the manor a new century and a half potato digger that will not only excavate and lift in a jiffy but looks as if it might be able to count, weigh and sack 'em also.

Miss Mina H. Little, county nurse of Columbia county, and Miss Dora Shaffer, of St. Helens, Ore., were the house guests for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Macrum. Miss Little and Mr. Macrum formerly lived in Kansas where they were acquitted but had not met for 18 years.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Howell and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bear of Hood River were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Macrum.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Knox, of John Day who were on the three days' trip to Portland and the coast were visitors at the home of W. M. Rush Sunday. Mrs. Knox is Mrs. Ruth's sister. Mr. Rush is the proprietor of a large general merchandise store at John Day.

Mrs. Robt. Smith spent several days in Portland last week. When she returned she was accompanied by her son Joseph who made a short stay with his parents.

Harry Currow and family, the former a son of Mrs. Robt. Smith, have taken one of the cottages on the Smith place and will spend the winter there.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Billings spent Sunday at The Dalles visiting the former's father, Amos Billings.

Guy Stouffer, of Fresno, Calif., is at the Stouffer place on a visit to his father.

Jack Walt, who has been at Yashon Island, Wash., for the summer in connection with the Forestry service for the Oregon Lumber Co., has returned to Dee.

E. H. Green, manager of the Oregon Lumber Co. at Dee, was a business visitor in Portland Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Berr. Sammett, of Portland, were week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Van Wicklen at Dee. Mrs. Van Wicklen accompanied them to Portland Monday for a short visit.

Miss Clara and Miss Harriet Thompson of Hood River were guests Sunday at the West home at ReverSide Park.

Mrs. Edward St. Louis, who with her husband had been living at the hotel at Dee, died suddenly Saturday as the result of a hemorrhage of the lungs. Mrs. St. Louis, who had been unwell for some time, came to Dee during the summer in the hope of benefiting her health. In addition to her husband she is survived by three sons, one of them residing in California, one in Birmingham, Ala., and one in Manila, P. I. The body was shipped to Tacoma for interment.

The hot lunch committee of the Dee school held a meeting Monday and decided to start serving lunches, October 1. The fee was fixed at $1 per child. Mrs. James Wirrick and Mrs. Milton Bingham were selected to take charge of the work for the first month.

TROUT LAKE

Most of the members of Trout Lake chapter, O. E. S., went to White Salmon Thursday evening, where they were entertained with the grand matron and other grand officers by White Salmon chapter. Everybody reports a good time.

Farmers are looking at the skies and at the uncut grain and hay, and are wondering what the weather man is going to do to them.

It is reported that E. N. Clarke has entered into partnership with C. E. Hall.

under the auspices of the grange, giving an opportunity for all legislative candidates to appear before the people and tell them where they stand on the grange legislative program, etc., was not as well attended as the importance of the meeting warranted. Yet, those present enjoyed interesting and instructive talks. The lack of interest shown by voters in their own political business almost gives a license to public officers to conduct public affairs in any old way they see fit.

C. M. Cutting, president of the Good Roads club, announces there will be a meeting called in the near future. He hopes all parts of the valley will be enough interested in their business and the valley to attend. Everything accomplished in this valley of account has been brought about by cooperation of all sections. There is still more work ahead of us.

Rev. Good, who has been spending a week or more on the mountain, returned Thursday much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Tucker are spending a short vacation at their cottage on the creek. Mr. Tucker is builder and proprietor of the "All States Auto Camp" just this side of Portland.

Frank Hall spent a few days here with his parents and sisters before going back to his second year's teaching. Miss June returned with him to attend school in Goldendale.

The late primary election emphasized the lack of interest in public matters. A large number forgot to register, and many friends of all candidates forgot to vote.
