A MATTER OF DOLLARS AND SENSE

Getting on in the world rarely comes through a lucky turn of the wheel of fortune. Once in a blue moon some one wins in mining stock, Wall Street or a Real Estate boom, but most of us have to advance by some slower, safer path.

James J. Hill, one of the greatest empire builders of them all, said:

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple and infallible. ARE YOU ABLE TO SAVE MONEY? IF NOT, DROP OUT; YOU WILL LOSE."

It is very largely a matter of dollars and sense

"Every Tub Must Stand On Its Own Bottom"

A homely truth, but eloquent. Friends may come and friends may go, but money never changes.

When financial troubles come, then it is that a man realizes his isolation, his dependence upon his own resources. But suppose he has no resources?

A savings account eliminates that supposition. A little reserved regularly from the pay envelope builds a fund that earns interest and saves him sleepless nights during "squally" times.

WHOLE COMMUNITY JOINS

HIGH CHURCH OFFICERS ARE COMING

Community Meeting Will Be Feature of The Convocation of Eastern Oregon Episcopal Church

To be made a chief in an Indian tribe among whom he lives is the distinction accorded Rt. Rev. Wm. P. Remington, now Bishop of Eastern Oregon, who will conduct and speak at the community meeting in the Rialto theater Friday, February 4. His career has been varied to the point of romance, and his vivid manliness puts the seal of joy upon the statesmanlike projects which he has planned. He is this week on a speaking tour through the Walla Walla, Yakima and Spokane country.

He was sent for his first church service to one of the most fashionable, wealthy and conservative churches in Philadelphia, because he seemed to have "the gift of ministering to their needs." But he broke away after a year, to a home and a poverty-stricken neighborhood and church in the lower part of the city. After building up a great church organization and starting new work in St. Paul, he was sent as Bishop to the Indians of South Dakota, where in the Nohrara Convocation, more people are served, in proportion to the total population, by his (Protestant Episcopal) church organization, than anywhere else where it labors. He served as a chaplain in France, and his Indian friends, hoping to retain him, ceremonially named him and made him chief. But he was called away, to succeed Bishop Robt. L. Paddock upon his resignation here in 1922.

Like Bishop Paddock, he has labored for the unity of all religious bodies. The gathering in the Rialto theater is the natural expression of his visit here, for the annual convocation of this district, which includes the churches east of the Cascade range, is Oregon.

Rt. Rev. Edw. M. Cross, Bishop of Spokane, the second speaker, is no less distinguished. Nor are the other visitors far behind. Rev. Jos. A. Ten Broeck, associate secretary of the Field Dept. of the P. E. Church in the U. S. A., is one of the outstanding leaders in his communion. The recommendation made, as Social Service secretary of his church, on the famous Calumet-Hockla strike in the copper fields of Michigan, were the same as those of the final settlement. Rev. H. V. Hinkle, Dean of the Church of the Redeemer, Pendleton, is one of the national specialists on rural problems yearly attached to the Rural Problems School at Madison, Wis. Ven. S. W. Cramer, Archbishop of Eastern Oregon, came after Bishop Remington from serving as Dean of the Black Hills, So. Dak.

Clergy and lay delegates will conduct their yearly business meetings at St. Mark's church from Wednesday, February 2, to Sunday, February 6. The clergy have been invited to speak in other local churches that evening.

The first united practice of the choir for the year meeting was successfully held under the direction of Edgar Cramer, conductor of the American Legion Auxiliary chorus, last Thursday night. Practice will be held tonight at the Elks hall, and February 4 at 7 p. m. at the theater. Mrs. A. S. Kolstad is the accompanist. Additional singers are still joining the group.

Representatives of organizations which are attending the service, as groups or as individuals, met at the Chamber of Commerce Monday night to arrange details of the meeting. The Ministerial Association of Hood River County has unanimously voted to support the gathering, and the churches are providing many of the united choir. For churches at some distance, Mrs. C. Cordier is representing the Underwood Community church; the presbytery, Mrs. A. C. Button, committee. Others who have been appointed by their bodies to act are Geo. V. Morrison, American Legion; A. L. Vincent and D. V. Dickson, Idlewild lodge, I. O. O. F.; J. C. Meyer, H. Conway, Knights of Pythias, and K. P. Band; Mrs. A. S. Keir, Eastern Star; O. H. Ehrick and C. R. Maslker, Kemp lodge, I. O. O. F.; Odell; Mrs. Bessie Creson, Hazel Rebekah, Odell; Mrs. Jennie Hunt, Mrs. J. G. Meyer, Pythian Sisters; Mrs. Zann Carnes, R. N. A.; Mrs. E. L. Scobee, Woman's Relief Corps. Four bodies limited constitutionally from such corporate action have sanctioned the gathering, as individuals; and unanimous action looking toward attendance has been taken by other groups, but word has not yet been given the committee in charge.

The full program of the convocation will be as follows: Wednesday, February 2, 4 p. m.—Worship; Self Denial Offering of the Daughters of the King; Supper; Conference on "Services." Thursday, February 3, 9 a. m.—Holy Communion. Churchwomen's Service League, morning and afternoon. Informal reception in the evening. Friday, February 4, 7:30 a. m.—Holy Communion; 9:30 a. m.—Prayer, organization and business, morning and afternoon; 8 p. m. Community Service in Rialto theater; 7:30. Knights of Pythias Band; 7:30-8. Favorite Hymns in the organ. Saturday, February 5, 7:30 a. m.—Holy Communion; 9:30 a. m. Convocation, morning and afternoon; Fireside discussions in the evening. Sunday, February 6, 9:30 a. m.—

Morning Prayer; 11 a. m. Holy Communion; Ordination of Rev. B. Stanley Moore, (deacon) of Heppner, to the priesthood. The service, for the fellowship of valley members, Sunday, 3:30 p. m.—Healing Service, led by Bishop Wm. P. Remington; 7:30-8 p. m., Clergy preach in Hood River valley churches. All meetings are open to the public.

THE WORLD'S UGLIEST SCREEN STAR COMING

Bull Montana, screen star and wrestler of note, who is known in film circles as the screen's ugliest man, will appear at the Rialto theatre Thursday, February 3, in a finish wrestling match with Tom Alley.

Montana is known for his wonderful screen characterizations as well as for his wrestling ability. He is on a flying wrestling trip to Spokane and in order to break his jump he consented to appear in Hood River. He is a tough baby in the ring and should give Alley a real bout. Alley is desirous of meeting him and while in the Northwest Montana is taking on Karasick, Alley, and one more opponent. Montana will be remembered as appearing in many Fairbanks pictures, also for his great work as the big ape in "The Lost World."

Bull is as proud of his disfigured mug as any beautiful woman is of her good looks and takes more pride in being known as the screen's ugliest man than he would in being known as a good actor. He has wrestled some of the best men of his weight in the world and besides having a chance to see the man you have always hated for the brutal parts he has portrayed on the screen, theatre patrons will also see a real wrestler in Montana. Alley, as everyone knows, is a real wrestler when he has to be. With a tough opponent like Montana he will have to go.

Tom Ray, who wrestled here recently, developed an attack of flu in the matches, Wash., and was confined to his bed there but Tuesday morning the Rialto received a wire from him stating he had won the Washington state championship from Chas. Davis at Wenatchee Monday night and will be here in Hood River Thursday, February 3, to challenge Alley and find out why he cannot get Alley into a match here. With Montana and Alley in a finish match and with Ray on hand to force Alley into a match, the wrestling patrons should see some fireworks next Thursday. Ray has been hot after Alley but never has been able to get him into the ring here. Ray is coming back to Hood River with the understanding that he is to be given matches with some of the highly touted Portland boys, so if Hood River is to have a man of his calibre located here, the fans must give the game their support.

Montana and Alley will open the season of the big cards and Ray and Alley will follow if the match can be arranged. Men like Karasick, Engel, Korman and Thye will all be brought here if the fans will give Ray their support, and he bars none of them. Ray would have been given the shot with Montana but arrangements had to be concluded by long distance to Los Angeles and Alley was given the match as he was available at the time. He has partially agreed to meet Ray here in return for giving him the match and will be expected to live up to his word.

On account of the big expense in getting Montana here the free list will be entirely suspended for this show. Ladies are cordially invited, and Montana especially wants a large delegation of ladies as he feels that while many of the female hearts flutter at the mention of some of the screen's leading men, he should at least be a big enough drawing card that the ladies will want to come and see how a man can actually live with a mug like his. Regular wrestling show prices will prevail—$1.00 for ringside, $1.10 for lower floor and boxes, 75c for balcony and 25c for kids. Thursday, February 3, is the date of Hood River's biggest card.

MR. PERIGO FINDS DELICIOUS VARIETY

"The only local variety of apples I saw on the markets of Oklahoma and Indiana, the Delicious, was selling at 10 cents apiece for sizes 64 to 100," said J. W. Perigo, pioneer local grocer, who recently returned from a visit to relatives at Bonaville, Ind., and Tulsa, Okla. "Smaller sizes were bringing five cents each. The markets of Oklahoma are well supplied with lower grade apples from the Ozark districts."

Mr. Perigo said that the Indiana corn crop of last year yielded well. Farmers, however, he said, were receiving only 35 cents per bushel for the crop. Those who were able to find the animals were buying hogs and feeding their corn, he said. Hogs, however, are very scarce and high-priced.

Past Matrons Meeting Enjoyable

The past matrons of Hood River chapter, O. E. S., met at the home of Mrs. W. F. Laraway Tuesday. Mrs. Laraway served a 12:30 luncheon to the members. The dining room and table were tastefully decorated with flowers and many candies, all of which represented the five colors of the central star. The centerpiece was a star, designed and made by Mr. Laraway. As a dessert a large angel food cake, decorated with white icing and small chocolate gavales and ice cream with a club emblem in the center, were served. A boutonniere of violets was at each plate.

After luncheon the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. V. R. Abraham. Lillian Fisher, retiring matron, was admitted to full membership in the club. Officers elected for the coming year were: Mrs. E. L. Scobee, president; Mrs. P. S. Gilbert, vice president; Mrs. W. F. Laraway, secretary and treasurer.

Those present beside the hostess were: Mrs. Emma Brosius, Mrs. H. D. W. Fines, Mrs. J. K. Carson, Mrs. C. Bucklin, Mrs. F. S. Gilbert, Mrs. M. Horne, Mrs. V. R. Abraham, Mrs. H. L. Hasbrouck, and Mrs. E. L. Scobee. Mrs. J. C. Meyer, present matron, was a guest.

LOOK GOOD FOR CHAMBER

R. E. SCOTT ELECTED PRESIDENT

La Roche Banquet Speaker Tuesday—Shoemaker Pledges Best Efforts to Community Work

Promise of a year of accomplishments by the Hood River chamber of commerce were indicated Tuesday evening at the Mr. Hood hotel dining room where the annual banquet was served by the women of St. Mary's Catholic church. A greater cooperative effort on the part of every city and rural interest was the keynote of the meeting, and officers and members pledged themselves to a greater and more intensive work toward the common good of the valley.

About 130 were present at the banquet, at which A. F. S. Steele, retiring president, presided. New directors elected for the ensuing year were: H. L. Shoemaker, R. E. Scott and L. A. Bennett. Mr. Scott was chosen president and H. L. Shoemaker was named vice president.

W. F. La Roche, attorney for the Portland Dock Commission and an enthusiastic worker in the industries committee of the Portland chamber, was chief speaker of the day. Mr. La Roche complimented local people for their scenic environment, their enterprise and cooperative aggressiveness.

"With your selected population and the will to go after things," said Mr. La Roche, "you can get what you want."

Mr. La Roche cited the accomplishments that had come about in development of world commerce and increase of tonnage at the Port of Portland since the Columbia bar had been removed and the channel deepened. He told how industries had been brought to the Pacific northwest. Thousands of factories of the middle west and eastern seaboard, Mr. La Roche said, are seeking locations on the Pacific coast because of the greater efficiency of labor here. He cited the Jantzen knitting factory as an example of the expansion of Pacific coast manufacturing. Labor of Portland, he said, has been found 25 per cent more efficient than at the metropolitan points of the Great Lakes section. He cited the prosperous and contented condition of Portland's working population, whose homes are neat and beautiful.

Mr. La Roche said a visit to Terminal 4, where world commerce leaves its tonnage, is an interesting occupation for anyone. At the great piles there articles are assembled from the four corners of the globe, an evidence of the romance as well as the competition of trade.

The visitor, whose talk was punctuated with witty remarks and well told stories, predicted that the year 1927 will be as good as if not better than 1926. He declared that business conditions in a large part are a state of mind; that a nation's population can make better business by willing it.

The pleasures of the evening were added to by a concert by the Knights of Pythias band. The dinner was an excellent one, drawing words of praise from everyone. President Steele expressed appreciation for the fine meal.

Mr. Steele praised C. T. Baker for the healthful condition of the chamber at the present time. Both Mr. Steele and Mr. Baker in their farewell addresses urged that local business folk in greater numbers attend chamber sessions and put a greater man power at the disposal of the secretary.

"You have not done your full duty by merely paying your dues," said Mr. Baker. "In fact Hood River has been very liberal in this respect. The actual work of the chamber is left to too few of the members."

Mr. Baker thanked Hood River folk for their support during his stay here. He concluded that he had been longer in Hood River than any official present and assuring all that his heartfelt interest, as has been evidenced in the past, is in Hood River. Mr. Shoemaker introduced his successor, W. L. Vannet, and the latter expressed the hope that he would make as good a clerk as the retiring officer.

A full report of progress of the chamber of commerce will be found in other columns of The Glacier this week.

W. L. VANNET NAMED NEW COUNTY CLERK

The county court Friday appointed W. L. Vannet, formerly in the auditor and treasurer's office of Polk county, Minnesota, as county clerk, to succeed Kent Shoemaker. Harold Blackman, great war veteran, will be deputy clerk, succeeding Mrs. Shoemaker. Mr. Shoemaker will become secretary of the chamber of commerce February 1.

Mr. Vannet is a brother of E. A. Vannet, local orchardist; Mrs. S. G. Campbell and Mrs. E. J. Nicholson. He came to the valley with Mrs. Vannet and their daughter last July. Mr. Vannet's former experience has fitted him for the clerkship.

The Dalles Quintet Here Friday Night

The main home game of the Hood River high school basketball team will be played at 8 o'clock Friday night, when The Dalles team will visit here. The two mid-Columbia teams are strong rivals, and it is anticipated that a record crowd will be present. The following Friday night Hood River will meet Goldendale here, and Saturday night, February 5, the Milton-Freewater team, champions last year of eastern Oregon, will play Hood River on the home floor.
