At the date this is written, Tuesday, we cannot announce the services for next Sunday but can safely assure you services will be held at the usual hours.

Odell High School Notes

(By Bonnie Weinheimer)
Every year Odell high school sends delegates to the Educational exposition at Corvallis. Formerly delegates were chosen from the entire student body with the exception of the freshman class; this year the delegates were chosen from only the junior and senior classes. Those who will attend the exposition this year are: Lillian Hull, junior, and Mildred Galligan and Geo. Fletcher, seniors. Principal Byars will accompany the delegates as faculty advisor. The student body is looking forward to the interesting reports which the delegates will give in assembly when they return.

The library books which the county library loans to the various schools have arrived at O. H. S. Last semester we were very fortunate in receiving a splendid collection of books for the outside reading work in the English courses. This semester the list seems to be fully as good as that of last semester. The school certainly appreciates the interest of the librarian in the selection of these books.

Last Tuesday night the dramatic program which was prepared under the direction of Mrs. Gikerson was presented at the Grange hall. This program like those previously presented by the high school drew a splendid crowd. A good time was enjoyed by all.
