

The Star Giraffe Is Now At Twin Peaks Company

HAL NESBIT HAS LATEST EQUIPMENT

Hal Nesbit has installed the latest equipment at his tire service station at Oak and Fourth streets, for washing automobiles. A Bean pump, the kind that orchardists use on their stationary spray systems, has been installed. A large tank furnishes hot water for cleaning cars. Mr. Nesbit has just installed a large air compressor, doubling his former capacity.

Hal's Tire Service is now specializing on the cleaning of motors. All the mechanism is given a bath in kerosene. Hot water is applied, and every last particle of old grease and grit is removed. Clean motors, Mr. Nesbit declares, means that motors will be cool for spring and summer driving.

Mr. Nesbit's station is one of the best equipped in the mid-Columbia. As fast as new appliances are put on the market for the better serving of motor car owners, Mr. Nesbit installs them in Hood River.

HORSESHOE NEWS

(By D. W. Hall)

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Bend	2	0	1.000
The Dalles	2	0	1.000
Goldendale	2	0	1.000
Hood River	0	2	.000
Dufur	0	2	.000
White Salmon	0	2	.000

The Hood River baseball team traveled to Bend in a eskimo last Sunday and suffered their second defeat this season, by a score of 9 to 2.

With a difference of 5,000 feet in altitude the local boys felt very poorly and were not acclimated sufficiently to play their usual game. The temperature ranged between 40 and 45 degrees, and during the last two innings snow, home on a strong wind, hindered the players.

"Smiling" Tom Scott and Ray Bruce, pitchers, stated that it was practically impossible to load the ball with any "stuff" due to the rarified atmosphere; consequently the Bend boys played touch and go with our pitchers.

Elmer Annala, local first baseman, was forced from the game after a Bend runner had spiked him in the hand while sitting on first base.

Dick Garber, catcher, and "Smiling" Tom also received cuts and bruises by Bend clients.

Hood River's two scores came in the third inning when "Smiling" Tom on first base, "Stub" Anderson walked up to the platter and smacked the pill over center-field for a three-bagger. Jeff Bell, right-fielder, scored Anderson from third base. The local boys threatened to score other times but were unable to hit in crucial moments.

The game was marked by numerous errors by the Hood River boys being unable to hold the ball because they were so cold.

The Bend boys being used to the climate were attired in heavy underclothing, and sweat-shirts beneath their uniforms, while the Hood River boys wore only light underclothing and their uniforms. One can imagine how the local boys felt in 40-degree weather by harking back to our very recently passed winter.

A crowd of about 20 local fans gathered at the Electric Kitchen and read the scores of the game as they came in by innuendo over the Western Union lines. Five "pep" messages were sent to the team at intervals, cheering them on, and urging them to win the game. It is expected that all games that Hood River plays at Bend in the future will be reported in innuendo over the telegraph as was done Sunday.

Next Sunday The Dalles will play at Hood River. The Dalles has so far been victorious over Dufur and White Salmon, beating Dufur by a score of 5 to 3, and White Salmon by a score of 10 to 2 Sunday. A large attendance is expected at the field on the heights as it is expected that Hood River's luck will change, weather permitting, and the local boys will wait to a win over the visitors.

It is indeed gratifying to the Hood River baseball team to know that the merchants are in back of the sport as wholeheartedly as last Saturday's experience has shown. Almost all of the players were allowed by their employers to quit their labor at noontime, and travel to Bend to play Sunday's game. The 20th Century Grocery, Pacific Power & Light Co., Bartol Motor Co., Butler Banking Co. are some of the concerns that sacrificed some of their business conveniences to allow players to leave.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

Two events of special interest to unit members take place the coming week. First the tea at Mrs. A. L. Anderson's on Monday, the 18th, at which time each member is asked to bring an eligible lady as her guest. Don't believe it will take any urging to bring you out when you hear that Mrs. Weber is going to be with us, and we all agree that no one is more interesting than she. Be there.

On Wednesday, the 20th, we expect to see all of you and your friends who like to dance, at our "Spring Frolic," at the K. P. hall. A good time guaranteed whether you come expecting it or not.

The hospital committee held a busy all day meeting with Mrs. Forrest Moe on Monday of this week.

Bids Wanted
Sealed bids wanted by the Office of Hood River County Fruit Inspector for the pulling and burning of all fruit trees on ten acres, H. E. Pilsley property between Don Nunnemaker and Billy Sunday places. Bids must be for the job and not per tree or per acre, and may include the wood. Work to be completed by June 20th. Bids will be opened 10 a. m. April 21 and the right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

W. J. KOCKEN, Fruit Inspector.

None who saw the valley's talent at Rockford Grove plays in former years has forgotten them. Join them April 28 and see "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

PORTLAND APPLE EXPORTS REACH RECORD

With three refrigerator vessels in the harbor Saturday loading fresh apples the total exports for the present shipping season will exceed 1,000,000 boxes. The 1926-27 season has not only been the largest in the amount of apples shipped but the schedules of sailings of the various lines have been such that apple shipments could move in smaller quantities and at more frequent intervals.

Five carloads of apples with approximately 4,000 boxes arrived at municipal terminal No. 4 Saturday morning and were placed aboard the vessels loading due to clear for European ports late Monday afternoon.

Canned loganberry exports during the first three months of 1927 have amounted to 25,200 cases with a value of $112,412 as against 5,950 cases, value $25,304 for the same period of 1926. A steady gain during the last few years has been shown in the movement of this one commodity. The 1926 shipments increased 125,905 cases over the movement during 1925, and it is apparent that the movement during 1927 will be much larger than any previous year.

RADIO NEWS

The Snooby Fruit Distributors are consistent users of the radio, utilizing the broadcasting station at Walla Walla, Wash., each night except Sunday. Numerous local growers have heard the interesting reports and programs broadcast by Snooby.

Last week the Snooby broadcast included the announcement of the appointment of J. P. Naumes, veteran local grower and shipping man, as manager of the concern's mid-Columbia business, with headquarters in Hood River.

The following will be parts of this week's program of the National Broadcasting Co.:

Friday night, 9 to 10 p. m., "The Terrible Mock" by Charles Rann Kennedy. This play was written for the stage by Charles Rann Kennedy, who made it so that the play is produced so that the audience cannot see the characters, but can only hear the voices because of this fact.

Saturday, 8 to 9 p. m., Saturday Night Revue, presenting a special novelty program giving a review of the most successful items on the programs of the National Broadcasting Company, Inc. over the past week. This will include some of the best airs from "Cavalleria Rusticana," some of the melodies sung or played during "An Hour in Melody Lane," feature numbers from "The Gondoliers," to be given Thursday night.

Sunday morning, Easter Sunrise Service, Los Angeles Coliseum, Exposition Park. Under the auspices of the Community Development Association and the Philharmonic Orchestra Association, of Los Angeles, the Easter Dawn Service, famous in Los Angeles and the southwest, will be broadcast over the "Orange Network" of the National Broadcasting Company, Inc. The people attending this service will participate in the program by singing the hymns designated, under the leadership of J. Arthur Lewis, with the Philharmonic Orchestra accompanying the singing. Organ recital and vocal numbers, preceding service, 4 a. m. to 5:25 a. m. Dr. Ray Hastings at the Aeolian; Virginia Flohri, soprano, and Robert Hurd, tenor, soloists.

FINN, FURS, FEATHERS

More than 5,150,000 hunting licenses were taken out during the season 1925-26 by sportsmen throughout the United States, including Alaska, and the returns to state treasuries amounted to more than $6,800,000. Although data is lacking from four states, detailed figures for the season compiled by the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture show increases in the numbers of licenses issued, and fees received over the two years preceding. In the 1923-24 season, the licenses numbered 4,395,098 and the fees paid were $5,594,982. One year later, 4,944,740 licenses were paid for their licenses a total of $6,190,803.94. During the 1925-26 season the license figures were 5,158,353 and the fees paid totaled $6,572,812.69. Pennsylvania with 625,045 licenses and fees of $648,467.25 headed the list both in licenses and returns to the state treasury.

Rabbits are supposed to be timid animals, and one would probably be shocked to hear a bunny growl. Dr. Boyd Jenkins, local dentist, whose hobby is rabbit breeding, however, has some buck rabbits that evidence all the characteristics of fighters. Visitors at his hutches have suggested that he pit some of the brutes in a contest. Some of his rabbits display enough evil temper to frighten children visiting his rabbitry. One buck, a huge Belgian, which weighs 14 pounds, has a pouch in his hindfoot that makes his solitary pen shiver when he spies a face looking at him that he doesn't like.

Art Johnson couldn't wait for the opening of the trout season. He was on Hood river Sunday, looking for a steelhead. He reported that he saw one, but that he didn't catch any. Mr. Johnson expects to return home tomorrow night, however, with a limit of trout.

Former State Game Warden Averill, here last week while en route to Portland from The Dalles, visited J. H. Fredrick, president of the Hood River County Game Protective Association, whom he complimented on local propagation work. Mr. Averill, hearing Mr. Fredrick's report that 800,000 young trout, six to eight inches long, will soon be released in Hood river and Pitman, which is the best sport for anglers. On former years the fish have all been released while much smaller.

Mr. Averill while in Wasco county assisted in the organization of a game association.

MOSIER

Joan Frye, of Hood River, was a week end guest at the home of Montana Chamberlain.

Mrs. Bryant and son, Forrest, and Mrs. Stamper were shopping in Portland, Saturday.

Mrs. Leilott was shopping in Portland Friday.

Last week Mr. Carlson spent a few days in Portland visiting his children and attending to business which he had there.

Mrs. Hattie Bailey was shopping in The Dalles last Tuesday.

Last Tuesday night the High "Y" held a recognition service at the "Y" hall. After the meeting the girls motored to the country home of Mrs. Lee Evans where a very enjoyable evening was spent.
