"YOU NEVER DID"

You never heard a man say he regretted having a savings account.

You never walked a mile without taking the first step, nor heard of a man building a savings account by waiting for a more convenient time to begin.

You never heard of a more sure or secure way to accumulate a reserve fund to meet the needs, the reverses, the opportunities future years may bring you than through a savings account with us, where every dollar you save draws interest.

CHEMICALS REMOVE SPRAYS

ACID BATHS FOR FRUIT EFFICIENT

Prof. Hartman Tells of Experiments—Mr. Yothers finds Codling Moth Attracted by Fermented Bait.

Prof. Henry Hartman, of the Oregon Agricultural College, who Tuesday addressed mid-Columbia apple growers here, sounded a new note of optimism over the spray residue problem, which cannot be disrupted, the apple and pear industry of the Pacific northwest last fall, when the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture suddenly started the enforcement of rules prohibiting the presence of arsenical spray residue on apples.

"At first," said Mr. Hartman, "I thought the ruling was very drastic and that we were required to do something that was not necessary, but since then I have been doing a lot of thinking, and the more I think about the removal of the spray residue, the more I have reached the conclusion that it may have been a blessing in disguise. We must remove all suspicion that our apples are not all right. This thing is not a fight with the government, with the bureau of chemistry, but rather a fight between the grower and the consumer. We want to be able to tell the consumer that our apples have no spray residue on them. We who have been working in the fruit here may say that the sprays have never resulted in any poisonous effects among us, but the very fact that somebody says that there is a preparation, including arsenic, on the apples, is like labeling the box with a skull and crossbones for the consumer. He can very easily satisfy his fruit diet with oranges or some other fruit."

Professor Hartman opposed the suggestion that has been made from some Pacific northwest sections that legislative action be taken toward raising the tolerance of a hundredth of one per cent to two and a half that. He cited that such legislation will have no effect on fruit sections of the northwest, in which all growers will still find it necessary to clean their apples.

"Such legislation will, however," said Mr. Hartman, "relieve growers in districts east of the Mississippi river from the necessity of cleaning their apples. There it is not necessary to fight codling moth with poison sprays to such an extent as in the Pacific coast area. If the present tolerance of the British government, which has been made the American standard, is maintained, the eastern growers cannot meet it, and much of the fruit of those areas, as a result, will not go into interstate trade."

Professor Hartman, who has made extensive experiments with baths for removal of spray residue, says that hydrochloric acid has been found the only practical chemical for cleaning the fruit. He declared that no injury results from such dipping or spraying, where the solution is properly applied and the apples later are properly rinsed. Solutions of one per cent hydrochloric acid or about a third of one per cent have been found efficient. Up to the present time, Professor Hartman said, machinery for dipping or spraying the apples has been rather crude. He anticipates that manufacturers will work out apparatus that will enable the economical cleansing of apples and pears by the bath process, either for central packing plants or individual growers.

Professor Hartman said that plans for further tests with the bathing process call for the inclusion of some harmless disinfectant in the chemical solutions that will kill the spores of such as blue mould and other disease pests that cause storage decay. Orange growers have found such a disinfectant effective, and the agricultural college man expressed a confidence that apple growers will benefit from a similar system.

M. A. Yothers, associate entomologist of the United States department of agriculture, stationed at Yakima, told of experiments that have been conducted since 1923 in trapping codling moths.

SCHOOL BONDS SOLD FOR RECORD PRICE

An $80,000 issue of bonds of School District No. 3, comprised of the city and surrounding orchard territory, was sold Saturday to Ferris & Hardgrove and Ralph Schmechel Co., of Portland, with interest at 4% per cent and a premium of 43 cents per $100. Thirteen other bidders sought the bonds. Bond men stated the sale was the best ever made for Oregon school bonds outside Portland.

The proceeds from the bond sale will be used on a $175,000 high school new under construction.

Other bids on the bonds were as follows: N. S. Hill & Co., 5%, $475 par, interest with flat premium; Security Saving & Trust Co., and Hugh E. McGuire & Co., 5%, $101.32; Boworth & Chappin Co., 5%, $101.18; will furnish blank bonds; The Hanchett Bond Co., 5%, $918.50 par and interest with flat premium; A. D. Wakeman Co., and Wills Dickey Co., 4%, $100.13, will furnish bonds; Peirce, Fair & Co., 4%, $100.07; E. H. Rollins & Sons and Roy H. Johnson, 5%, $101.47; Ralph A. Blanchard Co.,

Inc., 5%, $1112 par and interest with flat premium, will furnish bonds; Freeman, Smith & Camp Co., and Geo. H. Burr, Conrad & Broom, Inc., 5%, $100.77; Lumbermens Trust Co., 5%, $21,000 first maturity, and 4%, $95,000 remaining, $1000.17 for each $1000 par value; A. B. Leach & Co., 5%, $285 par, accrued interest and premium; First National Bank, Hood River, and Halsey, Stuart & Co., 5%, $1187 par and interest with flat premium, or 5% $142.40 par and interest with flat premium.

The following information was given to prospective bidders for the bond issue:

The district includes all of the city of Hood River and some of the close in farming district west of the city; all of the close in district south of the city; and east of the city it extends to the Wasco county line.

The assessed valuation of the district is $3,511,628.80; real estate value of taxable property estimated, $5,000,000.00; total bonded indebtedness including this issue, $175,000; there is no other indebtedness.

The population of the district is estimated at 4,300. The bonds now being issued were voted by the district on May 1st, 1924; 411 votes were cast, 253 for bonds, 158 against. The present enrollment of the district's schools is 1088. This enrollment includes about 100 high school pupils from outside districts and for whom this district receives tuition. School census for the district shows 1,100.

There are at present two bond issues out against the district; one of $45,000 at 5% payable May 1st, 1931; and one of $41,000 at 6% payable June 1st, 1940. These will be paid when due and the $80,000 now being issued will be met as they come due according to the schedule in the attached "Notice of Bond Sale," all of which can be done without increasing the budget for indebtedness over the one which has been adopted for 1927-1928.

A financial statement of the district clerk's annual report June 21st, 1926, showed bonds outstanding, $50,000; cash on hand, $65,613.61; invested in approved municipal bonds, $15,000. The building now being built is to be used as a senior high school, which with equipment will cost $175,000. It stands on a beautiful ten acres of ground. The building is large enough to accommodate the high school pupils for the next ten years with a normal growth. The present high school building is to be used as a junior high school building.

JAMES R. CASH'S FUNERAL TUESDAY

James R. Cash, who would have reached his 80th birthday in March, died at his home Sunday night. Funeral services for Mr. Cash, a native of Indiana, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Anderson chapel, Rev. W. O. Livingstone, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. Interment followed at Idlewild cemetery.

Mr. Cash, who served during the Civil War in the 2nd Indiana Regiment, was a post commander of Ormsby post, Grand Army of the Republic. The members of the post observed ritualistic services, and a firing squad from the American Legion post participated in the burial ceremony.

Mr. Cash, who had lived in Hood River for 24 years, is survived by his widow and the following children: Ashley B. Cash, Hood River; Alvin Burleigh Cash, a Seattle, Wash., high school, and Harry L. Cash, who is superintendent of instruction in the province of Lanna, Philippine Islands. A granddaughter, Mrs. Verda Layman, lives in Portland.

James Ross Cash was born March 2, 1847, in Penn township, Jay county, Indiana. He was joined in marriage to Eleanor Wilcox July 22, 1871. To this union were born five children. Two daughters, Aetna Blanche and Agnes Bertha, have gone to their reward.

Mr. Cash resided near the place of his birth until 1892 when he moved with his family to Hood River, Ore., where he resided until his death January 10, 1927, aged 79 years, 10 months, and 8 days. Mr. Cash was a citizen of sterling worth and was highly honored and esteemed by all who were fortunate enough to know him. His sunny disposition and kindly spirit won for him a host of friends. He is survived by five grandchildren and one great grandson.

His Work is Done
Sleep on, dear friend, a life like thine, has not been lived in vain, But holds an influence rare, divine, Be one of them, Come and have a God knows the way, He holds the key, and guides us with unerring hand, Sometime with tearless eyes we'll see, and then perhaps we'll understand.

All that is mortal of our beloved friend has been laid to rest, but his spirit still lives and will continue to live, and though we will miss his gentle manner and encouraging words, his memory will ever be fresh in our hearts and minds, and the life he lived, and the sacrifices he made, will ever be an example for us to follow, and an inspiration to spur us on to renewed efforts.

"Beautiful twilight at set of sun,
Beautiful goal with race well run,
Beautiful rest with work well done."

SHOEMAKER WILL BE CHAMBER HEAD

Kent Shoemaker, county clerk here for the past 12 years, Monday accepted the secretaryship of the chamber of commerce, succeeding C. T. Baker, who will leave Hood River for Medford February 1 to take over the chamber secretaryship there.

Mr. Baker's resignation was received last week, and the directorate of the chamber at that time elected Mr. Shoemaker. The proffer was a surprise to the county clerk, who at the time was on the south side of Mount Hood, engaged in the search for Leslie Brownlee.

Mr. Shoemaker, a native Oregonian and great war veteran, was one of the originators of the Hood River American Legion Mount Hood club, and has been manager of the club since it was established in 1921.

OVATION IS GIVEN COCHRAN AT THE FORUM

CRAIG RAT HONORABLE AT THE FORUM

Rabbi Wise, of Portland, Delivered Home-spun Patriot Duty

The Tuesday forenoon of the chamber of commerce at a gave ovation to Craig Rat, who for the Portland youth recently lost while skiing in the highland forests on the south slopes of Mount Hood. Mr. Cochran was introduced by A. L. Anderson, in charge of the Hood River searchers on the mountain.

"As Bill is more of a doer than a talker," said Mr. Anderson, "we will never know just what he went through with in following the trail of the lost boy. His task, however, was rendered very difficult, for a blanket of 24 inches of snow had fallen after he had traveled over the ground we covered. Great masses of snow, too, were falling from the trees, and this added to the difficulties of tracking. It required perseverance and skill to find that trail when lost and then pursue it until the boy was found."

When Mr. Anderson had finished and Mr. Cochran had risen to acknowledge the introduction, the dining room of the Waucoma hotel resounded with applause and the members of the forum arose in mass.

Mr. Anderson also introduced Bill Hukari, who, he declared, deserved special mention for his participation in the search.

"We members of the Craig Rats went on our search," said Mr. Anderson, "not to gain any praise or publicity but to save life. There were many hardships that we endured and many things were done that you haven't heard about. One time we wanted to get a big toboggan across a stream. Anotto Annaa waded into the stream, stooped over and made a bridge of his back. Paul Hoerlein learned that we might approach these dangerous corners, formed during the winter months by snow collecting on precipices, by rolling huge snowballs ahead of us."

Leslie Butler, who presided at the meeting, declared that Hood River had gained new glory among the people of Portland through the efforts of the Craig Rats. He said that he was in Portland when news came in that Bill Cochran had found young White, and that everybody was praising the Hood River Craig Rats.

Rabbi Max Merritt, chief speaker of the luncheon meeting, declared that the well-merited praise of the Craig

GOLDEN RULE DINNER TO BE SERVED HERE

It is for the benefit of the Near East work.

The terrible earthquakes in Armenia, which have destroyed so much of the property and the crops of these poor people, just getting on their feet, have suddenly added great burdens on our Near East workers.

Supplies which were intended to go to the thousands of orphans under our care had to be diverted to the relief of the sufferers from the earthquakes. Multitudes of orphans who had been discharged and put in the care of families getting on their feet had to be taken back. More than an extra $500,000 must be obtained in the United States to meet this sudden emergency.

So the Hood River County Ministerial Association decided to call on the community to observe a Golden Rule dinner. Come together and eat a dinner such as our orphans in Armenia are eating daily, pay what we usually spend on our own dinners, and send the proceeds to the Near East. This is doing unto others, for a brief time, what we wish that others should do unto us, if we were in their place and they in ours.

The dinner will take place Friday evening, January 21, at the Methodist church, where we could find the largest dining hall in town. Rev. Hand-saker, director of the Near East Relief for the Northwest, will give a stirring address.

The ladies of all the churches will unite in serving the dinner. Let each one make this a previous engagement and come. We expect some 400 guests. Be one of them. Come and have a fellow feeling with the Armenians by eating the like of one of their daily dinners.

Tickets for sale at all the drug stores at 50 cents a ticket.

In behalf of the Hood River County Ministerial Association,
Rev. F. G. Hart,
Rev. C. R. Delepine,
Committee.

THREE ARE SEEKING COUNTY CLERKSHIP

Don McLeod, commander of the American Legion post last year, is seeking appointment by the county court to the county clerkship, to succeed Kent Shoemaker, who will resign to become secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. McLeod, who for a number of years has taken a prominent part in civic and public activities, is a member at present of the postoffice force.

Allyn Button, son of Mrs. F. H. Button, a young man who was reared here, is an applicant for the clerkship. Mr. Button, a great war veteran, having gone out with Hood River's own company, the old Company C, coast artillery, members of which were later transferred to the 65th regiment, G. A. C., for service in France, is active in American Legion circles.

A third applicant is H. L. Vannet, son of the late Mrs. Mary Vannet and brother of Ed A. Vannet, local orchard-ist.

County Judge Jeffrey said yesterday that the appointment will be made soon.

Robert Frey was an applicant for the position, but later withdrew from the race.
