World War Veterans—Are You Carrying Government Insurance?

Uncle Sam still offers the advantages of his insurance policies to ex-service men and women. You have until July 2nd to act—but unless you act by then, your chance is gone.

Don't pass it by! Here's insurance at lowest rates. Insurance backed by the government. Insurance with liberal provisions. And no "red tape!"

You can reinstate and convert the War Risk policy you carried during the war—in multiples of $500, from $1000 up to $10,000. To reinstate, it's only necessary to pay two months' premiums. Unless you're disabled, that is. Even disabled men can secure the insurance, however.

If you are one of the 4,000,000 veterans who allowed their Term Insurance to lapse—take steps to have it re-established. Get in touch with the Veterans Bureau—now.

When you look toward tomorrow—there will be safety for loved ones, and for you, in this U. S. Government Insurance.

Selling Methods

We believe that it is of interest to growers to know how their fruit is handling even though it is sold for cash.

We are doing business with firms in this country we have sold to for years, and who will want both Apples and Pears the coming season. They know our brand and quality of fruit.

We are doing business directly by cable with buyers in Europe, who buy with confidence having sold our fruit for several years. Some of these buyers have recommended us to others in new territory and we expect so have increased calls for both Apples and Pears the coming season. If interested in this method of selling, we would like to talk to you.

MANY VISIT PINE GROVE

HUNDRED ATTEND FORUM DINNER

Women of Pine Grove Grange Serve Succulent Chicken Dinner—Spray Report Given Growers

The weekly dinner of the forum of the chamber of commerce, held Tuesday at the Pine Grove Grange hall, drew one of the largest numbers recently present at one of the weekly meetings. More than 100 partook of the succulent and delicious chicken dinner served by the Pine Grove women. At the instance of Chairman Bennett a vote of thanks was extended the women and the grange for the hospitality.

The meeting sounded a new note of cooperative effort between city and valley folk. J. H. Kilbuck, master of the grange, who spoke briefly, voiced such a sentiment, and Rev. F. Gordon Hart, who delivered a talk for the forum, clinched the sentiment with a witty and impressive urge toward a greater cooperation.

A. F. S. Steele and R. W. Kelly, who with Arvo Hukari and M. O. Downing were in Salt Lake City last week to represent the Hood River Traffic association at a conference called by the United States Department of Agriculture, reported on the meeting.

Mr. Kelly stated that it was announced following a conference between growers, shippers and the federal authorities that growers will be permitted to proceed during 1927 very much as on the past year. When the harvest of the 1928 crop arrives, however, the laws governing interstate products will be strictly enforced. The coming year as on last season regulations of foreign countries will be enforced strictly.

"I am sorry," said Mr. Steele, "that all of the growers of the Pacific Northwest could not have been present and have heard the addresses delivered at Salt Lake City by R. G. Phillips, secretary of the International Apple Shippers association, and Director Campbell, of the federal bureau. It was pleasing, too, to learn that the most of the work that has to date been accomplished toward cleaning apples has been done in Oregon. Frank Cutler and Prof. Henry Hartmann of the Oregon Agricultural College were there. Plans had called for the forwarding of pamphlets from Washington, D. C., on the spray residue matter. A message, however, was at once forwarded to the department to withhold distribution of the documents, for it was shown by the investigations of the Oregon men that much of the data contained in them was erroneous."

Mr. Steele said the meeting was attended by representatives from all sections. California growers, who met with difficulty last year because of the federal regulations, were present. They declared they will meet the law in every respect this year. California growers, he said, will clean their fruit by means of acid baths.

Mr. Steele said the result of the necessity of the government in enforcing the laws will result in the elimination of apple growing in certain sections where the control of the codling moth is a serious task.

Mr. Steele expressed the highest praise for Secretary Phillips and E. W. J. Henry, the director of the Maynard & Child Co., for their aid in getting the difficulty solved last fall.

Guests of city members of the forum at the Grange chicken dinner were: J. G. Vogt, W. T. Price, W. V. Fike and A. A. Radford. F. C. Dehman, W. B. Perry Wells, E. E. Lage, Ben H. Lage, Bill Cochran, Geo. T. Galligan, Dudley Galligan, C. E. Coppel, Sam Freeman, A. J. Grow, Earl Deitz, J. H. Mohr, F. W. Radford, F. C. Dehman, W. B. Cottle, Hayes-Blekford, J. M. Taylor, A. L. Mason, J. H. Koberg, H. S. Galligan, C. M. Huriburt, M. O. Downing, G. B. Marsh, A. Hukari, John Plog, D. L. Pierson, Rev. A. F. Lacey, J. H. Kilbuck and K. A. Collins.

MRS. BELL TELLS OF TRIP SOUTH

"It was a very pleasant trip, even if it was a wet one," said Mrs. C. A. Bell, who with Fred H. Bell returned Saturday from a tour of three weeks that carried them as far south as Los Angeles. On the way south Mrs. Bell and Mr. Bell traveled for many miles without seeing the roadbed, for it was water covered. Stakes had been driven, they stated, at the side of the road, in order that travelers might not be ditched.

"We were held up by the floods on our way down through the Sacramento valley," said Mrs. Bell, "and as we returned north we were delayed by the heavy rains that had raised the streams in southern Oregon. Bridges were washed out. Sections of road were gone. We certainly had all the experience we want with detours.

"But it was interesting to note how swiftly skilled highway crews were on the job making repairs, even before the waters had subsided."

Mrs. Bell said that one of the things that impressed her most on the trip was the presence of more cars on Oregon roads than on the highways of California.

"Perhaps," she said, "it is not the season of touring in California. But we noticed that we met far more automobiles here in Oregon than on the highways of the south."

Mrs. Bell says that the two places in California that impressed her most favorably were Stanford University and Riverside Mission Inn. She declares Los Angeles nothing less than a wonder city.

"We traveled 3,515 miles," said Mrs. Bell, "and never had the least car trouble. In all that distance we saw only three cars off the highway, despite the weather conditions.

"While in San Francisco we had a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Sieg, and in Pasadena we met Uncle Jimmy Snyder, whose health seems to be fine. He asked that we extend greetings from him to all of his Hood River friends."

"We were impressed with the way the California hotel folk and garage and service station people seem eager to tell you about their country. Furthermore, they all have authentic information. They are boosters."

"While at Medford we saw Ted Baker. He is doing mighty well in the southern Oregon city."

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wessinger, of Millwaukie, the latter Mrs. Bell's sister, were members of the motor party.

H. R. H. S. BASKETBALL PLAYERS ELIGIBLE

Every member of the Hood River high school basketball team, who played this season, is eligible according to a statement made by Principal F. S. Knight, and substantiated by office records of that institution. It was charged by The Dalles high school that Bill Wright was ineligible on account of grades, presumably low or failing grades. This is untrue, for Bill is and has been carrying three or more subjects all during this semester, with passing grades in all of them. Also, it was said that Victor Miller was ineligible, alleging that he has already played four years on a high school team, the first year when he was in junior high school.

Mr. Knight told Principal Kirkwood of The Dalles, that if they had such a case submitted to a protest to the board of control of the Oregon High School Athletic association. In newspaper statements originating from The Dalles high school, it was said that The Dalles had protested Miller and Wright. They objected to the players, but did not protest them—a protest being a written statement submitted to the Oregon High School Athletic association.

These statements are made, not in any attempt to incriminate The Dalles nor to aggravate the feeling that seems to exist, but rather to present the facts as they really are, thereby making clear to local folk who have taken Hood River's previous silence on the matter as a possible admission of the charges. The Hood River players are all eligible, and all records are open for inspection at any time, according to word from the high school office.

APPLE MEN HOLDING SERIES OF MEETINGS

Progress is being made toward effecting a great cooperative organization of the apple growers and shippers of the Pacific Northwest, according to H. H. Kipp, manager of the marketing department of the Puget Sound chamber of commerce, who, as a member of the organization committee of seven, attended a series of conferences in various districts in Washington which were headed by growers, distributors and business men.

The first conference was held in Seattle with railroad officials, distributors and other business men of that city. A conference followed in Wenatchee, with an advisory committee of 24 at which resolutions were adopted unanimously indorsing the organization plans. The Wenatchee committee made a special request for the services of Thomas B. Hill, of the Seattle chamber, to aid in the organization work, and a committee was named to confer with the Wenatchee Traffic association relative to cooperation in the plans.

A similar meeting was held last Friday at Spokane at which a resolution was adopted by the Yakima growers, distributors and business men was held Saturday at which the plan was approved. A committee of five was named at the latter meeting to confer with the Yakima Traffic association to have this organization join in the plans.

During the present week, the district meetings will be resumed. The schedule follows: Walla Walla, March 4; Grandview, Wash., March 5; Buxton, Wash., March 5; Cashmere, Wash., March 7; Omak, Wash., March 8; Chehalis, Wash., March 9; Wenatchee, Wash., March 10; Spokane, March 11; Yakima, March 12; Selah, March 12.

On March 18 a general meeting will be held in Seattle at which a definite plan of organization will be agreed upon.

BILL COCHRAN IS GIVEN FINE WATCH

Twenty-five members of the Hood River Ski club and Crag Rats left here by automobile caravan Saturday to attend the dinner given by Dr. Calvin S. White in honor of those who participated in the hunt for his son, Calvin, who was lost on the snow slopes of Mt. Hood New Year's eve. The local delegation included William Cochran, Crag Rat and ex-doughboy, who discovered young White in the storm-beaten highland forest.

Mr. Cochran was presented by Dr. White and son with a handsome gold watch. A picture of the presentation appeared in the Sunday Oregonian.

William Lenz was presented with a handsome hand woven steamer rug.

COUNTY TEACHERS TO MEET SATURDAY

Prof. Egbert Roseloom, of the Oregon state normal school at Monmouth, will be chief speaker at a one-day county teachers' institute to be held at the Junior high school Saturday.

County Superintendent J. W. Critch announced that Prof. L. B. Gibson, superintendent of the Parkdale union high school, will preside at a meeting of high school teachers. Mrs. Victoria Schweizer, of the Odell grade school, will be in charge of a program for grade teachers.

Apple Shipments Speed Up

Apple shipments were speeded up here the past week, a total of 57 cars having rolled to market. Total shipments to date reach 4,741 cars. It is estimated that less than 100 cars remain in local cold storage plants.

VARIOUS CLUBS TO COOPERATE

HOOD RIVER DEVELOPMENT GETS SUPPORT

All Organized Men Will Join in Making Mt. Hood Ski Club Every and Recreational Activities Popular

The co-ordination of all Hood River civic organizations in the development of the recreation and scenic attraction of Mount Hood was pledged at a meeting called Thursday night by the Mount Hood committee of the chamber of commerce.

While Hood River agreed not to seek aid of the state highway department in keeping the Loop and Coopers Spur lateral roads open this winter, local organizations, backed by county and city authorities, will ask that the department's budget for 1927 include equipment for the maintenance of an open road the coming winter.

Those participating in the meeting were: The Guide Ski club, Crag Rats, American Legion, Hood River Guides and United States forestry service. The Men's forum, of the Upper Valley, will be asked to cooperate, and the Hood River Ministerial association will be asked to arrange for monthly community church services at the snowing of the mountain during the summer months.

Indications that all organizations will concentrate the coming summer on making the annual Mount Hood Legion climb a memorable event. It is proposed to make one day of the climb a Hood River community day and stimulate attendance of local people who have never visited the highland forests or snow fields.

A resolution asked that the board of directors of the chamber of commerce employ someone to visit the local automobile camping parks the coming summer and give illustrated lectures to the tourists. The members of the Guide club last summer, with Dr. L. I. Murphy in charge, visited the parks each evening. Dr. Murphy reported that the tourists invariably displayed a keen interest in the mountains, although the majority of them displayed only a meager knowledge of the scenic attractions to be found there.

"Our visits to the park were worth much in causing the tourists to remain and see the country," said Dr. Murphy. "Unless we provide some such information as they will secure from the proposed lectures, they will pass on through and Hood River valley and the mountain will be unknown to them."

The program of the various clubs calls for complete signing of trails on the mountain. It is proposed that a well marked trail be extended entirely around the peak close to "summit," which would enable parties to find their way back to base camp easily.

Plans are being considered for the construction of a commodious lodge on the Legion camp grounds. It is proposed to construct the lodge that additional units may be added as required.

HOOD RIVER LEADS AT SWIM CARNIVAL

Hood River furnished the most of the entrants at the swim and winter carnival last Sunday.

Otto Hagen, the flying Norwegian, again carried off the honors. He made a standing jump of 60 feet, netting a total of 14 points in the tournament out of a possible 20, winning the silver cup and a special award of a gold watch put up by Boyd Summers, proprietor of the Warm Springs hotel at Swim.

John Anderson, a dark horse in the tournament, peddled Hagen closely throughout the tournament. He made one jump of 75 feet but lost his balance before he cleared the flag.

Ole Hagen, still another Norwegian, won third place in the jumping event, the five-mile cross country race around Multnomah Hagen came in first in 42 minutes and 21 seconds. Anderson was second and Steve Antonson, of the Hood River Ski club, third.

A total of 222 cars were parked at Government camp according to the state highway police and the crowd was estimated at more than 600. The trip through the big snow cuts was an impressive sight.

Miss Barbara McDonald and Miss Estelle Mays won plaundits from the crowd when they participated in the swimming race in the Swim tank.

FOLLENIS SALES MANAGER OF A. G. A.

The directorate of the Apple Growers Association Tuesday appointed Victor C. Follenius as sales manager of the cooperative, the appointment effective March 1.

Mr. Follenius, who recently returned from a swing around the country, having visited all of the principal marketing centers, has been with the Association sales department for the past two years. He was formerly financial secretary of Reed College and was assistant to Rev. W. H. Boddy, when the latter was pastor of Riverside Community church. Mr. Follenius, who was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in St. Louis before coming west, has been active in Boy Scout work and other civic work since making Hood River his home.

Mountain Search Picture Coming

A program of exceptional interest is prepared for the Sunday Night Forum of the Men's Brotherhood at Riverside church for Sunday, March 5. Motion pictures of the search for Brownlee and Calvin White by the Crag Rats and others will be shown. Ray Conway, well-known Masama of Portland, will also show other reels of Mt. Hood. A community sing will open the program at 7:30.

The pictures to be shown Sunday evening were taken by the cameraman of the Oregonian and the Fox News, and depicted in most vivid fashion the search for the lost mountaineers. The public is invited.
