While the Oregon electorate has voted more than one disapproval of an income tax, this same electorate is nevertheless in apparent approval with the program of Governor Patterson to apply a moderate assessment of income to Oregon finances. The deficits must be taken care of. The proposed income tax seems the only equitable means of meeting the demand for funds. The Oregon legislature should work in harmony toward the adoption of a workable, moderate income tax. As to the fitting system for raising funds, this departure should be applied strictly for the emergency. When an individual reaches the point where expenditures exceed income, the pruning shears must of necessity be applied to the former, if disaster be averted. The same rule should be invoked in the administration of public affairs. Proposed appropriations should be considered in the light of necessity alone. We note that a bill calls for a $200,000 county fair fund. In face of Oregon's deficits, this bill is inexcusable.

Do you want to enjoy your dinner Sunday night? You may, if you wish. Join the numbers who will motor to the highland snow fields up on the north side of Mount Hood Sunday for the annual winter sports carnival of the Hood River Ski Club. The Loop highway is in fine shape as far as the snow will permit you to motor, and you will find the hike on the ski runs and toboggan slides invigorating. You will see a show that will be unusual for most of you. You will get innumerable thrills. The bracing air of the mountain will give you stimulation with more kick than forbidden beverages of yore. What an appetizer that trip up there to Mount Hood will be. But before you go, be sure that the grocer and meat man receive an extra large order Saturday.

As a result of an overzeal in the report of a recent Parkdale-Cascade Locks basketball game, some wounds were inflicted. The Glacier does not in the least wish to put a damper on the spirit of friendly rivalry that should exist among the various high school student bodies of the mid-Columbia. We rather wish to see this spirit nourished. It may be extinguished and replaced by unbecoming bitterness unless students who write the high school items guard against the inclusion of charges and counter charges. The recent incidents, we think, will be forgotten by the two schools, and future relationships will be friendly and helpful.

In A. L. (Andy) Anderson, Hood River is developing a man who not only loves the out of doors but who is able to tell others and arouse their interests in the notable things old Mother Nature has given us here in the mid-Columbia. Mr. Anderson entertained the group of Episcopal delegates, ministers and laymen, here last week to attend the Episcopal convention, with a lecture on Mount Hood's offers for summer and wintertime recreation. He left most of all of those who heard him with a desire to get up there at snowline and see the old mountain for themselves.

The community friendship meeting held at the Bialto theatre last Friday evening left serious thoughts trailing through minds of the many who were there to hear the eloquent and touching sermon preached by Bishop Cross. There was an eloquence in the simple earnestness of Bishop Cross' address that left an impress for good.

Hood river is growing. In a recent Sunday rotogravure section of the New York Herald appears a picture of the bridge across the Columbia here. The caption, however, states that the bridge spans Hood river and connects the state of Washington with the city of Hood River, Oregon.

Springtime is not so very far away. Already we have heard the suggestion of plans for a Spring clean-up day. In a few short weeks the urge will come to plant vegetable seeds and wield the paint brush in the beautification of homes.

If we keep on long enough, we may eventually equal the record of The Dalles, with her civic auditorium, with over a million municipal auto park. However, we believe that our auto park deficits may be listed as past history.

We greatly appreciate the new Garden Club. Its membership deserves every support, for its activities will result in a more beautiful Hood River.

A Correction
Parkdale, Or., Feb. 9, 1927.

Editor Glacier: Referring to the basketball game between the girls' teams of Parkdale and Cascade Locks high schools, played at Parkdale January 28, a report of which appeared in the columns of your paper in its last issue, it is considered advisable in order to correct possible false impressions in the minds of readers, to present the "other side of the story." The game was a fast one and the best played by both teams seen here for a long time, and in which the best team won. The game was refereed by one thoroughly familiar with the rules, and who enjoys a reputation for fair and impartial decisions; the umpire chosen by the girls from Cascade Locks high school did not during or after the game raise any questions as to plays or decisions made. The Parkdale high school girls' team is a fast one, and is not permitted by their coach to employ rough tactics.

During the game some unknown and mischievously inclined youngster poured oil into the shoes of one of the Cascade girls, which were left in the dressing room; which incident when reported immediately brought forth expressions of sincere regret, and the offer to pay for a new pair of shoes upon receipt of bill for same.

After the game the teams and their friends were entertained with music and refreshments, Parkdale high school (its principal, team coach and friends) regrets the tenor of the item published, and trusts it is not the feeling of the student body or faculty of Cascade Locks high, and hopes that the relations existing between them may grow stronger and look forward toward meeting a team from Cascade Locks high next season, and will do its best to play the best game possible, in a spirit of fairness and with a keen sense of sport and with the hope that the best team wins.

Game Bill Opposed
A bill introduced in the house of representatives at Salem by Representative McCallister, which provides for the transfer of the game fund to the general fund of the state, has aroused a strenuous opposition of local sportsmen and the Hood River County Game Protective association.

Hood River Gets Convention
At the close of their annual session in Bend, members of the Central Oregon association of the Spokane Federal Land bank named Hood River as their 1928 convention city. Carlton Pepper of The Dalles, was elected president of the central Oregon unit of the association. H. C. Ellis, of Bend, is vice-president.

CASCADE LOCKS HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The basketball teams of Cascade high school scored two decisive victories Tuesday night when they played the Stevenson teams on the home floor. The girls' game was marked with excellent play on the part of the Cascade girls who ran the score up to 25-2 at the end of the half. Cascade girls have worked hard and consequently have a team that makes the audience sit up and take notice. After the ball got into the hands of our forwards, it almost without fail reached its goal. Our opponents tried and tried to make baskets but the Cascade guards blocked every attempt. The game ended 25-3 in favor of Cascade Locks.

The Stevenson boys came over fully prepared to carry home a victory but the Cascade boys soon put an end to their expectations. The game was interesting to watch as both teams were composed of veteran players. Each team played excellently and furnished much excitement for the large crowd. The game was very fast, thereby making our boys work hard for every point they won. The Cascade boys piled up points by making a number of spectacular baskets for the large crowd.

In our favor, The Cascade boys in the last half commenced a slaughter which defeated the Stevenson players 25-11.

What Is a Diuretic?

EVERYONE knows that a laxative stimulates the bowels. A diuretic performs a similar function to the kidneys. Under the strain of our modern life, our organs are apt to become sluggish and require assistance. More and more people are learning to use Doan's Pills occasionally, to insure good elimination which is so essential to good health. More than 50,000 grateful users have given Doan's a signed recommendation. Scarcely a community but has its representation. Ask your neighbor!
